Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Emergency Basic Needs and My First Home During this fiscal year, Basic Needs served as a safety net for 281 transition age foster youth who lacked the support of a family when emergencies arose and threatened to throw them off track. My First Home connected 79 participants to community volunteers who helped them transform their first apartments into comfortable homes with furnishings donated by the San Diego community. Without this support, youth are much more likely to begin a treacherous downward spiral that leads to poverty, homelessness, and despair. Immediate financial assistance with rent money, bus passes, gas cards, interview clothing, vehicle repair, and food helps immunize youth against debilitating stress, unhealthy physical habits, and exploitation. This support is accompanied by connections to a caring community and other services that build self-confidence and life skills.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Financial Fitness 117 young people participated in Financial Fitness and completed $56,000 in new savings matches, with a total combined savings of over $160,000 during fiscal year 2016-17. This is in contrast to studies showing that transition age foster youth typically have low financial literacy and very little in savings. An additional 94 youth benefited from Pathways to Financial Power services focused on work readiness, subsequent surveys revealed that 45% of participants said their interviewing confidence had gone up a lot and 32% said it had gone up quite a bit.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Career Horizons and Bridges to Success Career Horizons provides young women with the tools and support to bring their employment options into focus, including networks and career links essential to career success. Each participant seeking a job completes 3 job interviews, and all the young women learn about their strengths, craft a confident elevator pitch, and cultivate impactful relationships with up to four women coaches. In Bridges To Success, young men and their male coaches, called Champions, come together to share stories, learn from their common mistakes, gain skills to excel in life, and form trusting relationships as a foundation for a proud future.
