FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 12C	All officers, trustees and key employees assume responsibility for considering possible conflicts of interest that arise during service with the College. To help officers, trustees, and key employees identify possible conflicts of interest, the College has developed a disclosure form that must be completed and updated at least annually during the course of their service. Officers, trustees, and key employees must also disclose any conflict of interest as soon as they become aware of any conflict. The College's General Counsel will review the disclosures and report conflicts of interest to the Chairman of the Board of Trust ees and the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee considers the best interests of the College and the nature of the conflict. The Audit Committee evaluates the circumstances of the issue or transaction to ensure that it is reasonable and that they have considered any potential implications of entering into a transaction or deciding an issue where a conflict exists. The Audit Committee may consider whether advice from legal counsel or other independent advisors is necessary in particular instances. The Audit Committee will deliberate the reported conflict and vote to make one of two determinations that no material conflict of interest exists and no action is necessary or that a material conflict of interest does exist and determine how to address the identified conflict. These findings will be communicated to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the board meeting minutes shall reflect the nature of the conflict and the Audit Committee's determination with respect to the specific procedures the member will follow regarding the issue or transaction.

FORM 990, PART VI, SECTION B, LINE 15A AND B	The bylaws (Article 2, Section 6) of the College establish that the Board of Trustees has the authority to hire, employ, and set the remuneration of the President and officers of the corporation. The Executive Committee, an independent authorized body of the Board of Trustees, has been assigned the responsibility for evaluating compensation reasonableness for all officers and highly paid employees. The Executive Committee is composed of five to six members and includes the President who is ex-officion chair and a member of the committee. The Executive Committee reviews the entire compensation package including benefits by a ssessing the nature and scope of each position, assessing the individuals holding each position including their unique background, experience, personal skills, performance and by o btaining appropriate and comparable compensation market data from similarly situated organ izations, both for-profit and tax exempt for functionally comparable positions including comparative data from other colleges and universities, market surveys and independent compensation surveys by nationally recognized independent firms. In addition, the Executive Committee retains an independent compensation consultant annually, to review executive compensation. The Executive Committee deliberates the information provided and relative contribution of each individual before voting on a compensation package. Compensation for the President, a member of the Society of Jesus, is paid directly to his order. Records of the Executive Committee are adequately documented.
