Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	Certain entities included in Northwells consolidated financial statements are taxable entities under Federal or state laws. U.S. generally accepted accounting principles require that at the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes be utilized by these organizations and for unrelated business activities for the tax-exempt entities. Under the asset and liability method, deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences of temporary differences by applying enacted statutory tax rates applicable to future years to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax basis of existing assets and liabilities. The effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period of enactment. At December 31, 2017 and 2016, Northwell has a deferred income tax asset of approximately $123,000,000 and $142,000,000, respectively, both of which have been fully offset by a related valuation allowance. A valuation allowance is provided when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax asset will not be realized. Significant components of the deferred tax asset relate to the allowance for doubtful accounts and net operating loss carryforwards. Certain entities have net operating loss carryforwards aggregating approximately $573,000,000, which expire in varying amounts through 2037, and are available to offset future taxable income.
