If applicable, provide separate descriptions for each facility in a facility reporting group, designated by "Facility A," "Facility B," etc. Form and Line Reference Explanation Rehoboth McKinley Christian Health Care Part V, Section B, Line 11 Population Health is defined by the World Health Organization (WHO) as, "the health outcomes of a group of individuals, including the distribution of suich outcomes within the group," the Social Determinants of Health as "the conditions in whi chipeople are born, grow, live, work and age circumstances that are shaped by the distribution of money, power, resources at global, national and local levels "Population Health is an approach to health that aims to improve the health of an entire population. A priority in achieving this aim is to reduce health inequities or disparities among different popul ation groups due to, among other factors, the Social Determinants of Health The factors t hat impact the population of McKinley County are reviewed in this assessment by looking at Health Outcomes measurements and Quality of Life issues According to the World Health Organization, the definition of health is a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease In telling the story of the health of this community, this assessment will look at the significant disease states and major health is sues, as well as conditions, behaviors and social and physical environments, positive and negative, that impact them By identifying the community's gaps, needs and issues, as well as its assets, we hope to initiate a conversation that is a catalyst for community collabo ration in addressing them The median age in McKinley County is 30 7 years. That is six years younger than the median age in the United States However, the average life span of the population in McKinley County is four years less than the average life span of the United States population. The average life span McKinley County is is 74.4 years versus the national average of 78.8 years. In reviewing the leading causes of death, contrasts appear that help clarify the significant health issues in McKinley County Although the top two causes of death in McKinley County are Cardiovascular Disease and Cancer, the same top two caus es for New Mexico and the United States, the incidence of each of these diseases per 100,0 00 people in McKinley County is 12%-25% lower than the state and national incidence The nu mber one cause of death for the Navajo Nation is *Unintentional Injuries, and although the 2nd and 3rd causes of death for the Navajo Nation are Cardiovascular Disease and Cancer. their averages are both 40%-50% lower for the Navajo Nation than the state and national av erages Diabetes is the 4th highest cause of death for McKinley County and the Navajo Natio n and the 5th highest cause of death for New Mexico and the United States (Stroke is the 4th lead- ing cause of death for these two entities) However, McKinley County's average of diabetes deaths is 53%-64% higher (this is all ethnicities) than the state and national averages and 27% higher than the Navajo

Nation The 5th highest cause of death in McKinley County and the Navajo Nation i

Section C. Supplemental Information for Part V, Section B. Provide descriptions required for Part V, Section B, lines 11, 3, 4, 5d, 6i, 7, 10, 11, 12i, 14g, 16e, 17e, 18e, 19c, 19d, 20d, 21, and 22. If applicable, provide separate descriptions for each facility in a facility reporting group, designated by "Facility A," "Facility B," etc. Form and Line Reference Explanation Rehoboth McKinley Christian Health Care s Chronic Liver Disease and Cirrhosis (7th and 8th causes of death for New Mexico and the United States) When this average cause of death is added to the Unintentional Injuries average, both alcohol related, they become the number one cause of death by a wide margin for McKinley County and the Navajo Nation Lastly, lower in incidence per 100,000 people but still in the top ten causes of death, is Suicide The incidence of suicide in McKinley Cou nty is 56% higher than the national average, 40% higher than the Navajo Nation and 26% higher than the New Mexico average, where it is already considered at a crisis level Suicide and the co-occurring mental health and substance abuse issues that lead to suicide, are clearly very serious health issues for McKinley County Under a new administration in 2015, R MCHCS began a focused Plan, Act, Review cycle (PAR) of needs assessment, budgeting and imp lementation. Upon completion of the CHNA, Emily Guilliams presented the assessment to the Board of Directors and from there it has been part of significant discussions related to s trategically planning for the implementation of programs that will best meet the needs of the community This cycle is predicated on reinforcing the governing board's authority and responsibility for providing direction to administration The Implementation Strategy provides a summary of the programs, processes. affiliations and collaborations that the RMCHCS Board of Directors and administration has approved to pursue in meeting these needs. An emphasis has been placed in the coming three years, organized principally around inter-agen cy collaboration, as the key process through which the health of all people in the service region can best be supported and served. Remaining needs are referred to collaborative ne tworks in order to gain the assistance of these healthcare partners in meeting as many nee ds as possible Through these means, the RMCHCS Board and administration can best define a nd prioritize new allocations of effort and resources to meet the significant health needs of McKinley County and the

RMCHCS service region
