Tinley Park Village Hall

On behalf of the citizens of the Village of Tinley Park, I would like to invite you to see us as we truly are in this Village Profile - a dynamic, growing community of more than 40,000 people - a good place to live, work and play, just 40 minutes from the Chicago Loop and O'Hare International Airport.

World Class industrial and office parks, like North Creek Business Center, dominate the I-80 Corridor that forms Tinley Park's southern sector. The Village welcomes the handsome subdivisions of fine homes that develop on its open lands and complement the community's balanced mix of housing.

Tinley Park schools maintain a reputation for excellence, demanding creativity from teachers and top performance from students. Major universities and colleges are conveniently nearby. Shopping opportunities abound in everything from warehouse outlets to area and neighborhood shops and plazas.

Hundreds of acres of forest preserve border Tinley Park, influencing the community's appreciation of recreation and family fun. Village life is enhanced by well-developed community parks and a comprehensive program of sports, recreation and activities for all ages.

Tinley Park is a World Class Community. We who live here think of it as being like nowhere else. Come see for yourself - both on the pages to follow and with a visit to the Village of Tinley Park!

Shoppers welcome to Tinley's Olde Towne Store along Oak Park Avenue.

Something for everyone in the dozens of modern retail strip centers.

On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce in Tinley Park, I'm pleased to present our new, up-to-date Community Profile.

The purpose of the publication is to showcase our Village as the "World Class Community" it is, and to keep you informed of the changes and growth we are experiencing. Please use it as a resource, and be sure to support our advertisers.

Over the years the Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce has grown to be a very prominent force in the business community. We currently have over 200 members and the attendance at our monthly membership meetings has been very strong. An update from the Village, a briefing from the Police Department, and special guest speakers make the meetings both informative and useful to business people. Please consider joining us on the last Thursday of the month at 8:15 am. We meet at the Odyssey Golf and Banquet Facility, 19100 S. Ridgeland. Meetings are open to the public, and free. We hope to see you at the next one!

I hope you find the Tinley Park Village Profile interesting and useful. This book has been mailed to all single-family residences, and businesses, in Tinley Park. It is also available at the Village Hall and at the businesses of our advertisers. In addition, anyone interested in relocating to Tinley Park, as a business or resident, can request a copy.

In closing, I'd like to remind you to SHOP TINLEY! It just makes good sense (or is it cents?!)

Frank Kurzawa, President
Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce

What Makes Tinley Park A World Class Community?

Right: The modern and luxurious Odyssey Golf and Banquet facility.

World Music Theater

To start, the Village shares its spirit and friendship with the city of Budingén, Germany through the Sister City International program. Tinley Park and Budingén have exchanged visitors, developed friendships, and shared ideas for growth.

And Tinley Park is growing - at the rate of over 1,000 residents a year. More than 40,000 people now call Tinley Park home. Home values, too, have grown - up 42% from a median value of $98,000 to almost $140,000 in just five years.

There's entertainment from around the world at Tinley Park's 35,000-seat World Music Theatre. The first step in plans for a huge entertainment complex have been taken with the opening of a world-class golf course and the Odyssey Fun World amusement park.

World-class industrial and office parks, such as North Creek Business Center dominate the I-80 corridor that forms Tinley Park's southern sector. The village has recently welcomed new residential subdivisions of fine homes which complement the community's present housing and accommodate the village's rapid influx of new residents, who find shopping and commercial business plazas easily and quickly accessible.

Lush forest preserve acreage border Tinley Park, showcasing the community's appreciation of nature's beauty and providing residents with recreational activities. Community parks, and the park district's comprehensive sports, recreational, educational and cultural programs offer activities for residents of all ages.

A state-of-the-art office complex.

A variety of housing styles - single family, condos and townhomes.

Schools in Tinley Park maintain their reputation for excellence in both teachers' and students' performance. Major universities and colleges are conveniently nearby. Health care facilities, such as Palos Community, St. Francis, South Suburban and Olympia Fields immediate care centers and hospitals, provide the best medical care anywhere in the south and southwest suburbs and are major employers in Tinley Park.

