FORM 990, PART III, LINE 4A	The Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art is dedicated to connecting the public with great works of art. During the current fiscal year, the Nelson-Atkins welcomed over 386,000 visitors to explore its encyclopedia collection of approximately 42,000 art objects spanning 5,000 years. Free general admission to the Museums collection allows for hundreds of free public programs each year that give people a wide range of opportunities to interact with art. More than 177,000 adults and children participated in structured learning opportunities offered by the Museums educational division during the current fiscal year. Curators focus on studying our collection, enhancing it through gifts and purchases, loaning works from our collection to other institutions to enhance the publics understanding of a particular artist or topic and they organize exhibitions for the Nelson-Atkins galleries that are both collection and thematically developed. Each year at least three major featured exhibitions are held in large galleries dedicated to rotation or traveling exhibitions. In addition, three exhibitions are held annually in our photography galleries. Rotations of works on paper and textiles in our European collection is ongoing, giving visitors something new to see each time they visit. Approximately 565 volunteers assist and support the Museum annually by giving of their time and intellect. This includes docents and museum guides who are rigorously trained by our education and curatorial staff to guide and interpret our collection for visitors.
