

Refund Policy

Effective Date: 19 November 2025

Product: Master the Meet & Greet

No Refund Policy

Due to the digital nature of "Master the Meet & Greet," all sales are final and non-refundable. Once you have purchased and gained access to the Product, we are unable to offer refunds.

Why Digital Products Are Non-Refundable

Digital products are delivered instantly and in their entirety upon purchase. Unlike physical products, digital content cannot be "returned" once accessed. This policy helps us:

- Protect our intellectual property from unauthorized use
- Prevent fraudulent purchases and abuse
- Maintain fair pricing for all legitimate customers

Before You Purchase

We encourage you to:

- Carefully review the product description and what's included
- Read any available previews or sample content
- Contact us with any questions before making your purchase
- Ensure the Product meets your needs and expectations

Technical Issues

If you experience technical difficulties accessing or downloading the Product, please contact us immediately masterthemeetgreet@gmail.com

We will work with you to resolve any technical problems at no additional cost.

Technical support is available for:

- Download or access issues
- File corruption or compatibility problems
- Login or credential issues
- Platform or delivery errors

Special Circumstances

While our general policy is that all sales are final, we understand that exceptional situations may arise. If you believe your case warrants special consideration, you may contact us at masterthemeetgreet@gmail.com with:

- Your order number and purchase date
- A detailed explanation of your situation
- Any relevant supporting information

We will review your case on an individual basis and respond within [2-5 business days]. Please note that submitting a request does not guarantee a refund, but we will carefully evaluate each situation fairly.

Examples of circumstances we may consider:

- Duplicate purchases made in error
- Serious technical issues that cannot be resolved
- Product significantly different from what was described
- Extraordinary personal circumstances

Chargebacks and Disputes

If you initiate a chargeback or payment dispute without first contacting us to resolve the issue, your access to the Product will be immediately revoked, and you may be prohibited from future purchases.

We strongly encourage you to contact us directly before filing any dispute so we can work together to find a resolution.

Contact Us

For technical support, questions about this policy, or to submit a special circumstance request, please contact us at:

Email: masterthemeetgreet@gmail.com

Business Name: Master the Meet & Greet

Response Time: We typically respond within [24-48 hours]

By completing your purchase, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to this Refund Policy.

Last Updated: 19 November 2025