

SMITH-COOPER.
INTERNATIONAL

September 30, 2020

Attention Smith-Cooper International OrderPro Users:

On May 24, 2019, we completed the merger between Anvil International and Smith-Cooper International. Since completing the merger we have been hard at work integrating the businesses to bring you the level of quality and service you have come to expect from both companies. On November 2, 2020, we will take a significant step forward by integrating the businesses on the Anvil International ERP system, allowing customers to place one order for all Anvil and Smith-Cooper International products.

Effective at the end of business on October 29th, Smith-Cooper International customers will no longer have access to OrderPro to check inventory, pricing, or place orders. Effective on Monday, November 2nd, customers will be able to view Anvil and Smith-Cooper International inventory online utilizing the sales portal located on the Anvil International website. If you do not have access to the Anvil International sales portal, you can request access by registering on the Anvil International website or by following the link provided, <https://www.anvilintl.com/account/login>. For additional information on how to register and utilize the sales portal, please download the training document by following the link provided, https://s3.us-east-1.amazonaws.com/anvilintl.com-prod/resources/Sales-Portal-Instructions_Dist-v02.pdf.

We have also created a website dedicated to the merger transition where our customers can find all documents related to the merger including item cross-reference files, communications related to business changes, key contacts, etc. You can visit the website by following the link provided, <https://www.anvilintl.com/company/merger>.

We appreciate your patience during this transition. If you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact us by email at marketing@anvilintl.com.

Sincerely,

Chris Cerf
