CROSS-CUTTING PROGRAMS - SEE SCHEDULE OCROSS CUTTING PROGRAMS This work will address the highest priorities of the selected target population state health officials (SHOs) and other state health agency (SHA) leaders, with a particular emphasis on senior deputies and state legislative liaisons. Through proposed work with the ASTHO Affiliate Council, CBA - particularly in workforce development, health equity, and integrating public health and clinical medicine will benefit public health nurses, epidemiologists, laboratorians, public information officers, social workers, health educators, health facility surveyors, and directors of maternal and child health, chronic disease, injury prevention, minority health, vital statistics, HIV/AIDS, STD, dental, nutrition, vector control, and emergency medical services programs. In the US territories and freely associated states, numerous challenges exist in healthcare services delivery. Health agency staff are few in number, and current staff are often under-trained in the areas of program administration, financial management, and systems-thinking. Unlocking the potential of public health prevention, control and program management through planning and capacity-building assistance has a strong likelihood of improving the efficiency and effectiveness of health agencies, resulting in improved health status for the populations that those health agencies serve. This project will build state, territorial, and local public health agency capacity to communicate public health aspects of emergencies and disasters to the public and across the public health enterprise. This project would lay the groundwork to ensure CDC's national communication work and platforms are linked to state, local and territorial communication work and platforms. The effort would allow CDC to cross-promote state and territorial work alongside CDC's work with the goal of raising the profile of and the understanding of the importance of emergency preparedness and response work across the nation.
