AIM is not required to notify the terminated Member’s upline or downline when a termination occurs.

- 2.3 Effect of Termination. Upon termination for any reason, the Member shall cease to be a Member of the Company, and the Member shall thereafter have no further right to sell or distribute AIM products or participate in or receive any benefits or compensation under the Company’s Member Income Plan.

A Member has no right to unemployment compensation, workmen’s compensation, or any other benefit.

  - b. The retail establishment cannot be a mass merchandiser or franchise whereby the principal owner is not a Company Member.
  - c. AIM Members are independent contractors and may establish their own price for reselling. However, Members and privately owned retail establishments may not advertise products for less than the wholesale prices published by AIM. The Company strongly encourages Members to sell products at the suggested retail prices to customers.

- 3.5 Renewal Fee. The Member shall pay an annual renewal fee payable on the Member’s anniversary date, or accumulate a minimum amount of BVP, as required by your membership title, in personal purchases within the 12 months previous to renewal date. Failure to do so will result in automatic termination of membership and loss of title and downline unless the Company waives the fee.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The following Policies and Procedures have been developed as an addendum to the Member Agreement, the "Agreement" between AIM USA, the "Company" or "AIM", and any applicant accepted by the Company as a Member, the "Member."

STATUS AS A MEMBER

1. Assignment of an ID Number: Upon assignment of a Company ID number, the Member may purchase product/literature at wholesale cost directly from the Company in the quantities indicated on the most current Company price list and order form. The Company reserves the right to change the quantities and/or prices at any time.
2. Acknowledgment of Company Policies and Procedures:
  - a) Upon application to the Company to become a Member, either by phone, Internet, fax, or mail, the Member represents that he/she has read and understood the Agreement and Policies and Procedures and has had an opportunity to ask for verification or explanation from the Company with respect thereto. In no event shall the Company be responsible for, nor shall the Member rely upon, any representations whatsoever not contained in the Agreement or Policies and Procedures. By signing the Member Application or by applying to become a Member over the phone or Internet, the Member agrees to be bound by the terms of the Agreement and Policies and Procedures of the Company as they now exist or as they may in the future be amended.
  - b) The Member recognizes the importance of creating and maintaining the good will of Company customers, and further understands that the Company is a network marketing company whose income plan and success depend upon the efforts of its Members. It is agreed that the Member will use his/her best efforts in servicing Company customers.
3. Tax Issues and Legal Compliance:
  - a) As an independent contractor, the Member agrees to abide by all federal, state, and local laws, as well as rules and regulations relating to the sale, distribution, and advertising of Company products, and to comply with all such laws pertaining to the obtaining of licenses required in order to receive, hold, or sell Company products. The Member shall be solely responsible for the declaration and payment of any and all federal, state, or local taxes or fees that may accrue because of the sales activity engaged in by the Member or the earnings of the Member from such activity.

