Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	To ensure that Beyond Shelter operates in a manner consistent with its charitable purpose and that it does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its status as an organization exempt from federal income tax, annual statements and periodic reviews are conducted. All directors, officers, employees, agents, or contractors, or any person with powers derived from the Board of Directors are covered by the conflict of interest policy. The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) reviews the annual disclosures. If it is determined that a potential conflict of interest exists, there is disclosure and discussion with the interested person. Afterward, the interested person shall leave the board or committee meeting while the remaining board or committee members decide if a conflict exists. If a conflict exists, the interested person may make a presentation to the board or committee regarding the transaction or arrangement. After exercising due diligence, the board or committee shall determine whether the Corporation can obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably attainable, the board or committee shall determine by majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Corporation's best interest.
