

Dr. Neill is born in Durham, North Carolina to Robert and Lois Neill.

Dr. Neill receives a Bachelor of Science in biology from Eckerd College in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Dr. Neill marries Suzanne Snyder.

Dr. Neill receives a Doctor of Philosophy in biopsychology from The University of Chicago.

Dr. Neill becomes an instructor of psychology at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Neill is promoted to assistant professor of psychology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill is promoted to associate professor of psychology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill becomes a collaborative scientist at the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center (now the Yerkes National Primate Research Center) at Emory University.

Dr. Neill becomes a faculty member of the graduate program in pharmacological and physiological sciences at Emory University.

Dr. Neill becomes a faculty member of the graduate program in neuroscience at Emory University.

1946

1967

1968

1971

1971

1972

1975

1981

1981

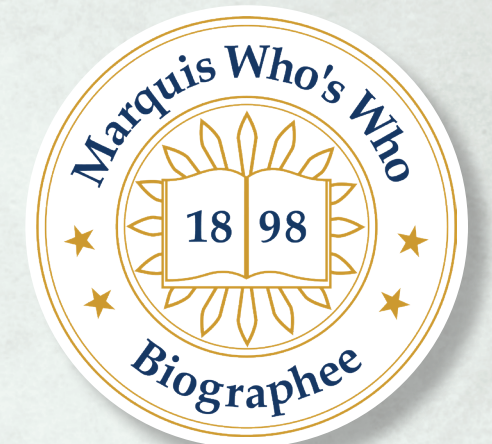

1985

Darryl Boyd Neill

Professor

www.researchgate.net/profile/Darryl_Neill/publications

A timeline of professional milestones

1986

1987

1990

1995

1996

1997

1999

2010

2011

2017

Dr. Neill is promoted to full professor of psychology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill begins volunteering with Nicholas House in Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Neill is appointed board president of Nicholas House.

Dr. Neill becomes a faculty member of the graduate program in molecular therapeutics and toxicology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill is appointed director of the psychobiology program in the Department of Psychology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill is appointed chairman of the Department of Psychology at Emory University.

Dr. Neill becomes a faculty member of the graduate program in molecular and systems pharmacology and of the Center for Behavioral Neuroscience (CBN) at Emory University.

Dr. Neill becomes an elected fellow of the Association for Psychological Science.

Dr. Neill is named a Goodrich C. White Professor of Psychology and Behavioral Neuroscience at Emory University.

Dr. Neill is named a Distinguished Humanitarian by Marquis Who's Who.