Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Humanitarian assistance -- recovery After a crisis, Mercy Corps works to meet people's immediate needs while sparking recovery through tools that help them build a stronger future This year Mercy Corps' climate resilience work tackled the human impacts of climate change-particularly disappearing livelihoods, rising food insecurity, increasing disaster and escalating violence-by empowering communities to adapt, innovate and thrive In addition, we sought to leverage technology, breakthrough solutions and new models for working for maximum social impact around the world We see innovation as critical to achieving the global change we need to create more secure, just and productive communities

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Livelihood Mercy Corps helps build strong local economies by investing in the jobs and markets that serve as the best engines of long-term recovery. Across the globe, especially in countries affected by crises or conflict, Mercy Corps works with individuals and communities to achieve financial inclusion and independence. Particularly in the Middle East and Africa, we connect young people to the resources they need to build demand-driven skills and to land and keep jobs. We blend non-formal education, vocational and soft skills training, apprenticeships, mentoring and access to financial and technological services, as well as address the social and cultural norms which often prevent young people from accessing work opportunities.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Civil society and education Mercy Corps fosters good governance at every level to support development in communities grappling with complex problems, such as conflict, famine, and climate change We also work to bring access to education to women and men of all ages and economic groups to help ensure a better future for all

Form 990, Part III - 4 Program Service Accomplishments (See the Instructions)

Describe the exempt purpose achievements for each of the organization's three largest program services by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and (4) organizations and 4947(a)(1) trusts are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

(Code) (Expenses $ 34,543,968 including grants of $ 9,240,121) (Revenue $ 151,592)

Humanitarian assistance -- relief In the wake of a major disaster, Mercy Corps' first priority is to meet urgent needs, such as food, water, and basic hygiene items. This year Mercy Corps worked alongside local communities to meet the urgent needs of millions of people facing emergencies around the world, from refugees fleeing Syria and Venezuela to communities devastated by natural disasters such as Cyclone Idai in Zimbabwe and Hurricane Dorian in the Bahamas.

(Code) (Expenses $ 23,702,196 including grants of $ 10,098,750) (Revenue $ 165,679)

Health In communities around the world, Mercy Corps improves sustainable access to affordable and nutritious food, promotes healthy and diverse diets, offers health and nutrition services for mothers and children, and strengthens community health centers.

Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 FIN 48 (ASC 740) footnote	The Organization had been granted tax exempt status under Section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and corresponding sections of the state of Washington provisions as a publicly supported organization, which is not a private foundation. U.S. GAAP requires Mercy Corps' management to evaluate tax positions taken by Mercy Corps and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if Mercy Corps has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Management has analyzed tax positions taken by Mercy Corps and has concluded that as of June 30, 2019, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of liability (or asset) or disclosure in the consolidated financial statements. Mercy Corps is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions, however, there are currently no IRS audits for any tax period.

990 Schedule F, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule F, Part I, Line 2 Procedures for monitoring use of grant funds	Sub-grantees are selected either through a request for application process or included in program proposal designed based on the sub-grantees technical merits and cost criteria included in the program description. All sub-recipients are issued a sub-grant agreement which outlines the approved budget, reporting requirements and relevant regulations. Prior to issuing a sub-grant agreement, the frequency of financial and programmatic reporting and level of supporting documentation to submit is determined, depending on the size and sophistication of the sub-grant/sub-recipient and their experience with prime donor funding. The finance department will review the financial reports against the approved budget and regulation to confirm that expenditures are allowable. Generally, for smaller, first time recipients, copies or originals of supporting documentation are submitted and reviewed in-country by the finance department. For mid-size sub-grants familiar with MC and donor requirements, managers will do periodic site visit to audit the supporting documents against the financial reports. For larger sub-grants, mostly other US-based organizations, finance managers review their A-133 audits and retain the right to access their financial records. The financial report must then be reviewed by the department responsible for the programmatic aspects of the sub-recipient to ensure that the sub-recipient is performing the activities per the sub-grant agreement.

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule I, Part I, Line 2 Procedures for monitoring use of grant funds	Sub-grantees are selected either through a request for application process or included in program proposal designed based on the sub-grantees technical merits and cost criteria included in the program description. All sub-recipients are issued a sub-grant agreement which outlines the approved program description, approved budget, reporting requirements and relevant regulations. Prior to issuing a sub-grant agreement, the frequency of financial and programmatic reporting and level of supporting documentation to submit is determined, depending on the size and sophistication of the sub-grant/sub-recipient and their experience with prime donor funding. The finance department will review the financial reports against the approved budget and regulation to confirm that expenditures are allowable. Generally, for smaller, first time recipients, copies or originals of supporting documentation are submitted and reviewed in-country by the finance department. For mid-size sub-grants familiar with MC and donor requirements, managers will do periodic site visit to audit the supporting documents against the financial reports. For larger sub-grants, mostly other US-based organizations, finance managers review their A-133 audits and retain the right to access their financial records. The financial report must then be reviewed by the department responsible for the programmatic aspects of the sup-recipient to ensure that the sub-recipient is performing the activities per the sub-grant.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 5 Diversion of organization assets	In 2018, Mercy Corps received reports of wrong-doing related to cash transfer activities in one of its Sub-Saharan programs. The reports of ineligible beneficiaries, "no-shows" at interventions, large numbers of zero scores for hunger security, and external parties approaching Mercy Corps team members to assist in registering individuals led to suspicion of possible serious and widespread schemes intended to defraud the program. A preliminary assessment was undertaken and confirmed the likely existence of multiple schemes designed to introduce false beneficiaries with the intention of diverting aid away from those in need and to Mercy Corps team members, enumerators, vendors, and various community actors. Mercy Corps suspended all cash transfer activities of the program until new and enhanced controls could be put into place. Mercy Corps notified donors to the impacted program. Mercy Corps also notified local law enforcement. Finally, Mercy Corps notified the larger aid community of the possibility of cash diversion schemes at work. Mercy Corps conducted an extensive investigation led by two Certified Fraud Examiners. The investigation included a thorough review of processes and controls, beneficiary registration, verification, and distribution documents and a broad number of staff and community member interviews. Using these approaches, Mercy Corps determined the number of affected interventions and the extent to which they were affected (number of false or ineligible beneficiaries). Mercy Corps shared its investigation report with the impacted donors. Mercy Corps terminated 18 team members for either involvement in the schemes or failure to report knowledge and properly fulfill their duties for this program. Mercy Corps calculated the total potential loss, including amounts that were distributed to ineligible persons or that were stolen and the associated costs of delivering these programs to be US $639k. Mercy Corps presented its findings to the broader humanitarian community and continues with efforts to help other organizations identify and prevent similar schemes. Mercy Corps also continues to invest in its global systems and controls to attempt to keep pace with constantly evolving schemes such as the ones present in this one program.
