Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Conservation Services Bench treatment - encompasses all direct conservation and restoration treatments applied to works of art, artifacts, and historical items. Treatments prevent deterioration, insure original integrity and enhance exhibition and access to works of art, historical artifacts and documents. Several hundred works of art are conserved through treatment each year. Consultation - consists of on-going dialogues and provisions of written and photographic information to curators, librarians, archivists, collection managers and the general public regarding treatments, discoveries and practices associated with particular items. Conservator's examinations with diagnostics in conjunction with curatorial expertise lead to discoveries in dating, authenticity, structural and aesthetic techniques, shipping, handling and display techniques. Hundreds of institutions rely on MACC's consultations each year.

EIN: 41-1312834

Name: Midwest Art Conservation Center Inc

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part V, Line 4	The Endowment fund is to benefit the organization for conservation training, graduate fellowships, staff development, research, and publications. The endowment is considered a permanently restricted asset subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the organization. Generally, the donor of these assets permit the Organization to use all or part of the income earned on any related investments for general or specific purposes. The organization's investment policy seeks to preserve the principal amount of the endowment assets. To achieve their investment goal, the Organization invests and holds the endowment as cash or cash equivalents with the other organization funds. Interest earned is available for unrestricted conservation training, graduate fellowships, staff development, research, and publications.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	The Organization assesses whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination of the technical merits of the position, assuming the taxing authority has full knowledge of all information. If the tax position does not meet the more likely than not recognition threshold, the benefit of the tax position is not recognized in the financial statements. The Organization recorded no assets or liabilities for uncertain tax positions or unrecognized tax benefits.
