Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	Certain entities included in Northwell's consolidated financial statements are taxable ent ities under Federal or state laws U S generally accepted accounting principles require t hat the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes be utilized by these organizations and for unrelated business activities for the tax-exempt entities included in N orthwell's consolidated financial statements. Under the asset and liability method, deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences of temporary differences by applying enacted statutory tax rates applicable to future years to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax basis of existing assets and liabilities. The effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period of enactment. At December 31, 2018 and 2017, Northwell has a deferred income tax asset of approximately $118,000,000 and $123,000,000, respectively, both of which have been fully off set by a related valuation allowance. A valuation allowance is provided when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax asset will not be realized. Significant components of the deferred tax asset relate to net operating loss (NOL) carryforwards. Certain entities have NOL carryforwards aggregating approximately $559,000,000 at December 31, 2018. NOL carryforwards generated prior to 2018 will expire in varying amounts through 2037, and are available to offset future taxable income of the respective entity. Under the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) enacted on December 22, 2017, NOLs generated after 2017 can be carried forward indefinitely, but the TCJA placed limitations on how these NOL carryforwards can be used.
