ATHLETICS MISSION STATEMENT

Intercollegiate athletics at Austin Peay State University aspires to provide educational and broad-based competitive opportunities at the NCAA Division I level for eligible male and female student athletes. Seeking to maintain a proper balance between athletic and academic programs, the University is committed to preparing students for productive, fulfilling and responsible lives. In addition to developing individual ability and successful programs, those athletic experiences will be instrumental in developing the concepts of teamwork, sportsmanship, loyalty, self-confidence plus the qualities of leadership and discipline. Intercollegiate athletics endeavors to provide positive impressions of University activities to a diversified group of audiences. Austin Peay strives to attract a diverse and talented group of participants, coaches and administrators with a strong commitment to excellence, openness, gender equity and integrity, reflecting a precise adherence to NCAA and conference rules and philosophies. As a result, Austin Peay athletics assumes a major role in assisting University development and fiscal responsibility. The departmental goals and objectives are based upon its mission as it builds on its traditions, confidently looking forward to an exciting and progressive future.

2007 GOVERNORS FOOTBALL

Rick Christophel, Governors Head Football Coach

Rick Christophel became Austin Peay's 17th head coach on March 23rd.

The former Austin Peay quarterback, who has more than 25 seasons experience as a Division I assistant, leads the Governors on their return to the Ohio Valley Conference. He replaced Carroll McCray, who resigned in February.

Christophel returned to his alma mater after spending the previous 11 years at the University of Alabama-Birmingham. He most recently served as the Blazers defensive coordinator in 2006 after serving as the program's defensive line coach in 2005 while also serving as assistant head coach. From 2002-2003, he served as assistant athletics director at UAB.

"I believe Rick brings a variety of experience to this position. He is well versed on both sides of the ball and has administrative experience that made him very appealing as a candidate. Also, he has worked for and with very knowledgeable coaches. In addition, we believe he will be able to identify with the players, coaches, and alumni affiliated with our program."

—Dave Loos, APSU Athletics Director, on the hiring of Rick Christophel.

He previously served as UAB's defensive coordinator during the 2001 season and the results were impressive. The 2001 UAB defense led the country in rushing yards allowed at 57.3 per game, ranked No. 5 nationally in total defense (265.9) and was 16th in scoring defense at 18.7 points given up per contest.

Christophel long was one of the Blazer staff's most versatile coaches. He came to UAB with head coach Watson Brown, now at Tennessee Tech, in January 1995, from Mississippi State, where he was the wide receivers coach for four seasons (1991-94).

From 1996-98, Christophel coached the UAB wide receivers. During that time, he coached junior receiver Darrius Malone, who set the single-season record with an average of 22.1 yards per catch. In 1997, he coached fifth-year senior and former quarterback

Kevin Drake, who became the first offensive player in UAB history to go to the National Football League when he signed a free-agent contract with the Arizona Cardinals (Drake later played on the NFL Europe champion Rhein Fire and was signed by the Buffalo Bills).

In 1999, Christophel worked with the Blazer offensive tackles and tight ends. He has also coached running backs during his time at UAB. He served as director of football operations in 2000 while also coaching the receivers.

Christophel spent a majority of his years in the coaching profession alongside Brown. The two were together for two seasons as assistants at Mississippi State (1991-92); Christophel was an assistant to Brown at Vanderbilt (1986-90), as well as Austin Peay (1979-80), Cincinnati (1983) and Rice (1984-85).

During Christophel's tenure at Mississippi State under Jackie Sherrill, he coached three future NFL receivers -- Olanda Truitt, Willie Harris and Eric Moulds. The Bulldogs participated in three bowl games during that span as well (Liberty Bowl in 1991 and Peach Bowl in 1993 and 1995).

At Vanderbilt, Christophel coached the offensive backs for three years (1986-88). In 1989, he was the defensive coordinator and coached the middle linebackers; a year later, he was the assistant head coach and again worked with the offensive backs.

Christophel coached quarterbacks and running backs at Rice (1984-85) and was the quarterbacks/tight ends coach at Cincinnati in 1983; he was separated from Brown for one season in 1982 when he was the offensive coordinator at Southern Arkansas State University. Christophel coached running backs at APSU during his three seasons there (1979-81).

