COLLECTIONS OF ART, HISTORICAL TREASURES, OR OTHER SIMILIAR ASSETS	Schedule D, Part III, Line 4 The primary mission of Princeton University Art Museum ("PUAM") is to effectively support and enhance the university's goals of teaching, research, and service. The museum does this through the study, preservation, conservation, exhibition, and development of its collections. Through direct and sustained access to original works of art, and by collaborating with faculty, students, and staff from the Department of Art and Archaeology and many other disciplines, the museum contributes to the development of critical thinking and visual literacy at Princeton. As one of the finest cultural resources in the state of New Jersey, the museum also has a clear commitment to serve the local community, the region, and beyond. The museum makes its collections and exhibitions accessible to a wide public. All audiences are encouraged to participate in PUAM's principal activities through specific programs and outreach initiatives. Scholarly exhibitions, publications, symposia, and an active loan program extend the museum's reach to a national and international audience, assuring its continuing vitality and active participation in the university's primary commitment to advance and impart knowledge. The Department of Rare Books and Special Collections, located in the Harvey. Firestone Library and the Seeley. Mud Manuscript Library, is one of the premier repositories of its kind. Its holdings span five millennia and five continents, and include around 200,000 rare or significant printed works, 30,000 linear feet of textual materials, ranging from cuneiform tablets to contemporary manuscripts, a collection of prints, drawings, photographs, maps, coins, and other visual materials, the Cotsen Children's Library, and the Princeton University Archives. These collections of the university.

BEST AVAILABLE INFORMATION FOR TOTAL EXPENDITURES,	NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES/AGENTS/INDEPENDENT CONTRACTORS IN REGION, AND NUMBER OF RECIPIENTS Schedule F, Part II, and Part III The University accounts for all foreign expenditures on the organization financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Activities outside the United States have been identified on a reasonable efforts basis where such activities were not tracked separately under the university's current accounting procedures. These reasonable efforts included reviews of financial records, interviews with University personnel, review of the University's website and publications, etc. Expenditures by region in Part I, Column (F) are based on actual expenditures where available under current accounting procedures. The estimate for Part I line 3 column(c) and Part III column (c) is based on historical surveys of employees/agents/contractors engaged in activities outside the U.S. and the average expenditures per person in each region. ACTIVITIES CONDUCTED IN REGION SCHEDULE F, PART I, QUESTION 3 Pursuant to IRS guidance, Part I, Line 3, column D detail for each type of activity conducted outside the United States for each region is shown on a separate line. Part I, Line 3, column E Program Services include research, education, travel, consulting, conferences, workshops, fellowship research, and study abroad programs.

Return Reference	Explanation
	Schedule F, Part II In furtherance of its research activities, Princeton University makes sub-awards to other foreign institutions that perform research in connection with research grants awarded to Princeton University Princeton University does not categorize these sub-awards as "foreign activities" for Form 990, Schedule F reporting, since the foreign recipient organizations perform research services for the University and are considered independent contractors which serve the direct needs of the University

Return Reference	Explanation
Best available information for total number of tax- exempt recipient	organizations and other organizations Schedule F, Part II, Lines 2 & 3 Both the total number of recipient organizations listed above that are recognized as charities by the foreign country, as well as the total number of other organizations or entities have been identified on a reasonable efforts basis where such organizations were not tracked separately under the Universitys current accounting procedures. These reasonable efforts included reviews of University financial records and historical surveys of past recipient organizations engaged in activities outside the U.S.

SCHEDULE I, PART I, LINE 2 The University has agreements with various government agencies regarding annual contributions. Also, Each year the University makes numerous small contributions to community organizations. THE UNIVERSITY'S Department of Community and Regional Affairs reviews requests from local non-profits, and looks to provide program support for organizations in the Princeton area who provide important services and resources to the community. All Contributions are evaluated to assure that they support the Princeton community at large. The University's Pace Center for Civic Engagement provides grants and support efforts by students, faculty, staff, and alumn to identify and address issues of public concern, to be actively engaged citizens, and to practice effective public leadership for the purpose of building stronger communities and societies throughout the world. THE UNDERGRADUATE FINANCIAL AID DEPARTMENT MAINTAINS THE RECORDS RELATED TO THE UNDERGRADUATE NEED-BASED GRANTS. THE PROCEDURE IS AS FOLLOWS. THE STUDENTS APPLY ANNUALLY FOR GRANTS BASED ON THEIR FAMILIES' FINANCIAL CIRCUMSTANCES EACH APPLICATION IS THEN REVIEWED TO DETERMINE THE AMOUNT OF GRANT THAT IS NEEDED. THE GRANTS ARE PROVIDED FROM APPROPRIATE SOURCES AND APPLIED TO EACH STUDENT'S PRINCETON BILL FOR TUITION, FEES, ROOM, BOARD AND OTHER CHARGES At the time of admission, graduate student fellowships are awarded on the basis of a combination of academic merit and financial need. All students must remain in good academic standing in order to receive funding. Students in certain programs receive research grants after their first year of study, While other students receive fellowships for the duration of their program. Graduate student fellowships are funded through a combination of university resources including endowment, general university funds, and/or

During the year ended June 30, 2018, Princeton University made sub-award payments to 192 recipient organizations totaling $29,975,106

Schedule I, Part II In furtherance of its research activities, Princeton University makes sub-awards to other institutions that perform research in connection with research grants awarded to Princeton University Princeton University does not categorize these sub-awards as "grants and other assistance" for Form 990 reporting, since the recipient organizations perform research services for the University and are considered independent contractors which serve the direct needs of the University

Return Reference	Explanation
Conflict of Interest Policy	Part VI, Section B, Line 12c On an annual basis, all trustees are provided with a copy of the conflict of interest policy for trustees and a statement of compliance affirmation whi ch they are required to sign and return to the office of the Vice President and Secretary Where questions arise about potential conflicts of interest or the possible perception of such conflicts, the policy requires that those issues be brought to the chair of the trus tee committee on compensation for resolution. On an annual basis, the vice president of hu man resources, the dean of the faculty, and the director of the Princeton Plasma Physics L aboratory ("PPPL") are responsible for ensuring compliance with the University's conflict of interest policies by all employees hired through their respective units. All office hea ds, managers of departments, programs, centers, and institutes, and academic department ch airs are reminded of their obligation to ensure compliance in their functional areas. All employees are required to review the conflict of interest policies, which are provided to them online, and to complete a disclosure form acknowledging that they have reviewed the policies and requiring that any conflicts or potential conflicts be disclosed. All disclose d conflicts are reviewed by the applicable office head, manager or department chair, and then brought to the respective vice president of human resources, the dean of the faculty, or the director of the PPPL for further review and resolution. Conflict disclosure forms completed by officers are reviewed by the president of the University and by the compensation committee of the board of trustees, the president's disclosure form is reviewed by the compensation committee of the board of trustees, and disclosed conflicts, if any, are appropriately resolved.
