Saint Thomas Health is focused on transforming the healthcare experience and helping people live healthier lives, with special attention to the poor and vulnerable. The regional health system included, in FY19, nine (9) hospitals: Saint Thomas Hospital for Specialty Surgery, Saint Thomas midtown hospital and Saint Thomas West Hospital in Nashville, Saint Thomas Rutherford hospital in Murfreesboro, Saint Thomas Hickman hospital in Centerville, Saint Thomas Stones River hospital in Woodbury, Saint Thomas DeKalb hospital in Smithville, Saint Thomas Highlands hospital in Sparta, and Saint Thomas River Park Hospital in McMinnville. This community benefit happens through its focus on patient care, education, and research. The organizations work together to serve their communities at the local, regional, state, and national level. ASCENSION HEALTH ALLIANCE, D/B/A ASCENSION (ASCENSION), IS A MISSOURI NONPROFIT CORPORATION FORMED ON SEPTEMBER 13, 2011. ASCENSION IS THE SOLE CORPORATE MEMBER AND PARENT ORGANIZATION OF ASCENSION HEALTH, A CATHOLIC NATIONAL HEALTH SYSTEM CONSISTING PRIMARILY OF NONPROFIT CORPORATIONS THAT OWN AND OPERATE LOCAL HEALTHCARE FACILITIES, OR HEALTH MINISTRIES, LOCATED IN MORE THAN 20 OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. STH's mission provides a strong foundation and guidance for its work as a caring ministry of healing, including its commitment to community service and to provide access to quality healthcare for all. The STH mission, vision and values are the key factors influencing their approach and commitment to addressing community health needs through their community benefit activity. Ascension's socially just wage and benefits policy, established in 2001, applies to all of Ascension, including subsidiary entities and contractual third-party vendor relationships. Saint Thomas Health and Ascension are committed to providing a livable wage to all associates. Minimum wage within Ascension was raised to $11/hour during FY15. Catholic Social Teaching recognizes that everyone has a fundamental right to share in the fruits of her or his labor and to have basic needs met, including access to healthcare. An essential component of the socially just wage policy is the employer subsidization of the cost of healthcare insurance for lower-paid associates. This employer subsidy, combined with the minimum hourly wage rate, provides affected associates with a decent standard of living and affordable access to healthcare. (Community Health Need: access to care and wellness) Saint Thomas Health supports a variety of efforts and continues to work in collaboration with other community agencies to address the health and well-being of our community, especially the poor and vulnerable, including restricted cash donations to outside organizations, in-kind donation of employee time/services to outside organizations and representation on community/non-profit boards and committees which work to improve the health and quality of life of the communities we serve. This transition was intended to facilitate public access to information, including enabling the health system to better manage and monitor compliance requirements that IRC Section 501(r) information be made widely available to the public. During and as a result of the migration of hospital facility information to the new central website, it is possible that there may have been brief instances of web access interruption. If so, the filing organization believes that any such interruptions would have been minor and inadvertent, and due to reasonable cause, and that any such instances would have been immediately addressed when identified. The filing organization and health system have established procedures in place as part of its centralized monitoring and management processes that are reasonably designed to address, monitor and promote compliance with the requirements of IRC Section 501(r). In an effort to be fully transparent, the filing organization has chosen to pro-actively disclose on this Form 990 this possibility of very minor and inadvertent web access interruptions that could have occurred in the normal course of migrating locally maintained hospital facility information to an improved centrally managed website. In so disclosing, the organization is not reporting that interruptions in the nature of a Section 501(r) violation in fact occurred. Rather, the organization is pro-actively disclosing that the migration process was undertaken and that, in completing that process, it is possible that brief interruptions in web access may have occurred as the hospital facility data was relocated to the central website.

The process included a review of secondary health data, a systematic review of existing community agency reports, an online community survey, interviews of community representatives and leaders, community listening sessions, and a community health summit to review findings and discern unmet health needs. The collaborating team received input from public health experts, including the local public health department. Saint Thomas Health, Vanderbilt University Medical Center and the Metro Public Health Department to design, direct and conduct the CHNA. Saint Thomas Health (STH) and Vanderbilt University Medical Center (VUMC) participated in the CHNA process on behalf of their non-profit hospitals and health systems. Input from persons representing the broad interests of the community, including those with expertise in public health, was obtained through face-to-face interviews, community listening sessions, and via an online community survey (distributed in English and Spanish). Saint Thomas Midtown Hospital, Saint Thomas West Hospital, and The Hospital for Specialty Surgery, and its collaborators also conducted a comprehensive review of relevant secondary data. The partnering team reviewed publicly available secondary data for the following health indicator topics: demographics and socioeconomic status, social and natural environment, access to health care, morbidity/mortality, birth outcomes, preventive care/risk factors behaviors, infectious disease, and mental health. Social determinants are the conditions of communities within which people live that affect their health and well-being and include housing, crime, poverty, education, discrimination, and others. Social determinants are included in assessments of health and well-being. Addressing the social determinants of health through community building and improvement initiatives is a key component in improving the contributing factors that determine the health of the community. The partnering organizations, therefore, also reviewed indicators of health related to social determinants as part of this assessment. In addition, these hospitals solicited written feedback on the most recent CHNA on the Saint Community Benefit website. Specifics of each method are described in depth in each corresponding section of the report. The partnering organizations used the MAPP (Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships) process to guide their Davidson County CHNA work. MAPP is a community-wide strategic planning process for improving public and community health; this framework helps communities prioritize public health issues, identify resources for addressing them, and act to improve conditions that support healthy living. The process encompasses four separate assessments that measure the health of the community in several ways. Please note that two of the four MAPP assessments conducted (Local Public Health System Assessment and Forces of Change)

