HEALTHCARE IS BROKEN

Americans pay more for healthcare than any country in the world. Yet we are far from the healthiest. We have the highest infant and maternal mortality rates, and the lowest life expectancy of rich countries. So where is all that money going? Nearly $278 billion per year is currently wasted on a bloated corporate bureaucracy, and almost $342 billion per year is given away in tax subsidies to big insurance companies. That money does not go to healthcare workers (doctors, nurses, and support staff). Instead, it goes to CEOs and administrators that make upwards of $80,000 a day.

Healthcare should be about healing the sick, not giveaways to the rich. We need a system that prioritizes the health of working-class Americans over the profits of insurance companies and their billionaire executives. If you are a part of the working-class majority in this country, the system is broken. We need a new system.