A 1975 graduate of Austin Peay, Christophel was a four-year starter on the Governors football team; he played safety in his first season and quarterback during his final three years. He played for Jack Bushofsky and twice was selected captain. He was one of three Christophel brothers to play quarterback for the Gobs, joining Rob and Randy. His name still is lasted on several of the top 10 single-season career passing lists.

A native of Reading, Ohio, Christophel and his wife, Connie, have three daughters, Chrissy, Carrie and Sara.

Assistant Coaches

STEVE HAYWOOD — Offensive line/Assistant Head Coach

Steve Haywood, the program's assistant head coach, begins his third season in his second tenure as APSU offensive line coach and is coming off a season that saw his group produce some outstanding numbers.

In fact, his starting offensive line, all recruited as non-scholarship players, produced nearly 4000 yards in total offense, including blocking for a 1,000-yard rusher, 1000-yard receiver and a 2000-yard passing quarterback.

After serving four seasons as APSU's defensive coordinator, he initiated the move back to offensive line in 2005. The transition proved smooth. The former Governors offensive tackle-guard served as offensive line coach when he returned to campus in 2000, after serving one season as offensive line coach at Cumberland College (Williamsburg, Ky.).

In 2001, his career took a dramatic turn when he accepted the challenge as the Gobs defensive coordinator.

In a short period of time, he helped develop the defense into APSU's strength. He also assumed many other duties in his full-time coaching tenure and was named assistant head coach in Summer 2002. He served as director of football operations prior to McCray's hiring.

When Carroll McCray was hired in Winter 2003, he saw Haywood's indispensable attributes and retained him as the program's defensive coordinator.

The Huntingdon, Tenn., native has spent a lot of time in Clarksville. He first came to APSU in 1993 starting at tackle as a freshman. A year later he was shifted to his more natural guard position, where he started on the right side for the next three (1994-96) years. He earned second-team All-OVC honors as sophomore and honorable mention his senior season. He also was voted team captain as a senior.

After completing his eligibility in 1996, he remained at APSU as a student assistant offensive line coach in 1997 and then became graduate assistant a year later, working with the defensive line, giving him a different perspective on line play.

Haywood received his bachelor's degree in health and human performance in 1997 and his master's the following spring.

A two-way lineman at Huntingdon High School, he was a two-time all-district and all-West Tennessee offensive line selection.

He is married to the former Kim Laub, a former Lady Gobs tennis player.

BOB ATECA — Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Bob Ateca is in his third season as offensive coordinator, ascending to that position in 2005. Previously, he served as the Governors quarterbacks and wide receivers coach for two seasons.

In 2006, Ateca led an offense that for the first time in Austin Peay history produced a 1000-yard rusher, 1000-yard receiver and 2000-yard passing quarterback. For the year, Austin Peay narrowly missed 4000 yards in total offense.

After spending nearly 10 head-coaching years at the high school level, Ateca joined the Governors coaching staff in summer 2003 and proved to be a valuable addition to the Gobs staff.

After handling running backs in 2003, he took over as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach in 2004.

Owning a longtime dream to coach at the college level, Ateca came to APSU after spending eight years at Clarksville High School, the last seven as head coach. He directed the Wildcats to a pair of playoff appearances. His 2000 Wildcats finished 10-2 followed by a 7-4 mark in 2001. He continues to teach in the local school system while working with the APSU football program.

Prior to that he coach five years at Houston County, his final two as head coach, including a state playoff appearance.

The Gobs offensive coordinator built an outstanding reputation in the local area with his respective schools, turning both into respectable programs.

In fact, he coached former APSU All-America running back Jay Bailey at Clarksville High School.

Ateca is a Jacksonville, Fla., native where he played linebacker at Forrest High School. He later transferred to Hendersonville where he graduated in 1983.

Ateca attained his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Austin Peay in 1989.

He has his wife, the former Regina Evans, have four children; Lauren, age 17; Anamarie, age 15, Isaac, age 11, and Mirian, age 4.

Assistant Coaches

GRANVILLE EASTMAN — Defensive coordinator/Secondary

Granville Eastman is in his fifth season as an Austin Peay assistant, his third as defensive coordinator.

When Steve Haywood elected to return to the offensive side of the football after the 2004 season, it was only natural that Eastman was elevated. He had served as the right hand to Haywood on the defense while handling the secondary.

