MIDWEST CITY OKLAHOMA

ABOUT OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City is the capital and largest city of the U.S. state of Oklahoma. The county seat of Oklahoma County, the city ranks 27th among United States cities in population. The population grew following the 2010 Census, with the population estimated to have increased to 643,648 as of July 2017. As of 2015, the Oklahoma City metropolitan area had a population of 1,358,452, and the Oklahoma City-Shawnee Combined Statistical Area had a population of 1,459,758 residents, making it Oklahoma's largest metropolitan area.

Lying in the Great Plains region, the city features one of the largest livestock markets in the world. Oil, natural gas, petroleum products and related industries are the largest sector of the local economy. The city is situated in the middle of an active oil field and oil derricks dot the capitol grounds. Besides its exposure to the energy sector, OKC also boasts strong activity within the information technology, services, and governmental administration sectors.

The city is headquarters to two Fortune 500 companies: Chesapeake Energy and Devon Energy, as well as being home to Love's Travel Stops & Country Stores, which is ranked thirteenth on Forbes' list of private companies. In 2014, Forbes ranked the city at #7 on its list of "Best Places for Business", and in 2017 and 2018 WalletHub ranked the city first on its list of "Best Large Cities to Start a Business".

TINKER AIR FORCE BASE

Tinker Air Force Base is the largest of 3 Air Logistics Center in the Air Force Material Command and provides depot maintenance, product support, services and supply chain management, as well as information support for 31 weapon systems, 10 commands, 93 Air Force bases and 46 foreign nations. The 72nd Air Base Wing provides full spectrum installation support to Team Tinker and expeditionary combat capability for the warfighter, Tinker also has two tenant ACC units and hosts 2 Air Force Reserve Wings.

Tinker Air Force Base (AFB), located nine miles southeast of downtown Oklahoma City, is one of the largest and most important military installations in the United States. With more than five thousand acres, two ten-thousand-foot runways, seven thousand military personnel, and fifteen thousand civilian employees, the base is home to the Oklahoma City Air Logistics Center, 552d Air Control Wing, 507th Air Refueling Wing, 513th Air Control Group, Navy Strategic Communications Wing One, Defense Logistics Agency's Defense Distribution Depot Oklahoma City, Third Combat Communications Group, Thirty-eighth Engineering Installation Group, and Defense Megacenters Oklahoma City. The air base was named for Maj. Gen. Clarence L. Tinker, a one-eighth Osage from Pawhuska, Oklahoma, who lost his life in the Pacific while leading a flight of LB-30s on a bombing strike against the Japanese in June 1942. The new airfield became Tinker Field on October 14, 1942.