- b) The Company reserves the right to terminate the rights of the Member for any failure of the Member to comply with any federal, state or local law or pay any federal, state or local tax or fee for which the Member is responsible. If any such federal, state or local tax or fee is not paid and becomes the subject of a governmental levy or lien, the Company may comply with such levy or lien until satisfied and the Member hereby indemnifies and holds the Company harmless from any liability, loss or cost involved with the Company's compliance with such levy or lien including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney fees and litigation costs incurred by the Company.
4. Non-competes: The Member may not promote non-Company products or business opportunities to anyone on Company property, during Company associated meetings or events. - ing product from another AIM Member (regardless of who ends up with the product), in an attempt to qualify themselves or another Member for title promotions, contest incentives, rewards or recognition. If you are building up inventory for a show or event, this is allowed as long as you can provide evidence of the show/event upon request. AIM regularly audits title promotions and contest results to identify instances of bonus buying and reserves the right to investigate and determine if bonus buying or BVP placement has occurred.
6. Stacking Prohibited: The practice of “stacking” Members is strictly prohibited and will result in immediate termination. Stacking Members is defined as establishing memberships in such a manner as to defraud another Member from commissions rightfully due to him/her. This might be done by establishing corporate shells for the sole purpose of receiving additional commissions from the ordering of products. Another form of stacking would be to sign up more than one membership per person. AIM Members in a household must be 18 years or older; only one membership per married couple is allowed. The Company reserves the right in its sole discretion to investigate and determine if and when stacking has occurred.
  7. Misrepresentation of Claims: Public and private consumer protection agencies do not put their seal of approval on compensation plans of direct selling or network marketing organizations. Accordingly, the Member shall be subject to immediate termination for making any representation that the income plan set out in this Agreement or any other aspect of the Company’s business has been approved by any state attorney general or any other public or private agency.
  8. Nondiscrimination Policy: The Company does not discriminate in its acceptance or rejection of applicants because of race, creed, sex, color, or national origin. Applicants must be residents of the United States, Canada, or such other country as the Company, in its sole discretion may approve in writing.
  9. Membership Fees:
    - a) The Member agrees to pay the Company an initial membership fee of $20.00 USD. This fee is payable with each new application. To waive the membership fee, the Member may purchase $100 or more of Company products or an AIM-approved Starter Pack on their first order, or sign up for a three-month-minimum Automatic Monthly Reorder (AMR) of $50 or more.
    - b) The Member also agrees to pay an annual membership renewal fee of $20.00 USD (below Director titles) / $150.00 USD (Director titles and above) on or before the Member’s annual renewal (expiration) date with the Company. A failure to renew within 30 days of the Member’s anniversary (expiration) date will result in the Membership being terminated.
    - c) The Membership receives a free automatic renewal by accumulating the following minimum personal volume (PV) points within the 12 months previous to the annual renewal (expiration) date: For Wholesale Member title, 50 PV points; for Preferred Member and Group Builder titles, 200 PV points; for Director or above titles, 600 PV points. Members may also opt to pay the membership fee if they have not accumulated enough points for free renewal.
  10. Termination: Upon termination of the benefits of membership, the entire downline of the Member will be transferred to the next active upline sponsor. Upon termination, neither the Member nor the Company shall have any further rights or obligations under this Agreement and the Member shall thereafter have no further right to purchase products from the Company or participate in or receive any benefits or compensation under the Company income plan.
  11. Sponsorship Changes: To protect the integrity of the Company income plan and safeguard the hard work of all Members, the Company strongly discourages changes in sponsorship. Maintaining the integrity of sponsorship is critical for the success of every Member and the Company income plan.
    - a) A Member may change their sponsor within 30 days of their membership activation (effective) date. After this period, a change in sponsor is not allowed.
    - b) A change in sponsor more than 30 days after the membership activation date requires a written request from the Member to cancel their membership. Ninety (90) days following membership cancellation, the membership may be reinstated with a new sponsor. Any commissionable title achieved and/or downline accrued prior to membership cancellation is forfeited.
    - c) Sponsorship corrections will be made whenever it is a Company error or when it is evident that a mistake has been made on the original application. Points and commissions will be adjusted when necessary. When commissions need to be adjusted, the correction will appear on the commission statement for the following business month.
  12. Membership Transfers: Although the Member is an independent contractor, the sale, transfer, or assignment of a membership is subject to certain limitations. If the Member wishes to sell, transfer, or assign his/her membership, the following criteria must be met:
    - a) The potential buyer or transferee must be of equivalent title to the selling Member or have been a qualified AIM Member for at least a one-year period prior to the sale. The buyer or transferee must terminate his/her qualified membership simultaneously with the purchase, transfer or assignment of any interest in the new membership. The purchasing Member must submit in writing to the Company his/her request to terminate his/her existing membership, and must state that he/she is terminating the membership in order to purchase another membership.
    - b) Before the sale, transfer or assignment can be finalized and approved by the Company, the selling Member must satisfy any debt obligations with the Company.
    - c) The selling Member must be in good standing and not in violation of any of the terms of the Agreement in order to be eligible to sell, transfer or assign the membership.
    - d) Either the buying or the selling Member must pay a $35.00 USD administration fee.
    - e) The selling Member must notify AIM Customer Service of his/her intent to sell his/her membership. No changes in the line of sponsorship can result from the sale or transfer of a membership.
  13. Joint Membership:
    - a) Joint memberships (or co-applicants) must submit written notice signed by both parties for any changes that occur to the membership, including but not limited to, change of membership name, change of tax identification number or social security number, and adding or deleting an applicant from the membership.
    - b) If co-applicants in a joint membership divorce or wish to dissolve the partnership, the Company must receive a written notice signed by both parties, a certified copy of a divorce decree, or a court order which specifies how future commission checks and bonuses should be paid.
    - c) After such divorce or dissolution is finalized, the party that is removed from the membership may apply for a new membership under the sponsor of their choice.

Once the unused portion is received by the Company, the Member will be given replacement product. Refunds pursuant to the guarantee are limited to one bottle of product per retail purchaser. A Return Authorization Number will be given for the replacement of product to the Member according to #5 listed above.

In cases where bulk orders are made for non-compliant purposes (as determined by AIM in its discretion), sales are final. Some examples of non-compliant purchases that render a sale final are purchases to obtain a title, contest rewards, bonuses, or purchases for resale through an online retailer (e.g. Amazon or eBay).

- a) Members may not make claims about the therapeutic or curative properties of any AIM products except those contained in official AIM trademarked literature.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

