CHARITABLE PROGRAMS HOSPITAL VOLUNTEER & INTERN St John's Episcopal Hospital (SJEH) welcomes people who want to give of their time and talents Volunteers and interns are important members of our team, like staff, their efforts promote the health of the community The hospital utilizes volunteers and interns in nearly every department and on many committees Volunteers are valued because they provide an opportunity for the hospital to give back to the community and they are messengers with firsthand knowledge of hospital services Most are students and middle aged adult residents of Far Rockaway considering health care professions A smaller number come from the Five Towns or are senior citizens Through its work with volunteers and interns, the hospital fosters careers in health care and health related professions while improving employment and economic opportunities in Far Rockaway The time and money spent with volunteers is, therefore, an investment in the local community and in the hospital's future work force For these reasons, St John's Episcopal Hospital considers volunteer service essential to its mission People who pursue volunteer or intern opportunities at this hospital are looking for meaningful ways to share their talents The majority are high school, college and trade school students The next largest group are adults pursuing a career change The smallest number of volunteers are retirees looking to keep active There are three classifications for volunteers adult volunteers, interns, and youth volunteers All are asked to serve a minimum of 100 hours a year and serve in departments throughout the hospital supporting the work of staff Interns are students enrolled in undergraduate, graduate and professional schools contracted with the hospital to offer hands on learning in nursing, health information management, pharmacy, imaging, administration, social work, occupational and physical therapy, dietary and other services The hospital receives no compensation or expense reimbursement for staff time, space, equipment or supplies utilized by volunteers and interns The hospital is not reimbursed for the meals (breakfast and lunch) served to volunteers or the free parking made available to volunteers In 2018 112 people served a total of 13,530 hours (the equivalent of 7 full time employees) For over 10 years, the hospital has offered a Summer Youth Program The hospital partners with agencies in the region that are funded by public and private sources to employ youth during the summer In 2018 a new community partner was added the Brooklyn Queens Long Island Area Health Education Center This agency joined our long standing community partners Kulanu, the Academy of Medical Technology, Ladder for Leaders, and the Rockaway Development and Revitalization Corporation These agencies send volunteers throughout the year and, during the summer, pay youth enrolled in their agencies to serve at the hospital These agencies sent To ensure the success of these youth the hospital provided training in customer service and job readiness, huddle sessions twice a week and mentors in addition to the training and supervision from the departments they served. We do so because most of the youth are growing up in households in the care of adults with limited education and professional experience and are likely to be the first members of their family to attend HOSPITAL AUXILIARY. The Hospital Auxiliary, a group of 75 people met 10 times (for general membership and working group meetings) in 2018. This group identifies, plans and implements initiatives for patients and patient households whose social locations undermine their ability to comply with care plans established by SJEH providers. Hospital patients are regularly frustrated and humiliated by institutions that oversee their housing, food vouchers and cash benefits. These fraught relationships makes it hard for patients to trust the institutions and individuals who provide their health care. Auxiliary initiatives are designed to address patients material needs and engender trust in the hospital as a means to improve patient compliance and health. The Auxiliary made it possible for the hospital is to - give 130 patient households in need Christmas/Chanukah gifts valued around $117,000 - distribute baby bags to mothers who deliver here worth a total of $18,000 - handout backpacks and books to pediatric behavioral and physical medicine patients valued around $18,000 and - distribute nearly $25,000 of toys and clothing during annual holiday parties. The items distributed to SJEH patients and patient households are either purchased by auxiliaries or come from donors solicited by auxiliaries. General membership meetings run about 2 hours and include a meal, updates from hospital administration, reports from auxiliary work groups and discussions about new initiatives. Work group meetings run about 3 hours and take place off-site at the Mercer School of Theology in Garden City, organizations in Far Rockaway or congregations in the Episcopal Diocese of Long Island. The Logistics Work Group meets at the hospital to inventory and store or pack and distribute donations. Auxiliary members are residents of the communities served by the hospital (Far Rockaway, the Five Towns and Long Beach), active and retired hospital employees and communicants of the Episcopal Diocese of Long Island. They are young and old, male and female from a wide variety of racial ethnic groups. Following is a list of the initiatives managed by the Auxiliary in 2018: Baby Bags, Children's Books, Back-to-School Supplies, Adopt-a-Family, Behavioral Health In-patient Unit Holiday Party, and Children's Holiday Party. AUXILIARY BABY BAGS INITIATIVE: Each mother who delivers a baby at the hospital receives a baby bag. The bags are filled with handmade baby items (hats, booties, sweaters or blankets), toiletries, diapers, wipes, linens and clothing. The Hospital Auxiliary members solicit donation of new items for the bags. The Office for the VP of Mission Integration sends letters, fliers and visits donors and the organizations they are affiliated with to solicit donations and thank donors. The SJEH staff picks-up donations that cannot be delivered. The hospital volunteers and auxiliaries sort the donations and pack the baby bags. The Postpartum Nursing Unit purchases the bags. Patients receive their bags from nursing staff on the day of discharge. SCHOOL BACK-PACKS: The Pediatric Office, the Family Resource Center and Community Mental Health Program distributed 300 back-packs filled with school supplies to their clients in 2018. The Hospital Auxiliary members and the congregations they are affiliated with donated composition notebooks, three ring binders, pens, pencils, crayons, markers, rulers, protractors, post-it notes, tape, glue, memory sticks and more.