Tinley Park's ideal location gives business and residents alike "access to the world" with its ideal location near all major transportation routes. The availability of plenty of low-cost land for development - more than 28% of its incorporated 13.8 square miles - makes Tinley Park poised for future growth.

A world-class community...right here in the southern suburbs.

Let us give you the...

Eighty percent of the homes in Tinley Park have been built since 1970. Construction has been active with more residential communities and multi-family developments being developed to accommodate the Village's rapid growth in population. Residents take pride in their community and meticulously maintain neighborhoods; many subdivisions overlook parks, forest preserve acreage, golf courses and natural water features.

Quality construction by some of the area's premier builders lend a unique blend of architectural styles and enhanced quality of life to residents of Tinley Park. From new "first-time buyer" to grand executive-style custom homes, builders offer residents and newcomers world-class residential living in a wide variety of price options.

Attractive multi-family residential complexes, including apartment homes, town-homes and condominiums, add to the variety of affordable housing available in Tinley Park. It makes the Village an ideal residence for young families, single professionals, growing families and empty nesters alike. In addition, three secure, comfortable complexes welcome senior citizens exclusively and provide services to meet their special needs.

Maintaining a balance between the past, present and future, restoration has brought new beauty as well to the stately older homes along Oak Park Avenue. Many of these structures are more than half a century old and add a quaint charm to the Village's "profile". Some of these homes are listed in the Illinois Historic Structures Survey.

In addition to its many comfortable, attractive residential communities, Tinley Park showcases numerous office parks, business complexes and industrial developments. With 28 percent of its area zoned for commercial use, the Village has an aggressive plan for economic growth and employs a variety of incentives to attract commercial development.

Hotels, motels, restaurants and convention/meeting facilities take advantage of Tinley Park's easy access to major transportation. Retail establishments throughout the Village offer residents and businesses the products and services they need.

Fortune 500 corporations such as H.B. Fuller and Rhone-Poulenc Rorer have located their offices here because they have access to a worldwide market from a convenient, high-profile locale. And light industrial manufacturers- among them Cortube and Heritage Tool - have chosen Tinley Park for its abundant workforce pool and convenient transportation network.

World Class Fun with Family and Friends

The opportunities for recreational diversions in Tinley Park are varied and provide activities for people of all ages.

The Village is bordered by vast forest preserves clustered along its eastern and western boundaries. Trails for hiking, riding and cross country skiing, fishing holes and ponds, an 18-hole golf course, picnic sites, nature trails and other amenities are available for all to enjoy.

Scattered throughout the community are 30 parks, each with a variety of equipment and facilities for family fun and enjoyment. Centennial Park, in the heart of the Village, is one of Tinley Park's newest parks. It features a playground and a paved walking trail winding around its 12.5-acre pond.

Tinley Park's active Park District oversees community parks and provides year 'round competitive sports, recreational activities, and a number of classes and programs. Baseball diamonds, tennis courts, a football field, basketball courts, picnic and nature areas, even an 18-hole miniature golf course, are all maintained by the Park District. Several community schools and other privately operated recreation centers make their facilities available for Park District programming; swimming lessons are offered at Andrew High School's pool each winter.

The Aqua Center, built by the Lions Club of Tinley Park, is a beautifully wooded and landscaped 5.2 acre water park. It features a 25-meter olympic-size pool - complete with diving boards - plus a separate wading pool for youngsters. The park's picnic grove is available for birthday parties, reunions, company picnics and other special occasions (pool use can also be rented for a nominal fee). The Aqua Center offers family and individual memberships to Village residents.

Nearby equestrian stables have indoor and outdoor arenas and provide ready access to forest preserve trails.

Duffers and handicappers alike can play a wide choice of challenging golf courses.

The Odyssey, the Village's newest public course, was designed by tour pro Curtis Strange and is located near the World Music Theatre. In addition, more than a dozen other public and private courses are within 10 miles of Tinley Park. Several athletic clubs in the area offer use of their facilities to Village residents.

