1979 NCAA TOURNAMENT

The magical 1978-79 season of Bobby Cremins and his upstart Appalachian team shook the conventions of those soaked in Southern Conference tradition. Over its early years in the SoCon, ASU's climb finally paid dividends.

The Mountaineers finished an amazing 23-6 after opening the season 7-0. An 11-game unbeaten streak highlighted the season heading into the NCAA tournament. All-league performers Mel Hubbard, Darryl Robinson, Charles Payton and Renaldo Lawrence led the Apps to an 11-3 SoCon record. The team's most-talented player, Robinson averaged a team-high 15.1 points and earned SoCon tournament MVP acclaim.

The 86-83 win over Furman in the tournament finals signified the Bobby Cremins Era had come full circle. Thousands of Mountaineer faithful lined up in front of Varsity Gym to welcome the triumphant team home from Roanoke, Va. With Cremins and his first recruits completing their careers, the bus trip to Boone with the trophy gave the Apps a taste of greatness. Appalachian traveled to the Midwest Regional in Bloomington, Ind. to face LSU. With little fanfare, ASU was ousted by a larger Tiger team in the first round, 71-57.

Talk of the magical 1978-79 season continues to be a season to be remembered.

BOBBY CREMINS

"The trip to the NCAA Tournament with Appalachian in 1979 ranks as one of my fondest memories. We had an experienced team that played smart. Players like Darryl Robinson and Mel Hubbard helped our cause with their leadership on and off the court."

"The game with Furman was close throughout. They were a good team and really battled us. When we returned home, it was amazing to see all the fans."

"As for the tournament game with LSU, I think we had a bit of stage fright. LSU was a good team and we started slowly. We certainly did not have our best game."

"That season really brought a lot of credibility to our program. It was nice to see those guys set a goal, work hard, and achieve it."

DARRYL ROBINSON

"That season was one I will never forget. We were a close knit bunch. We were serious about contending for the Southern Conference crown. Coach Cremins pushed us and we believed in him."

"Our team was ready for Furman. We played a good game and had some luck fall our way. It was very rewarding to cut the nets down after working so hard throughout the season."

Turnovers: ASU 14, LSU 12

2000 NCAA TOURNAMENT

Buzz Peterson emphasized team chemistry. During the 1999-2000 season, Peterson combined four seniors with new faces to produce a 23-9 record, a third-consecutive SoCon North Division title, and ASU's second NCAA Tournament experience.

Achievements were plentiful, a record-tying 23 triumphs, including a string of 11 consecutive wins highlighted by a perfect January (10-0). The 72-60 win at Clemson was the Apps' first against an ACC foe since winning at Duke, Dec. 5, 1981.

In the season's first outing, the legend of Rufus Leach was born with 28 points, including eight treys at Oklahoma State.

Tyson Patterson claimed SoCon regular season and tournament most valuable player honors en route to setting ASU single-season and career records. The 5-7 Patterson saved the day in the SoCon tournament semifinal against Furman. Using everything in his bag of tricks, he amassed 28 points including 12 of ASU's final 14 for the 60-56 win. In the finals, ASU defeated College of Charleston 68-56.

Patterson and Appalachian cut down the nets, and brought another SoCon championship home.

BUZZ PETERSON

"The success of that season was due in part to the tremendous leadership of the seniors. We started the season out 0-2 but the team fought hard and believed in themselves."

"We had been so close in the two previous years and the third time was a charm. I remember the excitement at the arena and coming back up on the mountain. The cars were lined from Banner Elk to the Varsity Gym. To see the players' faces light up is what a coach likes to see most."

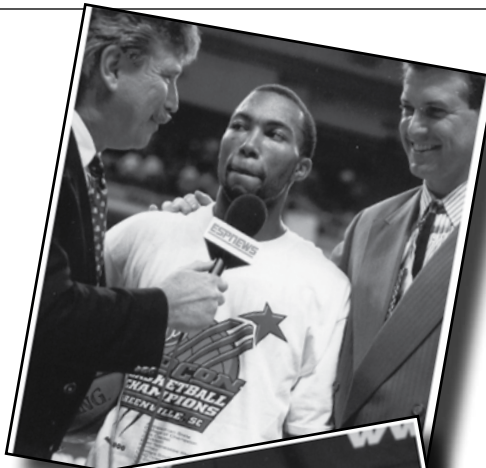

"We were excited about the opportunity to play. That game seemed to take forever to get here. I think we had two weeks to prepare and I tried to get our guys some rest. We played a great Ohio State team."

