

hello there! I'm Jill Simons

I used to list a lot of accolades when I first introduced myself, but now I always lead with my true identity as a daughter of God - the identity I don't deserve, could never earn, but gladly and gratefully embrace. It's the identity that I speak from, lead from, and serve from: beloved daughter of the Father.

But because God is so good in addition to the overwhelming blessing of being His child, God has also blessed me with a wonderful husband and five babies – one in heaven and four here with us – as well as gifts and talents that allow me to work as a Catholic speaker and podcaster and Executive Director of Many Parts Ministries, an apostolate that helps all Catholics discern their charisms. I am also the founder of the Christian women's lifestyle brand, Pink Salt Riot, which was acquired in March 2025, where I served as Creative Director for ten years.

It is a great joy to use my gifts to serve God and to help call out more members' of Christ's church to do the same through my work as a speaker. My passion is to inspire Christians to pursue real relationship with Christ, see the Holy Spirit at work in their lives and hearts, and to renew their minds about what is possible through authentic life in Christ.

All About Jill

I am a Catholic wife, mother, artist, and entrepreneur (pictured with my parents and brothers too!)

I have 4 children on Earth, one in heaven, and the very busy, happy house to prove it. My husband and I have been married since 2012 after meeting at Benedictine College my freshman year. My husband currently works as Chair of Theology at Bishop Kelley High School and serves as my theological sounding board.

02

I attended Benedictine College and Encounter School of Ministry.

I have a degree in English Literature from Benedictine College, where I also took many theology classes that cemented my young faith. I graduated from Encounter School of Ministry in 2023 where I was taught to constantly grow in receptivity to the Holy Spirit, prophetic gifts, prayer, and evangelization.

I have been working in ministry for 10 years.

My role as owner and content creator at Pink Salt Riot gave me ample opportunity to hone my voice and discover how to better connect with people's hearts and minds before the Holy Spirit opened the door for me to found Many Parts Ministries in 2023. Since MPM was founded I have traveled to speak internationally, authored seven books, and hosted the Charisms for Catholic show.

Speaking to and praying with people are my passions. If there's a room full of people hungry for truth, I want the chance to speak to them. The Holy Spirit has given me beautiful gifts for speaking, prayer, prophecy, and ministry that I LOVE to use in service to the kingdom, all the while knowing that my identity doesn't come from being the person at the front of the room, it comes from being a daughter of God. This allows me to minister from a place of humility and openness that people find compelling and magnetic - the creating fertile ground for the Holy Spirit to move.

Topics Jill is available to Speak on

Jill is available to speak/emcee retreats, Women's Conferences, Parish Missions, youth events, conferences, and media events.

 Hearing God's Voice: One of the lies that the devil tries to get us to believe is that God is silent, but this could not be further from the truth. God loves to speak to us and we can learn to tune our ears to his voice so that we might experience true and free intimacy with God regardless of the circumstances of our lives. In this talk I use a variety of methods to share about my own prayer life and invite those present to enter into a few example prayers with me to begin tuning their own ear to the voice of our Lord.

 Discovering Your True Identity in Christ: In my signature talk I share about the 3 places that I, and many others, typically look for their identity: struggles/sins, achievements, and relationships. I break down the way that all three of these faulty identities showed up in my own life and share about why all three of these identities will ultimately lead to slavery and emptiness. Then I share what we can draw our identity from instead: the intimacy and relationship that God is calling us to as a member of his forever family.

 Christian Entrepreneurship: In this talk I share about the role of Christian businesses in society and why it matters that Christians create, build, and grow strong companies that are beacons of both moral and financial success. From my perspective as the founder of a well-known Christian lifestyle brand, I share about the ways that entrepreneurship has led me into deeper relationship with God and allowed me to grow in my understanding of how God sees us. I also talk about giftedness and the way that businesses equip us and those we serve to step into their unique giftedness through meaningful work.

