APP STATE STORYLINES

- Appalachian State and Charlotte, two of the three FBS programs in North Carolina that play in a Group of Five conference, will meet for the first time Saturday. Charlotte, which is less than two hours from Boone, is in its sixth year of football.
- App State's roster has seven players who attended a high school in Charlotte or Mecklenburg County and five more players from a high school in a county adjacent to Mecklenburg. The starters who attended a Mecklenburg high school are Clifton Duck (cornerback, Butler), Corey Sutton (receiver, Mallard Creek) and Jordan Fehr (linebacker, Providence).
- The Charlotte Metro region represents the largest alumni base for Appalachian State.
- App State moves forward from a 45-38 OT loss at No. 9 Penn State, which led 31-17 in the fourth quarter before the Mountaineers scored 21 consecutive points in less than six minutes. New starting quarterback Zac Thomas accounted for three fourth-quarter TDs (one rushing, two on passes to Malik Williams) and had 153 of his 270 passing yards in the fourth quarter.
- Over the last three seasons (2016-18), App State has played two overtime games on the road against Power Five conference teams ranked in the top 10 (Tennessee in 2016, Penn State in 2018) and suffered a one-point loss to another Power Five team (Wake Forest in 2017). The Mountaineers played the eventual national runner-up in 2017 (Georgia) and 2015 (Clemson).
- Over the last 46 games, App State's 36-10 record is tied for sixth place nationally, topped only by Alabama (42-4), Clemson (42-4), Ohio State (41-5), Wisconsin (38-8) and Oklahoma (37-9).

MEDIA POLICIES/INFORMATION

During a standard week with a Saturday game, the Tuesday and Wednesday practices will be open to media members. Those practices often run from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. each day, but times and availability are subject to change.

Media members will be able to interview head coach Scott Satterfield as well as select App State student-athletes and assistant coaches after those practices. Practices not designated as "open to media" will be closed. All practices are closed to the public.

Based on the number of interview requests and in order to make the process as effective and efficient as possible for all parties involved, defensive assistants and student-athletes who play defense will be available along with Satterfield on Tuesday. On Wednesday, offensive assistants and student-athletes who play offense will be available along with Satterfield. The availability of specialists will be determined by specific requests.

Media members are asked to communicate their plans for attendance and submit interview requests to Joey Jones or Bret Strelow before each open practice begins in order to assist App State Athletics in meeting everyone's needs.

Media attending practice are forbidden from reporting (e.g. tweeting, blogging, etc.) on anything until after the post-practice interviews have been conducted. This includes media who leave practice early.

Videographers, photographers and reporters taking videos with their smart phones must shoot individual drills only and use tight shots with no formations revealed.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

For home games, Satterfield will hold his postgame press conference in the Mountaineer Room in the second floor auditorium of the Ricks Athletics Center. Afterward, a press conference with two offensive players and a press conference with two defensive players will be held at the same location.

Those players will be chosen based on press box feedback from media members during the game.

Visiting team media availability will take place outside the visiting locker room, next to the team's Owens Field House entrance.