- b) Each Member website must contain a disclaimer that clearly states: “Products of The AIM Companies™ have not been evaluated by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease or illness. Individual results may vary.” The disclaimer must be large enough to easily read and be in a visible location on the page. A hyperlink to this disclaimer should not be used.
  - c) Making disease or symptoms of disease claims could result in regulatory involvement leading to an investigation and possible prosecution of those who make such claims. These claims should not reference the product name and not surmise that the product itself will achieve the intended result.
  - d) The only claims that may be made for AIM programs, services or products are those statements contained in official, current company literature, including but not limited to magazines and product data sheets.
  - e) Members are advised to recommend to customers who are under a physician’s care or who are suffering from a chronic disorder that they first consult with their physician before undertaking any changes in diet or beginning any nutritional program.
  - f) Structure/function claims are permissible statements made about a specific ingredient contained within a product and its effect on a function of the body. There must be bona fide scientific substantiation to support these types of claims.
  - g) Personal, positive experiences (testimonies) resulting from the use of AIM products may be shared with others. However, Members may not make therapeutic, medicinal or disease claims about AIM products. What benefits one person may not benefit another. Any testimonials should include the following statement: “Testimonials should not be construed as representing results everybody can achieve.”
  - h) Members are not to include any statements or suggestions on their website that AIM products are reviewed or approved by the FDA or any other state or federal agency.
7. Disease Claims Dos and Don’ts: When creating newsletters, advertisements, testimonials, videos, social media posts, etc. Members need to be mindful of disease claims that could violate FDA and/or FTC regulations. The following Dos and Don’ts can help you avoid some common faults.
- a) Do include wide-ranging non-disease symptoms in your testimonials (i.e., “AIM GinkgoSense has improved my absentmindedness.”)
  - b) Do include healthy functions (i.e., “I have been able to maintain a healthy cardiovascular system since taking AIM BarleyLife.”)
  - c) Do use product endorsements or recommendations (i.e., “I love AIM Just Carrots.”)
  - d) Do recommend AIM for support of overall health support (i.e., “I use BarleyLife every day to have a more healthy diet and support my immune system.”)
  - e) Don’t mention a specific disease in your testimonial. (i.e., “AIM GinkgoSense has improved my Alzheimer’s symptoms.”)
  - f) Don’t reference an unhealthy state (i.e., “Before using AIM my liver was failing and now I’m healthier than ever.”)
  - g) Don’t recommend replacing a drug or therapy for an AIM product. (i.e., “I replaced my 4 ibuprofen with 4 Frame Essentials and don’t have knee pain.”)
  - h) Don’t recommend that an AIM product can improve the function of a drug or therapy. (i.e., “I take ibuprofen daily, but when I added Frame Essentials it helped the ibuprofen work better.”)
8. Income and Business Claims:
- a) No income/earnings claims or representations (i.e., that the business opportunity will result in immediate, fast, or substantial monetary rewards) may be made regarding the AIM Member Income Plan.
  - b) The only claims that may be made for AIM programs, services or products are those contained in official, current company literature. Members may use their personal experience (testimonies). However, the Member must not exaggerate the facts such as time, money, and effort put into building their business. What has been successful for one person may not be successful for another.
9. Income Claims Dos and Don’ts: When creating newsletters, advertisements, testimonials, videos, social media posts, etc. Members need to be mindful of business claims that could violate FTC regulations. The following are helpful Dos and Don’ts.
- a) Do use the following terms in a manner that isn’t misleading: Flexible schedule, Time flexibility, Supplemental income, Work on your own terms, Part-time income (i.e. “Flexible hours and part-time work from your cell phone or home.” “Work alongside your current job to supplement your income.”)
  - b) Do use endorsements or recommendations of the company’s overall products and business (i.e. “We offer not only great products but also an income opportunity and we’d love to have you join us!” “My team and I are part of something so big and it is growing with such momentum...thank you AIM!”)
  - c) Do use inspirational or motivational messages (i.e. “You are capable of anything you are willing to work for!” “Who needs a little extra money for the holidays? Let’s talk!”)
  - d) Do examine any income claims—whether they’re explicit or in the form of a referential storyline—and ask yourself whether they represent the average results for all distributors.
  - e) Do have the Company review your AIM income or lifestyle claims prior to publication to ensure they meet FTC guidelines.
  - f) Don’t make income claims regarding the level of bonuses or income associated with an AIM business without a Company review to ensure they meet FTC guidelines.
  - g) Don’t use the terms Passive income, Residual income, Replacement income, Financial freedom, Time freedom, Recurring income (or terms of similar meaning).
  - h) Don’t encourage people to quit jobs or school, take out loans, or incur debt to pursue an AIM business.
  - i) On social media, don’t re-share, retweet, or “like” items inconsistent with approved guidelines.
  - j) Don’t imply or claim that the opportunity can help pay for things like groceries, children’s activities, medical expenses, car or house payments, or childcare.
  - k) Don’t use images of wealth (yachts, private jets, luxury cars or homes, etc.) to imply an income that few Members can afford solely through the AIM Opportunity/Income Plan.
10. Testimonials: One of the most powerful stories Members can tell is their personal experience with the AIM products or with the AIM business opportunity. However, not all the benefits experienced are appropriate for posting on the Internet. Government agencies establish guidelines and rules of what can and cannot be said. Even an experience verified by a health professional or by other people may not conform to regulatory guidelines. Any testimony on a website is bound by these guidelines.
11. International:
- a) All international websites must also follow these guidelines. In addition, Members must abide by the laws that govern the internet and advertising in their country or jurisdiction.
  - b) Trademark status varies per country. Contact AIM if you are unsure about the status of a trademark (® or ™) in a specific country.

These policies and procedures will be amended and updated from time to time. A current copy of the AIM Member Agreement and Policies and Procedures is always available on the AIM website or upon request from the Company.
