Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Everything Healthwise does is in support of their mission to help people make better health decisions. The focus is on getting the right information and tools to the right person at the right time to help them do three things critical to the improvement of health care in America:1. To help individuals provide as much care for themselves as they can. This includes medical self-care and wellness activities along with navigating the health care system.(Continued on Schedule O)2. To help individuals ask for the care they need. We give the patient plain-language guidelines for when medications, treatments and tests are recommended for specific medical conditions.3. To help them say "no" to care that is not right for them. It is often up to the patient to determine when the risks of a treatment outweigh the benefits.People turn to Healthwise information to learn how to do more for themselves, ask for the care they need, and say "no" to the care they don't need. Our mission is achieved every time an individual uses our information and tools to make better health decisions.

Daniel Meltzer was Chief Medical Officer for Healthwise. Under the terms of a Separation Agreement dated August 26, 2019, and in exchange for a general release of claims and a confidential and proprietary developments acknowledgement, Mr. Meltzer received a lump sum payment of $100,000, less applicable taxes. On February 25, 2016 the Organization entered into a retention agreement with its Chief Executive Officer, Robert Kyte, to provide incentive compensation to him to continue his employment with the Organization. Schedule J, Column (B)(ii) and Part VII, Section A, Form 990 includes a payment totaling $189,556 reflecting amounts accrued and earned from the date of the agreement until the end of his employment. Of this amount, $156,250 was reported in deferred compensation on prior year returns and is reflected in Column F.
Part I, Line 5	In order for Healthwise to meet its mission of maximizing delivery of consumer health information and tools, Healthwise works with a variety of organizations that are active in the field of health education ranging from other nonprofit organizations to for-profit web portals. In order to accomplish this exempt mission, a small number of our employees are charged with the assignment of enhancing our distribution through building relationships with these organizations. The compensation plans are designed to bring sales incentive compensation into alignment with Healthwise's strategy of emphasizing the achievement of our mission by increasing market share growth through new client acquisition. In developing the plan, Healthwise follows the principles of respect, teamwork, and do the right thing. These Healthwise employees' compensation is based partially on the results of their efforts tied to gross revenues received. It should be noted that none of the compensation is paid on net earnings. The setting of these employees' total compensation is reviewed carefully in comparison to market studies as benchmarks for reasonableness.
Part I, Line 7	If the mission accomplishment is achieved, the Board considers the financial capabilities of Healthwise to pay such additional compensation so as not to jeopardize its operating ability, as well as reviews total compensation to assure that all compensation falls within the reasonable remuneration factors as a tax-exempt organization. Once the Board establishes if there will be a payment and determines the percentage of base pay used to calculate such payment or a base amount to pay each employee, then the formula used to determine the payment is applied to all employees, including officers. Certain officers of Healthwise are eligible for this additional compensation based on a multiplier of up to 2.0 times the Board approved percentage.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	All directors and officers are required to comply with the Healthwise conflict of interest policy during their employment or service. Annually, they are required to sign a statement affirming: they have read and understand the Healthwise Conflict of Interest Policy regarding interested persons/financial interest, agree to comply with the Policy, understand that Healthwise is a charitable organization and, to maintain its Federal tax exemption, it must engage primarily in activities that accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes. This statement also requires they specify if they do or not have an actual or possible conflict of interest (as defined in the Policy) and if so, that they disclose this information. The General Counsel reviews the completed statements and presents any disclosed actual or possible conflicts of interest to the Board and/or Audit, Finance and Compensation Committee for review and a determination of whether a conflict exists, and if so, address such conflict. In addition, the General Counsel annually reviews with the Board and/or Audit, Finance and Compensation Committee transactions between Healthwise and organizations, which have an affiliation with a director or officer involving a financial interest (based on their completed statements) for a determination of whether a conflict exists and to seek approval or ratification of the transaction and its related agreements, as necessary.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	The following procedures are in place for setting and reviewing CEO, officers and key employees' compensation: 1. Compensation is reviewed and approved by the Audit, Finance and Compensation Committee (AFC Committee). Persons with conflicts of interest for a particular position are not involved in review or approval for such position. 2. Compensation is reviewed and approved using comparable compensation data provided by an independent compensation company for similarly qualified persons in functionally comparable positions at similarly situated organizations. The source data used is based on multiple compensation surveys. 3. There is contemporaneous documentation and record keeping with respect to the deliberations and decisions regarding the compensation arrangements. The documentation includes terms of compensation, members of the Committee/Board present for the decision and discussion, comparable data used and the basis for the decision made. 4. The Board has access to all AFC Committee decisions regarding the results of this process and, in addition, the Board directly handled the setting of the compensation for the CEO. 5. Additionally, the AFC Committee periodically engages independent compensation consultants to review and analyze total compensation for specific officer positions, and the terms and compensation relating to retention and incentive compensation agreements and severance plans, against survey and/or peer group data and/or industry and comparable benchmark data. In connection with these engagements, the AFC Committee generally seeks an opinion from the independent compensation consultant on the reasonableness of the compensation package and/or terms relating to the retention and/or incentive agreement or severance plan. The review, deliberation and approval specified in items 1-4 above along with the analysis and opinion of the independent compensation consultant was used by the AFC Committee and Board with regard to Plan compensation matters and compensation of the CEO.
