El Pomar Foundation was established in 1937 by Spencer and Julie Penrose to provide resources and opportunities for all future generations of Coloradoans. The Foundation is a general-purpose foundation supporting nonprofit organizations operating primarily within the state of Colorado working in the arts and humanities, education, health, human services, and civic and community initiatives.

The Foundation, although still primarily a grant maker, has diversified its philanthropic activities by making a significant investment in direct charitable activities called community stewardship programs. These programs allow the Foundation to be more pro-active in helping nonprofit organizations be more effective and recognized for the good they do, to shape and encourage the leaders of tomorrow, and to foster community engagement, cooperation and service at all levels of society. The result is a more fully engaged program of philanthropic activities that utilizes a combination of financial assistance, staff support, organizational training, leadership development and focused cooperation. Many of the community stewardship programs also have grant initiatives associated with them.

The community stewardship programs fall within four broad mission areas or "themes" that provide a framework and purpose for their existence. By design, many of the programs overlap with more than one theme. The four themes and their related programs are.

Nonprofit Effectiveness and Recognition

Programs designed to assist, and give public recognition to, nonprofit organizations in their efforts to be more effective through better use of their resources, planning for their future, and planning for the future of their communities. Programs in this category include:

Penrose House - An historic property that serves as a conference and education center hosting more than 35,000 individuals who represent nearly 1,000 nonprofit organizations and government entities each year. These groups convene to plan their programs for the future, advance their skills, and coordinate and cooperate among one another for more effective service delivery and increased impact.

Awards for Excellence - A distinguished panel of Colorado community leaders assists the Foundation annually in identifying and recognizing nonprofit organizations throughout the state that have demonstrated excellence in their service to the people of Colorado.

Rocky Mountain Tax Seminar for Private Foundations - An annual seminar for trustees and managers of private foundations designed to strengthen the grant making profession. They come together in a collegial atmosphere to learn basic and advanced concepts of private foundation law, to hear about new developments, to discuss real-world solutions and to discover best practices with a faculty of distinguished attorneys and IRS officials.

Office Assistance - Low cost use of Foundation office space has attracted many needed nonprofit services to the Pikes Peak region and has stabilized the budgets of other key community organizations. Thirteen organizations presently took advantage of this program in 2018.

Leadership Development and Community Service

Programs designed to shape and encourage those who are and those who will become the next generation of leaders in our communities and institutions and to instill within each the value and privilege of being connected to their community in service to others. Programs in this area include:

El Pomar Fellowship – Each year, 8 or more highly qualified recent college graduates with diverse backgrounds and interests become members of the Foundation staff to spend two years in a rigorous professional development curriculum building and refining their leadership and nonprofit management skills in a dynamic, hands-on program with a “360 degree” view of the nonprofit world.

El Pomar Scholars – Continuing its fourteenth year partnership with universities that participate in the Colorado Leadership Alliance (CLA), El Pomar Foundation provides scholarships for four students at each participating institution, valued at $2,000 per year ($1,000 per semester), over a two year period. Scholarships are awarded to each institution via grants to the leadership departments.

Nonprofit Education and Leadership Program – Each year, 35 individuals serving in leadership positions at nonprofit organizations throughout Colorado participate in leadership training designed to help them learn more about themselves and how best to shape themselves into effective leaders for positive change in their communities.

Forum for Civic Advancement – Founded in 2002, Forum for Civic Advancement seeks and supports individuals interested in contributing to the civic health of the Pikes Peak Region. It operates lectures, panels, and seminars in which public-minded citizens can meet other current and aspiring political and civic leaders, and engage cutting-edge political ideas from around the country.

Emerging Leaders Development Program – Started in 2001, the purpose of this program is to help develop the wealth of diverse leadership potential within southern Colorado. The program identifies and encourages current and emerging ethnic minority leaders to embrace broad-based community involvement, civic engagement and service on boards and commissions. The program is a collaborative effort among El Pomar Foundation, community leadership development programs, and minority-focused community organizations. It offers community leadership development training and outreach activities that extend into the broader community. El Pomar also provides scholarships for selected individuals to take part in these leadership programs.

Pikes Peak Heritage Series – El Pomar Foundation launched the Pikes Peak Heritage Series in 2015 to celebrate and raise awareness of the natural assets of the Pikes Peak Region. Heritage Series hosts a variety of events to encourage collaboration between champions of our regional outdoor recreation assets. Follow up on each topic may include continuing dialogue, publishing and sharing resources, and periodic reconvening of key stakeholders.

Community Outreach and Engagement

To provide opportunities to identify and reach out to underserved populations throughout the state of Colorado, the Foundation encourages those closest to local problems and issues to actively assist in targeting its resources and programs:

Regional Partnership Program – Regional councils of local civic and nonprofit leaders have been formed throughout the state of Colorado. These councils will identify important community issues within their respective regions and advocate for the use of Foundation resources and programs to address these needs. Each regional council will be assigned a Foundation Trustee to serve as a knowledgeable liaison to each region

Historical Properties

The Foundation operates and preserves two significant historical and educational properties which Spencer and Julie Penrose built during their lifetimes and left as a perpetual legacy to the future inhabitants and visitors to the Pikes Peak region. These properties are open to the public and admission is free:

Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun – Situated 2,000 feet above the City of Colorado Springs and made of Cheyenne Mountain granite, the Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun is an important historic landmark that chronicles the historical events of the Pikes Peak region, the lives of Julie and Spencer Penrose and the life of Will Rogers. More than 30,000 visitors enjoy this famous landmark each year

Penrose Heritage Museum - Opened in 1941, the Carriage Gallery and Western Artifacts Collection has over 25,000 visitors each year who come to enjoy and learn about the extensive exhibits of horse-drawn carriages, saddles, harnesses, firearms, western and Indian artifacts, and vintage automobiles that belonged to or were associated with Spencer Penrose. The Hill Climb Gallery, which opened in 2014, is devoted to the Pikes Peak Hill Climb Race, which was started by Spencer Penrose and today is the second oldest sanctioned race in America