 Receptivity to the Holy Spirit: Deep relationship with the Holy Spirit can absolutely change your life and in this talk I want to renew your mind about what is possible in relationship with the Holy Spirit. We will look at the Scriptures that tell us about Pentecost and what we can learn from them, as well as the "symptoms" of the presence of the Holy Spirit in someone's life. We will also dive into the fruits of the spirit and talk about how we can use these fruits to enter into conversation with the Holy Spirit about where we are not as open to him as we should be. Finally I will share some incredible testimonies about what is possible when you live, work, and minister in surrendered partnership with the Holy Spirit. If you want to be inspired, this is the talk to open up your mind about what is possible in the kingdom of God.

 Winning the Battle in Your Mind: Renewing Your Thoughts with Scripture: It's so common that people become a victim of their own thoughts - doing the devil's work for him by perpetuating untrue thoughts contrary to the truth of God. One of our best tools in this fight is in the Bible and its rich treasure trove of truths. In this talk I breakdown a helpful and repeatable process for diagnosing the lies that you're telling yourself, allowing Christ to speak truth into that space instead, and creating your own personal mental arsenal of Bible verses to have at the ready when you start to slip into a negative thought spiral.

 Ecumenism: Embracing Christ's Heart for Christian Unity: In the garden of Gethsemane Jesus prayed that the Christian family would be one. It is surely a source of heartache for him on a constant basis the amount of infighting between Christians not just of different denominations but those that share, supposedly, the same creed. In this talk I share about how we can discern the best way to both remain faithful to our own deep beliefs while still being open and receptive to those of other Christian faiths. Inspired by "The Benedict Option" philosophy, I break down why it's important to create space to link arms with those who we share many, many important things in common with, especially when we are coming up against challenging forces in our culture that want to dismantle everything we hold dear as Christians.

 Trusting God from a Place of Safety: In this half day retreat (broken down into bit size pieces) we will be diving into all the building blocks of a relationship of trust with God to empower you to move from a place of shame into a world of possibility. So often we act like trusting God is something we just need to grit our teeth and do better. In actuality trusting God is a lot like trusting a person - we need to know them well & and work through any issues to trust whole-heartedly. That's why we go back to the basics in this retreat to diagnose any issues before we move forward.

 Beginning Charism Discernment: In this freeing half day retreat, we go over the basics of who we are as children of God, why we don't have to hustle for God's love, but also why and how God empowers us to serve the Body of Christ - not out of obligation, but out of love. You'll be empowered to be the person God created you to be when you grow in awareness of the nature of your identity, what gifts you've been given, and how those gifts can serve the church + the world. Includes a proprietary charism assessment geared towards people of all spiritual engagement levels.

Testimonials

"She's a voice of peace that is deeply needed in this world."

Jill has the incredible ability to connect with her audience, to draw them into her experiences and to inspire them with her courage. She is a wonderful story teller and is attune to the Holy Spirit in all of her messages. She's a voice of peace that is deeply needed in this world.

Elizabeth Williams

Director of Mission Advancement at Catholic Concepts

"Jill has a special gift for reaching the hearts of her audience."

Her deep understanding of scripture, the heart of Jesus, and His desire for communion with Him, has provided opportunities for growth in my prayer life. I think what is most beautiful about listening to Jill speak is that she truly loves the people God has placed before her. She wants us to know of His love and also to continue moving forward in our walk with Him. She continually points us to Him and His truth! When she speaks you are left with so much to ponder and pray with.

Sarah Seck

Coordinator of Family Ministry, Parish of Christ the King, Tulsa, OK

"Jill is on fire for the Lord!"

She speaks in such a way that captures your own story within the pieces of her story because she has walked through the highs/lowes of her own journey with God and asked God, through prayer, to reveal His plan to her. She inspired me to see how God is working in my own life by giving her audience a variety of practical prayer questions, visualizations, scripture passages, how to approach specific prayer time like adoration, etc. And she also provided so much wisdom for navigating different seasons of life- revisiting childhood experiencing to your current season.
