Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
SCHEDULE D, PART X, LINE 2	PRI is exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code. All wholly owned subsidiaries of PRI continue to be treated as taxable entities with the fair market value method for foreign jurisdictions and provide for income taxes in accordance with the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for future tax consequences attributable to differences between the carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities for financial reporting and for income tax reporting. The deferred tax assets or liabilities represent the future tax return consequences of those differences, which will either be taxable or deductible when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. PRI had no deferred tax assets or liabilities as of December 31, 2018 or 2017. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require the Organization's management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Organization and recognize tax liability (or asset) if the Organization has taken a position that is uncertain. An uncertain position is defined as one in which there is a 50% or greater likelihood that the position will not be sustained upon examination by a taxing authority. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Organization and had concluded that, as of December 31, 2018, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken. The Organization has recognized no interest or penalties related to uncertain tax positions. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions, however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress.
