On June 14, 1998 the Village of Worth declared Depot Street, between 109th Street and 110th Street, our Historic District. Homes #1 - #6 are located in the Historical District.

10850 South Depot Street
Built in 1900

1. 10850 South Depot Street/ Built in 1900/ Home located on John & Mary Leipstorff's farm. Their original homestead is located at 7240 107th St. The Leipstorffs came to this country from Germany in the 1850's. John worked on a barge pulled by mules along the Feeder Canal or Stony Creek. They bought approx. 200 acres from Wales Tobey in 1868, farmed the land and raised seven children. Son, Henry, was Worth's first rural mail carrier. Henry's son, Harry, resided in this home.

10906 South Depot Street
Built in 1899

2. 10906 South Depot Street/ Built in 1899/ The Anton Maas Family originally lived in this home. It was also once owned by Arvid & Harriet (Fisher-Cure)Lysen & family. The Lysen brothers Olaf, Arvid, Oscar, & Raymond were carpenters who had built most of the original homes in Palos Heights and Worth. Harriet was the daughter of George and Jeanie (Crandall) Fisher. Ben and Harriet Crandall were her grandparents and John and Jane Crandall, who where the first to settle Worth in 1858, her great-grandparents.

10910 South Depot Street
Built in 1896

3. 10910 South Depot Street/ Built in 1896/ Four generations of Wilsons resided in this home. Mr. & Mrs. Edward Wilson had arrived in the U.S. in 1853, started a farm at 93rd & Harlem in 1861 and spent their declining years in this home. Edward was a member of the original Worth Methodist Church Board. Son, Robert J. and his wife Elva L.(Peterson) moved from their farmstead at 95th & Harlem to this home in 1913. Robert was a member of Worth's first Village Board & served on the School Board. Elva was an active member of the Women's Society of the Worth Methodist Church. Elva was the second President of the Worth School PTA and was a Life Member. Her brother, George Peterson had been part owner with Carl Bishop of the Bishop's General Store. Robert & Elva had 3 children. Son, Edward L. with his wife Janet and 4 children, also resided in this home. Edward had served on the Worth School Board.

10936 South Depot Street
Built in 1898

4. 10936 South Depot Street/ Built in 1898/ Home built by Robert Lucas. Robert invented the Coleman Lantern. Robert & Ida (Bishop) had 3 sons, George, Bruce, & Kenneth. Ida was the sister of Edward Payson Bishop who had built and operated the first general store located on the NE corner of 111th St. & Depot and was appointed Post Master in 1883. Son, Kenneth, remained in this house in which he was born throughout the 82 years of his life. Kenneth was a Police Magistrate and Worth Township Supervisor, and his wife Mildred "Sis" (Roulo) Lucas, humanitarian and community activist had been named Woman of the Year.

10940 South Depot Street
Built in 1890

5. 10940 South Depot Street/ Built in 1890/ Home of Worth's first Mayor, Harry Woods, who served from 1914 until his death in 1930. The first village meetings were held in this home. After the Woods nephew, Emil Schultz, and wife Margaret (Beck) lived here. Margaret's father owned the Beck Saloon next door. This was also the home of Edward & Jessica (Conway)Emond & their two daughters. Edward J. Emond was Chief of Police. He also served on the Police Pension Board and was an active member of the Worth Volunteer Fire Department. Jessica was the daughter of Edward & Gertrude Conway. Edward was the second Mayor of Worth.

7100 West 110th Street
Built in 1914

6. 7100 West 110th Street/ Built in 1893/ An addition was added to the back in 1914. At one time this building housed Fred Lurdtkes Saloon, the Dart Brothers Hardware, and the Beck Saloon. Charles Beck was the proprietor. Emma (Preller) Hildebrand lived in this building. Her husband, Fred, was Village Treasurer. In 1904 Fred & Emma had purchased the Worth Hotel located at the southwest corner 111th and Depot. The Worth Race Track was very popular at that time and the hotel provided a place for the jockeys, trainers, and owners to stay. He later converted the building into a general store. The building also contained a community dance hall where the first Village Board met.

