Part I, Line 2:	Internet2's grants management is guided to a large extent by compliance with OMB requirements governing a broad range of cost-accounting issues, including budget management and amendment, expenditure monitoring and reporting, cost transfers, oversight of allowable and unallowable costs, and other issues that are all auditable and reportable. These are subject to annual review through the audit process and informed by regular updates from agencies, Uniform Guidance, and Federal Demonstration Project compliance measures. Our cost-accounting standards for monitoring use of grant funds in the United States include monthly review of allowable/unallowable costs; budget and expenditure analysis; cost transfers and expenditure classification if necessary; documentation of expenditure review and approval; regular review and application of standards for reasonableness, allocability, and allowability of costs; regular review and updates of policies and procedures for unallowable costs; and application of standards for micro-purchase and simplified acquisitions.