The Finer Things in the Life of a World Class Community

Diversity is the key to Tinley Park's cultural growth. Among the world-class sights and sounds Village residents enjoy all year long:

- Art and craft fairs, fashion shows and luncheons sponsored by local civic and fraternal organizations.

- A wide range of presentations and exhibitions offered through the Park District Arts Alive! series, as well as those presented at nearby Moraine Valley and South Suburban Community Colleges.

- Performances by the 65-piece Southwest Symphony Orchestra, South Suburban Opera, Chicago Heights Drama Group, American Dance Ballet Company, the Illinois Philharmonic Orchestra.

- Presentations at the Illinois Conservatory of Music and Dance, Freedom Hall and the Illinois Theater Center.

Preserving a Rich, Worldly Past

The 102-year-old Village of Tinley Park celebrated its centennial anniversary in 1992. Incorporated in 1892, permanent settlement - predominantly by German immigrants - actually began in the 1830s. The community was originally established as The Village of Bremen (or New Bremen, after the post office that served the area) in 1853.

Bremen was situated on the route of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad; the Centennial Monument, Engine #1892, at Tinley's original train station attests to the important role the railroads played in Tinley Park's early development and economic growth.

In 1890, Postmaster Henry Vogt, Sr. requested that the post office and village change its name to Tinley Park, in honor of Samuel Tinley, Sr. - the community's first railroad stationmaster. In a vote held at the railroad depot on June 27, 1892, citizens elected to incorporate their village as Tinley Park.

Six short years later, telephone service was introduced to residents, followed by the Village's first municipal water system - financed entirely by the citizens - constructed in 1899. In 1905, the Diamond Spiral Washing Machine Company brought Tinley Park its first factory (a pop bottling plant run by local residents was also in operation from the 1890s through the 1950s). Local business owners established their own electric utility in 1909.

Tinley Park's "famous sons" include inventor John Rauhoff, who developed and manufactured an additive for waterproofing cement - Ironite, which was used in the construction of Hoover Dam. John Poorman was the inventor of a unique chicken brooder that sold nationwide. And five renowned Indy 500 drivers - Tony Bettenhausen, his sons

Gary, Merle and Tony Jr., and cousin Emil Andres, are all natives of Tinley Park.

The Village works to preserve its heritage in many ways. The area within the 1892 Village boundaries is a designated Historic District, where Tinley Park's Historic Preservation Commission encourages property owners to restore and preserve their historic structures. The Carl Vogt Building located on Oak Park Ave. just south of the railroad tracks is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Several other buildings are identified in the Illinois Historic Structures Survey.

Today, the Tinley Park Historical Society continues its ongoing research, preservation, and documentation of local artifacts and history. The Society recently renovated its museum and the Old Zion Landmark Church in which it is housed. The museum's displays give visitors a fascinating look at Tinley Park, from its early settlement days to the present.

Effectively Managing a Growing World Class Community

Tinley Park operates under the council-manager form of government with a mayor, village manager, village clerk and six trustees. In addition, numerous Village Commissions, staffed by volunteers representing private citizens and businesses alike, focus on the issues and concerns that face the Village in various areas.

Tinley Park's forward-thinking governing body has provided dynamic leadership over the past century. Today's leaders embody that same spirit as they look forward to the next century of growth for the Village to further enhance its world-class status.

Residents and business owners alike enjoy the services expected from a modern, well-managed municipality. The largest Neighborhood Watch program in the state of Illinois operates here in Tinley Park - a credit to the Village's exemplary police department. Enhanced 911 provides an added measure of security and assistance. Members of Tinley Park's all-volunteer fire department - the state's largest - are fully trained in fire prevention, protection and safety.

The Tinley Park Emergency Services & Disaster Agency (E.S.D.A.) and Civil Defense perform many roles: weather spotting, medical and security services, traffic enforcement and water recovery. Paramedic and ambulance services also stand "at the ready" for emergency situations anywhere in the Village, 24 hours a day.