The partnering organizations collaborated and sh are d in the analysis of interview and community listening session results. Additionally, S TH and VUMC worked together in reviewing secondary data and preparation for community meet ings in three other counties: Hickman County, TN; Rutherford County, TN; and Williamson Co unty, TN. Using MAPP, the partnering organizations also collaborated with members of the c ommunity to understand the current health needs of Davidson County, including organization s such as, but not limited to: Metro Social Services; Family and Children's Services; Unit ed Way of Nashville and the Family Resource Centers; Tennessee Department of Health; Juven ile Justice Center; Mayor's Office of Nashville; Metro Planning Department; Metro Parks De partment; Metro Nashville Public Schools, Matthew Walker Comprehensive Health Clinic, Conn ectUs Health, Metro Arts, Healthy Nashville Leadership Council, mental health experts, law enforcement officers; and regional health council representatives. Community representatives and leaders, who represented a broad interest of the community, were identified by Saint Thomas Health entities, Vander bilt University Medical Center, the Metro Public Health Department, and Community Input Co mmittee. The interviewee constituency was diverse and included those with professional exp erience and/or the ability to represent populations which are medically underserved, low-i ncome, minority and/or with chronic disease needs. Following development of the questions, the survey was translated into Spanish, converted into an electronic survey using REDCap, and piloted for accuracy and timing. The survey was distributed to several networks of the health department as well as health system and community partners. Finally, the qualitative data was analyzed by a team of four reviewers to determine themes and the demographic data was analyzed using Excel. The survey was distributed by the health system, community, and public health networks. 277 responses were fielded from the community survey with all respondents living in Davidson County. 79% of respondents identified female, and 21% identified male. 48% of respondents were between the ages of 40-64, while another 36% were aged 26-39. 81% of respondents were white and 15% of respondents were African-American. Approximately 24% of total responses were from the survey distributed in Spanish; an additional 4% of the respondents from the English survey identified as Latino/a, Hispanic or Spanish. In Davidson County, six listening sessions were conducted to identify the first-hand opinions of community members. The goal was to understand individuals' viewpoints on issues facing their community, what health and healthcare barriers exist, and what resources are available or absent. Listening sessions were moderated by the Needs Assessment partners and held at six locations around Davidson County including Hadley Park, Hartman Park, Elizabeth Park Senior Center, Building Lives Foundation, Outreach Base, and Salahdeen Center. Each session had twelve to fifteen individuals in attendance. The participants completed a demographic survey in order to provide insight into the composition of each group, but all responses during the conversation were kept anonymous. The main topics explored in these sessions included quality of life, community assets, obstacles or challenges, and priorities for the future. The listening session guide can be found in Appendix C of the CHNA. The majority of participants were female, 27% were Hispanic or Latino, and 41% were Black or African American. Nearly half of participants spoke a language other than English in the home, and most individuals completed some college, have a college degree, or have a graduate degree. 41% of participants were uninsured or enrolled in Medicaid or Medicare.

Results of the systematic review, community interviews, community listening sessions, and secondary data analysis were presented on January 11, 2019 at the West End Community Church for the Healthy Nashville Summit. 159 persons attended, and invitees included all participants in interviews and community listening sessions, as well as community members with expertise in public health or who work with medically under-served, minority, or low-income populations. The purpose of the summit was to solicit input and consider the broad interests of the community in identifying and prioritizing the community's health needs. In Davidson County, the Summit was facilitated jointly by VUMC, Saint Thomas Health, and the Metro Public Health Department. After being presented with primary and secondary data on several needs, summit attendees provided input into prioritizing the most important health needs within the community. Attendees individually selected between one and three health issues and then discussed these needs with their tablemates, guided by a facilitator. The table consolidated the needs into three health need buckets. These buckets were then entered into an electronic voting system. All participants voted on their top three priorities via the voting system called RedCap. The four health needs with the greatest number of votes were selected as the identified health needs.
