Introduction

Find out why getting ho'oponopono certification as a practitioner of the powerful Hawaiian prayer and forgiveness method is paramount to your success in life.

Dr Joe Vitale has created a full featured certified practitioner course to enable you to elevate your own knowledge and understanding of how to cleanse the mind to bring about deep healing and unblocking of the obstacles that hold so many people back in their lives!

By teaming up with musician Mathew Dixon and exploring the insights and knowledge of ho'oponopono master Dr. Ihaleakala Hew Len, Joe Vitale has created a fully detailed and easy to follow course.

It's a course that you can study and learn how it works and how you can incorporate its teachings into your own life and teach it to others.

What is Ho'oponopono?

Many theories and methods imply that we are the one truly responsible for everything we do and how we want to do it. Instead of blaming other people or circumstances on our failures, we have to look into ourselves more for the answers.

It is also implied that whatever we see in this world was created by us through our thoughts and intentions. Often we create negative situations or circumstances through misuse or plain ignorance of this power we all possess.

By using the technique of ho'oponopono we can ask for forgiveness from our inner self or as some view it, a higher state or entity. Both can be viewed as essentially the same when we understand the nature of this power.

It is often theorized that the higher self exists within us. By going to that higher self we are able to choose the way our life plays out.

It allows you attain what is referred to as "zero state" where the consciousness and subconscious are one and we can go on a journey where our lives will keep getting better.

Why Become a Certified Practitioner of Ho'oponopono?

The ho'oponopono certification for practitioners by Dr Joe Vitale is the online training that is designed to help you to learn all the skills and obtain the knowledge needed to practice ho'oponopono.

You can do this for yourself at home, with your family members and also help others to learn through providing tuition classes for your own students.

It is especially developed to enable you to live your life without any stress, fear, or boundaries or limitations. This course requires only the eagerness to learn.

There are a number of really good reasons why you should take this knowledge and use it wisely to not only help yourself to become a more enlightened and free person, but to also share it with others:

- Be in a state where miracles happen in your life
- Unlock the power of your own mind through deep mental cleansing
- Create an incredible healing experience in yourself and others
- Learn to access zero limits in yourself to expand beyond the place you now occupy

As a certified practitioner of ho'oponopono you can teach the method to others while experiencing the truly exhilarating sensation of having raised your own level of understanding and knowledge in this healing art.

It Really Works!

The creator of this method, Hawaiian Dr. Ihaleakala Hew Len became very well known after he treated a group of unstable people with this technique. Through his own actions, he proved that it actually, really works.

The story is that Dr Hew Len was approached to treat some supposedly incurable violent and dangerous criminally insane patients that society had all but given up on.

Dr Len apparently never actually visited the patients or the Hawaii State Hospital they were kept in. But it's what he did on his own that made all the difference after reviewing each of the prisoners' files.

At his home, he used ho'oponopono methods to heal himself and by doing so, healed them. These are the same methods you'll learn about in this course.

Over a relatively short period of time, some say it was a matter of just weeks, the prisoners became calm and approachable.

Eventually, they lost all violent tendencies and were finally released back into society, completely changed for the better.

Dr Len perfected his methods and gained a highly creditable name for being able to "cure" people from the problems blighting their lives. Upon hearing of his many successes, Dr Joe Vitale met with Dr Len and they collaborated to create the full ho'oponopono certification course.