TYSON PATTERSON

"That season was special for me. The team wanted to win the SoCon title a lot after coming so close the previous two seasons."

"I pushed myself to be a role model for the younger players. Our team had a lot of chemistry. Coach Peterson's intense work ethic prepared us for the season and ultimately helped us win the title."

"The hard work was well worth the experience of winning the Southern Conference championship and playing in the NCAA Tournament."

2006-07 NIT/SAN JUAN SHOOTOUT

The Mountaineers made history in 2006-07 with a school-record 25 victories and the program's third postseason appearance with an NIT berth.

The groundwork for the record-setting season was laid in San Juan, Puerto Rico where the Apps stunned the college basketball world with consecutive victories over ACC Champion Virginia, UCF and Sweet 16 participant Vanderbilt to win the San Juan Shootout championship.

D.J. Thompson, Donte Minter and Nate Cranford earned all-tournament honors after leading the Apps to three of the biggest wins in school history.

The Mountaineers remained on the radar for the rest of the season, climbing to as high as No. 6 in the Mid-Major Top 25 poll and receiving votes in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll. The squad continued to make waves in non-conference action with victories at Sweet 16 participant VCU and a win at Wichita State before a stunned crowd of 10,478 and a national-television audience on ESPN U.

Victories continued to roll in during the stretch run of the season as the team won 11 of its final 12 regular-season games, including an 81-74 victory at Davidson, the Wildcats' only conference loss of the season.

The Apps ended the regular season with a 25-6 record and were one of only 13 teams in the nation that didn't lose consecutive games.

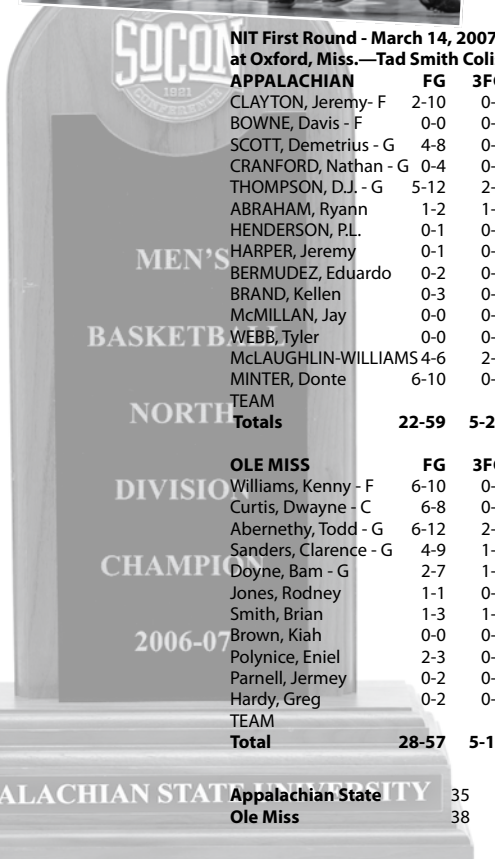

They entered the SoCon tournament as the No. 2 seed and quickly dispatched longtime rival Western Carolina in the quarterfinals, 78-59. The win, ASU's eighth straight and school record 25th win, set up a semifinal showdown with College of Charleston. Unfortunately, the squad would come up just short at the Cougars held on for an 89-87 overtime victory in front of the hometown crowd.

The loss created a tense two weeks for the Mountaineers as they awaited 'Selection Sunday' to learn if they would be included in the NCAA Tournament's field of 65.

In the two weeks leading up to NCAA Selection Show various national media outlets and pundits lobbied for the Apps inclusion into the field.

However, the media surge leading up to Selection Sunday didn't sway the committee as ASU found itself on the other side of the bubble, but were rewarded with an NIT berth.

After not having played in nearly two weeks, the squad traveled to Oxford, Miss. to face Ole Miss in its third postseason appearance in school history. Despite a tightly-contested first half, an Ole Miss run in the second half of the contest dashed any hopes of ASU advancing in the tournament and ended the Mountaineers' record-setting season.