- In the others receiving votes category of the Amway Coaches Poll, Appalachian State went from unofficially ranking No. 39 based on its preseason point total to being in a tie for No. 35 with nine voting points in the Week 1 poll released Tuesday.
- With just 12 seniors on a roster that's 75.2 percent underclassmen (the nation's second-highest percentage after Illinois' 76.5), App State is using the #10Strong mantra to represent 10 position groups coming together for the good of the team. This spring, head coach Scott Satterfield and assistant A.D. of athletic performance Mike Sirignano formed a panel with one upperclassman from each of the 10 assigned position groups and had weekly discussions about Jon Gordon's "The Energy Bus: 10 Rules to Fuel Your Life, Work, and Team with Positive Energy."
- App State is the only program with a bowl win in each of its first three years after the complete FBS transition. It beat Ohio 31-29 in the 2015 Camellia Bowl, Toledo 31-28 in the 2016 Camellia Bowl and Toledo again 34-0 in the 2017 Dollar General Bowl.
- Since App State became an FBS program in 2015, head coach Scott Satterfield has led the Mountaineers to a 35-6 record against teams that are in a Group of Five conference.
- With 313 yards of total offense at Penn State, Zac Thomas finished 1 yard short of the App State record for a quarterback in his starting debut, as DeAndre Presley had 314 (158 passing, 156 rushing) vs. Western Carolina in 2008. With 270 passing yards, Thomas had the highest total for a first-time App State starter since Joe Burchette threw for 290 vs. Furman in 2000. It was the third-highest total for a first-time starter in program history, as Bake Baker passed for 298 yards against Marshall in 1996, and Taylor Lamb is the only other App State quarterback with at least 300 yards of total offense in his starting debut. He had 303 yards (264 passing) against Southern Miss in 2014.
- Darrynton Evans was named the Sun Belt Conference's Special Teams Player of the Week after scoring on a 100-yard kickoff return against Penn State. It was App State's first kickoff return for a TD since Evans had a 94-yard return in the 2016 Camellia Bowl as a true freshman, and he redshirted in 2017, so he's had a kickoff return for a TD in each of his last two games. He is one of only two underclassmen at the FBS level with at least two career kickoff returns for scores.
- App State's first-time starters on offense and defense were quarterback Zac Thomas, right guard Baer Hunter, receiver Corey Sutton, defensive end Elijah Diarrassouba, outside linebacker Tim Frizzell and inside linebacker Jordan Fehr.
- Redshirt freshman punter Clayton Howell also made his college debut. He had a fourth-quarter punt of 53 yards downed at the 4, helping the Mountaineers score a go-ahead touchdown after it regained possession at the Penn State 42, and a second-quarter punt of 44 yards downed at the 9. He also drew a fair catch on a 46-yard punt and delivered a 49-yard punt.
- Led by its "Legion of Boone" secondary, App State's defense is tied for third nationally with 56 interceptions since the 2015 season began. Still coached by new defensive coordinator Bryan Brown, the Mountaineers' cornerbacks entered 2018 with an FBS-leading 30 picks in that time.
- App State's young, deep receiving corps includes four noteworthy sophomores in Thomas Hennigan (seven TDs as a true freshman), Malik Williams (four starts as a true freshman), Corey Sutton (sat out last year as a Kansas State transfer) and Jalen Virgil (18.2 yards per catch last year) as well as a newcomer in Dominique Heath, a graduate transfer from Kansas State. Williams had two fourth-quarter touchdown catches at Penn State, and Sutton led the team with 87 receiving yards on six catches.
- In the three previous seasons, App State totaled 104 sacks while relying on a defensive line that goes nine or 10 players deep. In that time, the Mountaineers twice ranked in the top 20 nationally in sacks per game and were in the Sun Belt's top three all three seasons. Demetrius Taylor had a first-half sack at Penn State, giving him 4.0 sacks in 13 career games.

SCOTT SATTERFIELD

HEAD COACH, APP STATE 1996
SIXTH SEASON

SCOTT SATTERFIELD is entering his sixth season as Appalachian State's head coach and his 23rd season as a player or coach with the Mountaineers.

Satterfield, 45, has taken the Mountaineers to new heights as they have made the move to the FBS level in historic fashion. They won their final six games to close out their first FBS season in 2014, posted a Sun Belt Conference-record 11 overall wins during the program's first bowl-eligible season in 2015, captured their first Sun Belt championship during a 10-win season in 2016 and won another Sun Belt title during a 2017 season in which a Dollar General Bowl shutout of Toledo capped a nine-win campaign.

With a 27-5 league record in four Sun Belt seasons and a 3-0 record in bowl games, Satterfield has established App State as one of the nation's premier programs. The Mountaineers are 35-6 against Group of Five Conference opponents in their four seasons at the FBS level under Satterfield, including a 31-29 victory against Ohio in the 2015 Camellia Bowl, a 31-28 win over Toledo in the 2016 Camellia Bowl and the 34-0 victory against the Rockets in the 2017 Dollar General Bowl.

Those postseason victories allowed App State to become the first program in FBS history to win bowl games in each of its first three eligible seasons.

Satterfield was named Appalachian State's 20th head coach on Dec. 14, 2012. He became the sixth Appalachian alumnus to serve in the role, joining Graydon Eggers '24 (1928), Francis Hoover

'40 (1945), Press Mull '47 (1951), Bob Broome '40 (1956-58) and Carl Messere '61 (1965-70).

In 17 seasons as an App State player (five seasons from 1991-95) and assistant coach (1998-2008, 2012), he helped lead the Mountaineers to three NCAA Division I FCS national titles and eight conference titles.

As a quarterback at Appalachian, Satterfield made 27 starts from 1992-95 after redshirting as a true freshman in 1991. He earned first-team all-conference recognition as a senior in 1995 after passing for 1,461 yards and rushing for 649 more to help lead the Mountaineers to the only undefeated, untied regular season (11-0) in school history and a 12-1 final record. He graduated from App State with a B.S. in physical education in 1996.

