

Return & Revocation Policy

This policy outlines the right of revocation for consumers in the European Union and clarifies the terms for all customers regarding refunds for digital products.

Right of Revocation

You generally have the right to revoke this contract within fourteen (14) days without giving any reason. The revocation period is fourteen days from the day the contract is concluded.

To exercise your right of revocation, you must inform me (Daniel Hundstorfer, Linenstraße 4, 4653 Eberstallzell, Austria, Email: marketmaker.school@gmail.com) of your decision to revoke this contract by an unequivocal statement (e.g., a letter sent by post or an email).

Premature Expiry of the Right of Revocation (Waiver of Refund)

For contracts concerning the supply of digital content which is not supplied on a tangible medium, the right of revocation expires prematurely.

By purchasing my digital products, you agree to the following terms:

- 1. You explicitly consent to the execution of the contract (i.e., the immediate delivery, and access to the digital content) beginning before the revocation period has expired.
- 2. You acknowledge and confirm that by giving this consent, you lose your right to, revoke the contract and are therefore not eligible for a refund.

The checkout process on whop.com is designed to obtain this explicit consent from you before you complete your purchase. While you can use Whop's Resolution Center to submit a case, please be aware that according to this policy, sales are final once access to the digital content has been granted.

Once you have been granted access to the digital product, the sale is final, and no returns or refunds will be issued.