The Department of Community Development issues various building permits and contractor's licenses, and conducts building inspections. Department officials are also responsible for planning, zoning and economic development. The Public Works Department oversees maintenance and development of Village streets, street lights, water system, and sewers. Utilities are provided by Ameritech, Commonwealth Edison, Northern Illinois Gas and Metrovision Cable TV.

The Tinley Park Village Hall on Oak Park Ave. houses Village offices and officials. Staffers issue various licenses and permits, and vehicle stickers; administer voter registration; and take water bill payments. The Health and Consumer Protection Office handles health inspections and consumer complaints.

Doing Business Worldwide from a World Class Community

Several businesses have chosen Tinley Park as the site for their national and even international headquarters: Panduit Corporation, Bruske Products, Bellman Melcor, G.W. Berkheimer and Rhone-Poulenc Rorer. The Village's location on the I-80 Corridor makes it the predominant choice for firms doing business across town or around the world.

Prime Tinley Park sites for new commercial and light industrial development include Gateway Industrial Park, Mercury Corporate Center, North Creek Business Park, Northstar Business Park. And, there are another 2000 acres ready for commercial development.

The hospitality industry has taken advantage of Tinley Park's central-to-everything location, opening and/or planning to locate hotels, motels and convention/meeting facilities throughout the Village. Retail shops offering everything from antiques to zippers dot the Village landscape. An almost limitless list of service professionals serve the needs of both residents and businesses.

The entertainment industry in Tinley Park is world-class, too - the Village is home to the outdoor World Music Theatre, the world's largest. The Theatre is the center of a planned commercial complex that will include retail shops, a hotel and convention center.

The Village's Department of Community Development employs a team of professionals to assist developers in all aspects of site acquisition, financing and development.

A Tinley Park location appeals to business for many reasons:

- A cooperative Village government that welcomes economic growth and expansion;
- A comprehensive network of intermodal, air and highway transportation;
- A wealth of energy and water resources;
- An attractive Will County tax rate;
- An abundant and skilled labor pool;
- Tax incentives & TIF district; and
- Plenty of affordable, available land.

World Class Medical Care for Every Citizen

Health care is immediately accessible to Village residents at four major medical centers and nine fully equipped and staffed hospitals, all located in or within a short drive of Tinley Park.

Additionally, Orland Township Health Services provide low-cost, high-quality medical care to all Tinley Park residents. Forty area physicians participate in this program, designed to encourage residents to maintain their good health by seeing a doctor on a regular basis. Information is available by calling (708) 403-4222.

The Ingalls Family Care Center, provides comprehensive medical services and urgent care for non-life threatening illnesses and injuries. The Center also houses the Ingalls Same Day Surgery Center. The state of the art, 711-bed Ingalls Hospital in nearby Harvey provides diagnostic imaging techniques, a freestanding cancer treatment center, dedicated head and neck surgery unit, open heart surgery, treatment of retinal vascular disease, and a maternity care unit. St. Francis Family Health Center offers an array of services including family practice, internal medicine, pediatrics, occupational health services, physical therapy and on-site laboratory and x-ray facilities. Also available are special health screenings, immunizations and physicals. All services are provided by an experienced staff of dedicated healthcare professionals.

Blue Island's St. Francis Hospital operates an Immediate Care Center in Tinley Park for non-emergency medical services and a variety of programs and classes designed to promote healthier lifestyles. The hospital provides 24-hour emergency care, modern maternity and pediatric units, and centers for women's health care resources, sleep disorders, and fitness/lifestyles.

South Suburban Hospital (in Hazel Crest), an acute care facility, is active in the South Cook County Mobile Intensive Care System. Its cardiac care Center is devoted to helping prevent heart attacks and control heart problems, as well as providing the skilled treatment needed for heart attack victims.

