part III	ı, section a, line 2	The costing methodology used to determine payer costs is the ANDI methodology, which uses a facility-wide ratio of cost to charges as described in the NCHA Community Benefits Guidelines
part III, section a, line 3		The estimate for bad debt expenses attributable to patients eligible under the Financial Assistance policy was calculated by applying the cost-to-charge ratio for the year to the gross bad debt charges attributable to uninsured patients during the year. While the costs of bad debts are present for essentially every business organization, few other than hospitals are expected to continue to provide services to those with means who have previously failed to pay. Continuation of service to patients with the means to pay but who have failed to do so is a further community benefit related to the organization's mission. Therefore, we believe that the cost of bad debts should be considered a community benefit.

Form and Line Reference	Explanation
,	Net patient service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts from patients, third-party payors, and others for services rendered, including estimated retroactive adjustments due to future audits, reviews, and investigations. Retroactive adjustments are accrued on an estimated basis in the period the related services are rendered, and such amounts are adjusted in future periods as adjustments become known or as years are no longer subject to such audits, reviews, and investigations
