No Refund Policy

All purchases made for the TikTok Shop Affiliate Bot are final. We do not offer refunds or exchanges for any services purchased from us. Our software is provided as a digital product, and due to the nature of digital products and services, we cannot accept returns or offer refunds once a license key has been issued and the software has been downloaded or accessed.

Trial Period

We encourage our customers to take advantage of any trial periods or demo versions of our software (if available) before making a purchase. This allows you to assess the software's compatibility and functionality with your needs and to ensure it meets your expectations before committing to a purchase.

Subscription Cancellations

While we do not offer refunds, you may cancel your subscription to the TikTok Shop Affiliate Bot at any time. Please note that cancelling your subscription will not initiate a refund for any subscription charges already incurred, but it will prevent future charges.

Exceptional Circumstances

In exceptional circumstances, if you believe a refund is warranted due to a defect in our software or a failure on our part to deliver the service as described, please contact us at info@tiktokshopaffiliatebot.com with a detailed explanation of your issue. We will review your request on a
