I will sing to the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have being.

~ Psalm 104:33

November 7, 2018, marks the date of our 75th anniversary. Of course this big event was celebrated with proper joy, reverence, and style this past Sunday. Our worship service brought together clergy men and women who have served this great church over the years. The choir seemed to double in size as former members came back to join the chorus. We closed out the service with a photo of the entire church full of its people—a 2018 version of the original.

We broke bread together over some fine table fellowship after service. So many tables were reserved that we turned our Fellowship Hall, Fireside Room, and Gathering Space into dining rooms. Our Stewardship Committee made a video that showcases our history, which we premiered at the opening of the luncheon. After working our way through our first two courses, the cake was served and the speeches began. We heard from all of our pastors emeriti who were with us to celebrate.

The committee that pulled the whole thing together also gave us some lovely gifts, including an ornament of the stained glass window in our sanctuary. That “swag” is a commemorative keepsake of the event. Of course, there will be memories written on our hearts above and beyond that which can be captured by any item. It was evident how much emotion filled our sanctuary and our converted dining rooms this Sunday...and those feelings speak to so much more than the special day we shared together.

Nostalgia was the word Joe Wilson used to describe his feeling as we met for the first time and chatted in my—of course his old—office. The sweet sense of happy memories created over years of time spent together stirred a genuine spirit of nostalgia about the rooms. It was beautiful to hear the words of the great cloud of witnesses in whose footsteps I am blessed to follow. Despite being the most recent addition to the pastoral staff (here for only two years to date), I was wrapped up in that same feeling, while also soaking in the history and character of our church on such a special occasion.

The legacy of Ladue Chapel is clear. For 75 years now, our ministry has been well served to the fulfillment of many a pastor's heart's content. For the same amount of time, our members have been following in Christ's footsteps, living into their call to discipleship. As we mark a major milestone in the life of our church, I cannot help but think...what do the next 75 years look like? Whatever history unfolds in our church, I cannot wait to see how God plans to work through us in the days and years ahead.

In Christ,

Thank You for Making a Difference!

Our mission statement is: "Ladue Chapel is a congregation of God's people, welcoming all, illuminating faith, serving God and neighbor, and making a difference on behalf of Christ."

The Mission Committee THANKS YOU for serving our neighbors. In honor of our 75th anniversary, the Mission Committee has highlighted and celebrated some of the many ways Ladue Chapel has served during our 75 years.

We invite you to continue making a difference! The need doesn't end, and our Mission Projects don't end.

Celebrating Our Singers

The professional singers in our Chancel Choir lead busy lives as performers, teachers and administrators. Several of them have been busy in the community recently:

- Nikki Weiss sings with the St. Louis Symphony Chorus and was alto soloist with the orchestra and chorus in Haydn’s The Creation. Other Symphony Chorus members from our choir currently include Maggie Kerr and Adam Stefo.
- This weekend, soprano Karen Kanakis has a leading role as Rosalinda in Winter Opera’s Die Fledermaus. Also in the cast are Karen’s husband and member Jacob Lassetter, as well as tenor Ryan Keller, who frequently sings with our choir.

We celebrate their accomplishments as well as those of all of our section leaders, whose voices and spirit add so much to our choir!
