GAME NOTES

Tonight, the Sioux Falls Stampede take on the Sioux City Musketees in the second game of their weekend series. The Herd return to home ice looking to build off a dominant performance in Game 1.

Tonight also marks the biggest birthday celebration of the year for Stomp. Fans can join in on the fun with face painting, a photo booth, balloon creations from Mr. Twister, and appearances from mascot friends. Be sure to stick around for Stomp's infamous cake smash during the second intermission.

Last night, the Stampede opened the series with a 7-1 win over the Musketees. The Herd saw goals from Tobias Ohman, Thomas Holtby, Logan Renkowski (2), Christian Chouha, Ryder Betzold, and Jake Prunty.

The opening period was scoreless, but tensions between the rivals were evident early. Despite the physical play, only two penalties were assessed, and neither team capitalized on the power play.

The game shifted in the second period when Sioux City struck first just 1:26 in. The Herd responded quickly, scoring four goals in the period, including Logan Renkowski's 40th goal of the season. Momentum swung heavily in favor of Sioux Falls, as they controlled both ends of the ice.

The intensity carried into the third period, where the Herd added three more goals to seal the 7-1 victory. The final frame featured increased physicality, with multiple penalties and scrums as the rivalry boiled over.

In net, Linards Feldbergs delivered another strong performance, making a total of 32 saves on 33 shots.

The Herd will look to carry that momentum into tonight's matchup as they aim to sweep the weekend series on home ice.

Following tonight's matchup, the Herd will travel to Omaha for their final road game of the regular season. Sioux Falls will then return to the Denny Sanford Premier Center on March 31 to take on the Des Moines Buccaneers.

Tickets for tonight's game are available at the KELOLAND Box Office or by stopping by the Stampede office at 1111 N. Lake Ave.
