Facts And Circumstances Test

The Center qualifies as a publicly supported organization under the facts and circumstances test set forth in Tres. Reg. 1.170A-9T(F)(3). The Center's public support exceeded the 10% threshold for public charities. Moreover, the Center's ongoing program of solicitations, its sources of support, its governing body and the programs it conducts all demonstrate sufficient public support to meet the facts and circumstances test. The Center continues to meet with many of the nation's largest foundations and corporations to cultivate relationships that will lead to financial support. The ongoing fundraising efforts are expected to raise the public support percentage in future years. Its current sources of support include a variety of private foundations, public charities, businesses, and individuals. The Center's public support is further demonstrated by its governing body, which represents the broad interest of the general public. Directors and officers include executives from large national corporations, public charities, and foundations, which bring specialized knowledge and experience to international relations, economic development, education, global security, and civic leadership. The Center provides programs to the general public on a continuing basis, including events in 2019 in a variety of states around the country, which drew thousands of people. Participants and attendees include members of Congress, state legislators, former governors, retired military leaders, journalists, international affairs experts, and other civic leaders and members of the public with specialized expertise in the subject of the U.S. global engagement.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 3	The Center has a contractual agreement with an independent contractor, Schraye &amp; Associates, Inc., to provide strategic, program, management, and fundraising services to the Center. Schraye &amp; Associates assigns various employees to provide such services, including Elizabeth Schraye, who serves as the Center's President &amp; CEO. Other functions provided by Schraye &amp; Associates include administrative, operational and communications support. To determine whether its payments to Schraye &amp; Associates are reasonable and appropriate, the Center evaluates the rates charged for comparable management services provided by similar consulting firms to other non profit organizations of similar size, scope and purpose. Additionally, the Center examines the costs and impact of acquiring such services in-house, versus purchasing the services from an external firm. This analysis is conducted annually as part of the budget process.