7132 West 110th Street
Built in 1880

7. 7132 West 110th Street/ Built in 1880/ This was the original Wabash Depot until 1905. After it was moved to this location it was the home of Oscar & Emily (Braniger) Stromberg. Emily's half-brother, Franklin Russert, served as Worth's fourth Mayor. John and Jennie (Poorman) Martin purchased this home in 1907. Jennie Martin worked as the Ticket Agent for the Worth train station. Daughter, Mary (Martin) Marrs, who had moved to this home when she was nine and remained here, was married to Ray Marrs who died during WWI and whose name represents our American Legion Post #991. Mary served as the American Legion's Ladies Auxiliary's first President in 1946. Both Ray and Mary had worked for the Wabash Railroad. Mary retired at the age of 72 after 53 years of service.

7136 West 110th Street

7001 West 108th Street
Built in 1908

15. 7001 West 108th Street/ Built in 1908/ Sam & Mary (Leipstorff) Stewart inherited this property from Mary's parents, John & Mary Leipstorff, one of Worth's first settlers. Sam's brother, Henry, built this home and resided here with his wife, Anna Louis and their 5 children. Henry became a Village Trustee in 1924. Henry also ranked among the ten highest checker players in the country.

7001 West 107th Street
Built in 1901

16. 7001 West 107th Street/ Built in 1901/ This home was built on a section of John & Mary Leipstorff's original farm. The Leipstorffs purchased 200 acres in 1868 from Wales Tobey. This was the home of their son, William & wife, Martha (Biefuse). William & Martha had 6 children & one adopted child. Five generations of Leipstorffs have lived in Worth and continue to reside in Worth today. George and Dorothy Gombanickis (Gombis) bought this home on 2 1/2 acres from Martha in 1940. An addition was built to the front of the home to provide room for Happy Time Nursery School, which Dorothy ran from 1948-1977. A very devote religious family, George could often be found on 111th St. preaching the gospel. The home & property was sold to a developer in 2006.

John & Minnie farmed the original Rickhoff homestead located at 6939 W. 107th St. The Lange's supplied most of Worth with butter, eggs and milk during the horse and buggy days. Katherine was the daughter of Peter & Mary Cure. The Cure family settled here in 1900. Peter was Worth's first Treasurer. Edward was also on the first Village Board as a Trustee.

11030 South Nagle Avenue
Built in 1901

18. 11030 South Nagle Avenue/ Built in 1901/ Evidence proves that the original building and surrounding property housed an office and spur railroad track for what once was the Worth Race Track and is now the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery located on 111th & Ridgeland. The horse race track was open from 1900 until 1910. The Lysen brothers built an addition onto the building but it was not actually recognized as a home until 1961. A caboose had remained on the property until the 1960's.

111th & Oak Park Avenue
Built in 1915

Worth Elementary School - District #127

19. 111th & Oak Park Avenue/ Built in 1915/ The original front building replaced the first 2-room school located at 7130 111th St. in order to accommodate Worth's 49 school age children in 1915. The land for this building was donated by Worth's first settlers, John & Jane Crandall.

6859 West 110th Street
Built in 1893

20. 6859 West 110th Street/ Built in 1893/ Home built by (Daniel) Lincoln Crandall. Lincoln was the youngest child of Worth's first settlers, John & Jane Crandall. They had 6 children. Olaf & Olga Lysen rented this home in 1910. They had 7 children. Olaf was a Village Trustee. Son, Elmer, also served on the Village Board and was a member of the Worth Volunteer Fire Department. Son, Walter, who was born in the home with the help of midwife, Minnie (Leipstorff) Rosembaum, was a Village Trustee and a Sunday school teacher at the Worth Methodist Church. To date, Walter is the Editor and Publisher of the Worth Citizen Newspaper. Olaf's arrival from Scandinavia at the turn of the 20th Century paved the way for his brothers, Arvid, Oscar, Raymond, and sister, Signe.

In 1866, John Crandall purchased a tract of land for $25 an acre from Benjamin Adams of Chicago. With the hope of increasing the settlements' population, John subdivided the land between 110th & Crandall Ave., Depot to Worth St., into 31 home-sized lots. Houses #21 - #31 are located within the Crandall Subdivision. John Crandall also provided the land on which the Wabash Railroad built.
