Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

The Intercept is an award-winning publisher of news dedicated to holding the powerful accountable through fearless, adversarial journalism. Its in-depth investigations and unflinching analyses focus on politics, war, surveillance, corruption, criminal justice, the environment, immigration, the media, technology and more. The Intercept Brasil is The Intercept's subdomain based in Rio de Janeiro, a news agency that produces content for an international audience through internet distribution channels. The Intercept gives its journalists in the US and Brazil the editorial freedom and legal support they need to expose corruption and injustice wherever they find it. Through the Research and Security group, known as Neptune, which includes award-winning research, security, engineering and editorial experts, The Intercept makes documents available for inquiry and analysis in secure environments.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Field of Vision is a filmmaker-driven documentary unit that commissions and produces original short-form nonfiction films about developing and ongoing stories around the globe. It produces cinematic work that tells the stories of our world from new perspectives. Inspired by past projects such as World in Action and Life magazine, FoV's work includes individual short and feature-length films, episodic series, thematic approaches to a single topic by multiple filmmakers, deep-dive investigations pairing filmmakers with journalists, rapid-response assignments, and collaborations with artists across mediums. FoV is committed to short-form documentary films because this form allows filmmakers to respond quickly, take creative risks, reach wide audiences, explore new ways of storytelling and make films with a faster production cycle. FoV's films are distributed through a variety of outlets, including news organizations, film festivals, online platforms, broadcast, streaming and cable. Through fellowships and production support and agreements, FoV provides filmmakers the necessary support and resources to create their films.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

The Press Freedom Defense Fund provides support to journalists and others to pursue legal fights where a substantial public interest is at stake. Through grants (often paid directly to expert legal counsel who agree to provide representation at reduced/capped fees) and educational outreach to support established and non-traditional journalists and news organizations, the Fund opposes official action that restrict press freedoms and seek source information or journalistic materials. It is one of the few programs that supports whistleblowers and other journalistic sources.

990 Schedule F, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 2	Grantmaking is closely managed by managers of the grantmaking programs, as well as by FLM's legal and finance departments. For grants to foreign entities and individuals, pre-award diligence includes checking grantee leadership and individual grantees against Specially Designated Nationals /U S sanctions lists maintained by the Office of Foreign Assets Controls of the U S Treasury Department to confirm that payments are not prohibited. Applications for grants from the Press Freedom Defense Fund are reviewed by directors of the Fund, and sensitive grants to foreign entities and grants exceeding certain thresholds are referred for consultation and advice to an advisory committee of legal and journalism experts. Applications are voted on according to the directors' assessment of the importance of the grantee or a specific grantee's situation to the promotion of freedom of the press. For grants made to support legal defense of news organizations or whistleblowers, payments are usually made directly to attorneys representing the grantees upon submission of and approval of attorney invoices, and are based upon written grant agreements setting forth grantee/attorney obligations to expend the funds solely for the approved charitable purposes, submit narrative reports in addition to detailed invoices, and provide information for the promotion of the educational purposes of FLM.
