

North Park
Elementary School
Social Justice Film Series

Tuesday, November 18, 2025 | 6:00 PM

Followed by an in-person conversation with co-director and NPES alum parent Greg Jacobs

The Here Now Project weaves together in-the-moment, self-shot footage from 2021—no narration, no talking heads—to create an unprecedented visual diary of the impact climate change is already having on ordinary people around the globe. At once immersive, epic, intimate, and inspiring, the film is a wake-up call to the world from the world. The message: we're all in this, together.

RSVP

- screening held at North Park Elementary School, 2017 W. Montrose Ave
- free and open to the public
- students may attend with an adult, at the adult's discretion
- run time 1 hour, 15 minutes