Satterfield spent the first 11 seasons of his professional career in Boone, coaching the Mountaineers' wide receivers (1998), running backs (1999-2002) and quarterbacks (2003-08). He was an integral part of Appalachian's transition from a Power-I offense to a Spread offense in 2004.

With Satterfield serving as the primary play-caller, Appalachian ranked among the nation's top 20 in five major offensive categories (scoring, rushing, passing, passing efficiency and total offense) 17 out of a possible 25 times from 2004-08.

As App State's quarterbacks coach, Satterfield coached both Richie Williams (2003-05) and Armanti Edwards (2006-08) to All-America recognition and was Edwards' mentor for the first of his back-to-back Walter Payton Awards in 2008.

Prior to his return to Appalachian as an assistant head coach, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach on Jerry Moore's staff in 2012, Satterfield spent one season as the passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Toledo (2009) and two as the offensive coordinator at Florida International (2010-11).

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

Mountaineers continue to make an impact in the community.

In June, Appalachian State assistant head coach Mark Ivey was in attendance as the Watauga County Habitat for Humanity dedicated the new home for James and Isabelle Love's family, which includes six children. Members of Appalachian State's football team, including many of Ivey's defensive linemen, helped complete construction on the home in the Greenwood neighborhood by volunteering to work on the first four Saturdays.

Ivey, who had participated previously in a Habitat for Humanity project when he was a high school coach in Florida, sought out volunteers last month after communicating with Allison Jennings, the resource development director of the Watauga County chapter.

There are plans to build 20 homes in the Greenwood neighborhood, and the Love family's home was the fifth one finished.

APP NOTES

The attendance of 105,232 is the third-largest crowd for an App State game. The 2007 upset of Michigan drew 109,218 fans, and App State's visit to Michigan in 2014 drew a crowd of 106,811.

Redshirt freshman Peyton Derrick prolonged a fourth-quarter TD drive by throwing a 22-yard strike to Dominique Heath on a fourth-and-2 play from the 24 with a shaken-up Thomas sidelined for one snap following a 15-yard scramble.

Anthony Flory made a team-high nine tackles. Fellow inside linebacker Jordan Fehr contributed eight tackles as one of six first-time starters for one of the nation's youngest teams, and Demetrius Taylor recorded a first-half sack.

Darrynton Evans' 100-yard kickoff return is only the second one of that maximum length in program history. Keith Nash had a 100-yard return against Lenoir-Rhyne in 1968.

It was App State's first kickoff return for a TD since Evans had a 94-yard return in the 2016 Camellia Bowl. Evans redshirted in 2017, so he had a kickoff return for a touchdown in two straight games. It marked two TDs in a span of three returns, as he had a 14-yard return after his 94-yard return in the bowl game.

App State's last kickoff return of 95 yards or longer occurred when Tony Washington had a 99-yard return for a touchdown against Wofford in 2012.

App State's first-time starters were quarterback Zac Thomas, right guard Baer Hunter, receiver Corey Sutton, defensive end Elijah Diarrassouba, outside linebacker Tim Frizzell and inside linebacker Jordan Fehr.

App State Roars Back, Falls in OT at No. 9 Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — On the field, Penn State players and coaches took turns congratulating Appalachian State players for the effort they had put forth. They received similar words of encouragement from their own coaches.

Fans of the Nittany Lions even gave coach Scott Satterfield and other members of the Mountaineers a standing ovation as they exited the field.

On the 11-year anniversary of Appalachian's memorable upset of a Big Ten opponent, a trip to Happy Valley had plenty of peaks, but No. 9 Penn State pulled out a 45-38 overtime victory in front of 105,232 fans.

Trailing by 14 points with less than eight minutes remaining, App State (0-1) posted three straight touchdowns, moving ahead 38-31 after Jalin Moore scored on a 16-yard touchdown run with 1:47 left.

Penn State quarterback Trace McSorley's 15-yard touchdown pass helped tie the game with 42 seconds left, App State kicker Chandler Staton had enough distance on a 56-yard field goal attempt that sailed wide to the right with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions scored in the first session of overtime on a 4-yard run by Miles Sanders. Right after Appalachian running back Darrynton Evans made a fourth-down conversion with a 1-yard run to the 15, Amani Oruwariye came down with an acrobatic interception in the end zone to end the thriller.

Evans had a 100-yard touchdown on a first-quarter kickoff return to provide a glimpse into the resiliency that the Mountaineers would show, and new starting quarterback Zac Thomas accounted for three fourth-quarter touchdowns before finishing with 313 total yards, including 270 through the air. He completed 25 of his 38 pass attempts.

Sophomore receiver Malik Williams came through with the first two touchdown catches of his career, and Moore rushed for 88 yards.
