

Neal Algo Warriors Group

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy outlines the confidentiality expectations for all members of the Neal Algo Warriors Group. By participating in this group, you agree to abide by the following terms:

1. Confidentiality of Shared Analysis

All content, discussions, trading case studies, and chart analyses shared within this group are strictly private and for members only. Unauthorized sharing, distribution, or reproduction of any material from this group in any form—including screenshots, recordings, or written summaries—is strictly prohibited.

2. Prohibited Sharing and Consequences

Any member found sharing or distributing the group's analysis outside of this group (including but not limited to social media, forums, or other private/public channels) will face immediate contract termination and permanent removal from the group. Additional legal action may be pursued if necessary.

3. No Third-Party Access

- Members are not allowed to provide access to non-members, whether by sharing login credentials, forwarding content, or inviting unauthorized individuals.
- Any attempt to do so will be considered a breach of confidentiality and will result in termination of access.

4. Data Protection & Privacy

- The administrators take reasonable steps to ensure that discussions remain private. However, members are also responsible for keeping shared information within the group.
- Any attempt to reverse-engineer, scrape, or archive content from this group using automated tools or manual means is strictly prohibited.

5. Agreement to Privacy Terms

By participating in the Neal Algo Warriors Group, you acknowledge and agree to:

- Maintain the confidentiality of all shared analysis.
- Refrain from unauthorized sharing of group content.
- Accept immediate termination of access if found in violation of this policy.

Failure to adhere to these privacy terms will result in immediate removal and possible legal action where applicable.
