

CAMP BACON

The first Southern Foodways Alliance Day Camp comes to Louisville, Kentucky

SEPTEMBER 16, 2005

CAMP BACON: The first Southern Foodways Alliance Day Camp comes to Louisville, Kentucky, September 16, 2005.

OUR EVENTS SELL OUT QUICKLY AND THIS IS YOUR CHANCE AT EARLY REGISTRATION.

Join us at the historic Brown Hotel for a bacon-obsessed day and night. Dan Philips – Grateful Palate proprietor, Bacon of the Month Club mastermind, the man Food & Wine dubbed Captain Bacon – will be our guest cure-ator, pairing artisanal Kentucky bacons with acclaimed Kentucky chefs for a once-in-a-lifetime dinner in the luxe English Grill.

Featured talents include Joe Castro of the English Grill, John Castro of Winston's, Dean Corbett of Equus, Kathy Cary of Lilly's, Jim Gerhardt of Limestone, Ouita Michel of Holly Hill Inn, Jared Richardson of Wallace Station, and Anoosh Shariat of Park Place.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner is priced at a piddling $75. But wait, there's more. In the spirit of Camp Bacon, we will offer a variety of Friday afternoon and Saturday morning adventures, including self-guided tours of Capriole Farms (among America's best goat cheeses), Highlands Farmers' Market (vibrant local provender), Louisville Stoneware (Hot Brown casserole dishes), Shuckman's Smoked Fish (spoonfish caviar), Muth's Candy Store (home of the Modjeska), Taste of Kentucky (best selection of bbq sauces in three states), and Woodford Reserve Distillery (pot-still bourbon).

For Thursday arrivals, we stand ready to suggest a number of options including dinner at Edward Lee's 610 Magnolia. For Saturday morning, Lynn's Paradise Café is the official SFA breakfast shrine

The special, deeply-discounted SFA room rate is $119. For dinner and room reservations, call (502) 583-1234 ext. 7108 and squeal like a pig. Just kidding. Ask for the Camp Bacon Counselor.

Proceeds from the dinner benefit the SFA Oral History Initiative.

Generous supporters include the Brown Hotel; Estes Public Relations; The Grateful Palate; Kentucky Proud, Kentucky Department of Agriculture; Kentucky Cattlemen's Association; Louisville Convention & Visitors Bureau; Kentucky Pork Producers; and the West Kentucky Grower Co-Op.
