Additional Data

Software ID: 18007218
Software Version: 2018v3.1
EIN: 02-0541202
Name: Alliance for California Traditional Arts

Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

The Arts in Corrections Program provides traditional arts residencies in California state prisons. ACTA coordinated 65 residencies serving program participants in 18 state correctional institutions. Residencies consisted of two 13-17 week courses in traditional arts forms such as Native American bead work, Chicano murals, illustration, son jarocho, Afro-Colombian percussion, Mexican folk guitar, djembe, collective songwriting and storytelling. ACTA worked closely with the artists and correctional staff to coordinate the residences and document the impact through site visits, photographs, videos, and coordination of an outside evaluation project. Net difference includes the final payroll of the fiscal year; all funds were spent at the beginning of the next year.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Programs including discovery research to identify traditional artists and culture-bearers; Apprenticeship Program, which contracts master artists to work one-on-one in an intensive period of learning with experienced apprentices over the course of six months to one year; special initiatives, such as the current Traditional Arts and Health multi-year project in which cultural asset mapping inventories, videographic documentation and public programs are developed with community partners in efforts to "Build Healthy Communities;" redesigned and relaunched its website, publishing a monthly e-newsletter (The New Moon), maintaining an extensive database of artists; holding Roundtable gatherings for networking, technical assistance and artistic sharing; and leading advocacy efforts, both statewide and nationally.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

The Living Cultures Grant Program funds non-profit organizations statewide to support projects in the traditional arts. Grant awards range up to $5,000 for projects that nurture, sustain, and engage participation in the traditional arts in California. Examples of projects include workshops, gatherings and classes that lead to cultural continuity of traditional practices; support for needed purchases, services, or acquiring new skills that sustain future traditional arts practices, and activities that engage and strengthen communities as well as engage with others, such as public presentations, festivals or community based events. Approximately 40 grants are awarded annually. ACTA staff makes in-person site visits and documents cultural practice, where appropriate.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X : FIN48 Footnote	ACTA is a not-for-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. ACTA has been classified as an entity that is not a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) and qualifies for deductible contributions as provided in Section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosures guidance about positions taken by an entity in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all of the positions taken in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. ACTA's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three to four years, respectively, after they are filed.

Grantmaker's Description of How Grants are Used	The Organization received requests for funds from applicants via written requests based on criteria established in its published guidelines. The applicants describe the proposed usage of requested funds in their proposals. The applicants are then ranked by a panel of impartial experts and grants are awarded based on the applicant score after our organization's board approves the grants. Allocable funds are then assigned, based on the available pool of funds assigned to our organization, and monitored through periodic reports, site visits, written reports by grantees and follow up with recipients.