Palos Community Hospital (in Palos Heights) offers round-the-clock emergency department, closely monitored cardiac/intensive care units, and a fully equipped and staffed surgery department. The hospital also has a psychiatric department, maternity unit with two birthing rooms, and a cheerfully decorated pediatric department with a big playroom for young patients.

Christ Hospital (in Oak Lawn) is the state's second-largest hospital. It has the only Level I trauma center in the southern Chicago metro area. Its Tinley Park facility, Christ Hospital Women's Health Center, offers health care geared specifically to the needs of women: medical care, mammography, massage therapy, laboratory testing and educational and lifestyle programs.

Southwest Community Services, Inc., is a community-oriented non-profit organization assisting developmentally disabled adults. Among its various operations is the Tinley Park Workshop that teaches independent living and work readiness, and provides sheltered workshop employment.

Two state facilities, the Tinley Park Mental Health Center and Howe Developmental Disability Center, are situated on a combined 627-acre site at the southern edge of the community.

Olympia Fields Osteopathic Hospital and Medical Center

Established in 1978 to offer primary medical-surgical services, Olympia Fields Osteopathic Hospital and Medical Center serves nearly one half million south suburban residents annually. The 213-bed, full service healthcare complex combines the osteopathic approach of "total patient care" with the most advanced techniques and equipment to provide a unique and comprehensive health care delivery system to suburban residents.

Olympia Fields Osteopathic Hospital and Medical Center is the only osteopathic hospital in the United States to be designated a Level I Trauma Center, and is the only medical school/teaching hospital located in the south suburban area.

In addition to medical-surgical inpatient units for rehabilitation, oncology and orthopedics, the medical center has outpatient facilities for over 30 different medical and surgical specialties and subspecialties.

Olympia Fields Osteopathic Hospital and Medical Center offers a variety of special programs including a wound Treatment Center; a NeuroSpine Institute; an Occupational Health program; Home Health; physician-directed Weight Management classes; and a Golden V.I.P. Club for persons 55 years of age and older.

Preparing our Future World Class Leaders

As a result of rapid expansion and growth over the past two decades, the educational needs of Tinley Park's residents are now met by nine school districts.

Three elementary districts - 140, 145 and 146 - serve most families. All districts place a strong emphasis on "the basics" and encourage parental involvement in school activities.

Augmenting the public education system are several private and parochial schools. Quality daycare, preschool and kindergarten facilities are all available to families with younger children.

Tinley Park High School in District 228, and Victor J. Andrew High School in District 230, enroll most of Tinley Park's senior students. Both schools provide college preparatory courses, general academic studies and comprehensive occupational education programs. Students have many opportunities to participate in extra-curricular activities: Music, sports, art, hobby and educational clubs and various other organizations.

Tinley Park is conveniently nearby several community colleges and universities. Moraine Valley, Prairie State and South Suburban Community Colleges, and Joliet Junior College, offer a wide range of associate degree programs, skills training, special interest classes and non-credit courses of study.

Other colleges and universities close to Tinley Park in the south and southwest suburbs include St. Xavier, Lewis and Governors State Universities, and Trinity College. Some of the country's premier higher education institutions - University of Illinois at Chicago, DePaul University and Loyola University in Chicago - are readily accessible from Tinley Park.

The Tinley Park Library has extensive children's, adult, reference and audio/video collections, available to all Village residents. The business reference section has proven a real asset to local businesses and industry as a reliable source of facts, figures and information. The Library is a member of the Suburban Library System, which lets patrons access materials and use the facilities of other SLS libraries throughout the south suburbs.

Faith Fosters Fellowship

Ever since pioneer settlers completed construction of Zion Lutheran Church in 1880, residents have continued to join in faith and fellowship. The Tinley Park Ministers Association is an ecumenical organization made up of the Village's religious leaders. It supports community programs to meet the needs of citizens, and sponsors the annual Village-wide Thanksgiving service, and an old-fashioned, all-church family picnic held every summer.

Today, there are 20 centers of worship in Tinley Park representing most major denominations. The faith community has strongly influenced the development of the Village's renowned "helping hand" friendliness and outreach.
