Clinical Research Writing Exercise

— Briefly outline an unmet need that you have encountered in your professional interactions that would benefit from a focused clinical research project.

— Explain to a potential funder why this research area is worthy of investment.

— Define what you believe to be the most important research question to answer.

— Describe a simple clinical study (feasible in your local research environment) that might begin to address this research question.

— Outline the potential strengths and limitations of such an approach.

Formatting guidelines:

— Maximum 800 words
— Helvetica or Arial font, 12pt throughout
— Please provide references (max 15 references that can be in addition to the 1,000 words)