Eastman was instrumental in helping a young defense mature in 2006. It was a defense that often times had just one senior on the field with more than a half-dozen first-year freshmen and other first-year performers. In fact, Eastman's secondary started as many as three freshmen a year ago.

In addition, Eastman again will work with the Govs special teams, an area that has displayed marked improvement in his two seasons.

The energetic assistant came to APSU in Spring 2003 from Tiffin (Ohio) University, where he served as a defensive assistant for four seasons.

Eastman was so impressive in the interview process, the Governors delayed spring practice so proper paperwork could be finalized in the hiring process for the Toronto, Canada native.

Eastman was afforded increased responsibility in each of his four years at Tiffin. In 1999, he was hired as secondary coach while also serving as the program's academic advisor and recruiting coordinator. A year later, he was elevated to defensive coordinator in charge of the defensive line while continuing to serve as recruiting coordinator. In 2001, again he served as defensive coordinator while working with the secondary.

During Summer 2002, he served an internship with the NFL's Detroit Lions and he did the same in Summer 2004 with the Arizona Cardinals, learning more about special teams play.

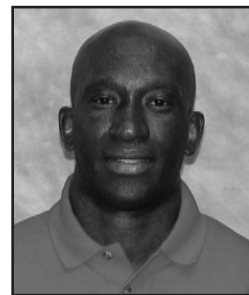

With APSU hosting the Tennessee Titans training camp last summer on campus, Eastman also arranged a third NFL internship with the Nashville-based club, working with former Govs assistant Everett Withers with the secondary.

Eastman was a two-time all-city defensive back at Leacock High School in Toronto before attending Saint Mary's University, Halifax, Canada.

There, he was a three-year letterman as a defensive back. Twice Saint Mary's played in national title games while he was there.

Eastman served one year as a volunteer coach at York University in Toronto before deciding to pursue a coaching career. From 1996-98, he served as graduate assistant at Arkansas State (1995-98) before going to working at Tiffin in 1999.

BRENDAN GREGORY — Defensive line/Strength & Conditioning

Brendan Gregory, a former defensive lineman on two Ohio Valley Conference championship teams at Eastern Kentucky, is in his second season as defensive line coach and strength and conditioning coordinator for Austin Peay's football program.

Gregory came to Austin Peay in the Spring 2006 from Taylor County High School in Perry, Fla., where he served one year as defensive line coach, head strength and conditioning coach and physical education instructor. The new coach had an immediate impact on a young line that saw only one senior play significant time in the game's final weeks.

The Barbourville, Ky., native received both his bachelor's and master's degree from Eastern Kentucky. He played four seasons, from 1989-93, as a Colonels defensive lineman. In addition to being part of two OVC title teams, he also was a member of two EKU football teams that played in the then I-AA playoffs.

Initially after graduating from EKU, Gregory worked as a fitness specialist and personal trainer. He also coached high school in his native Barbourville. In August 1999, he served as a volunteer in the Tampa Bay Buccaneers strength and conditioning program. A year later he spent a month as football operations intern with the Cleveland Browns.

Gregory returned to Eastern Kentucky from August 1999 to January 2001, completing his master's while serving as the program's assistant strength and conditioning coach. From there he served a seven-month internship with the University of Louisville before being hired by the University of Richmond as its assistant strength and conditioning coach from 2001-02.

He moved to the high school level at Christian County High School in August 2002 as its strength and conditioning coach while also coaching running backs. From there, Gregory spent more than a year working with Velocity Sports Performance before returning to high school at Taylor County last August.

Gregory is a certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) and has certification as a USAW Weightlifting Club Coach.

2007 GOVERNORS FOOTBALL

Assistant Coaches

MARCUS GILDERSLEEVE — Receivers/Special Teams

One of the finest Clarksville-area football players in the last 15 years is in his hometown, serving as an assistant football coach.

Marcus Gildersleeve, who starred at Northeast High School before playing his college football at Virginia Tech (1996-98), came to APSU in 2005 as cornerbacks coach after serving two seasons as wide receivers coach at Nebraska-Omaha. He returned to the offense last season, coaching APSU receivers. His impact was evident as he helped develop a young receiving corps, including Lanis Frederick, who set APSU records for receptions and receiving yards in 2006.

After receiving his bachelor's in Family Child Development (2000), he began his coaching career as the wide receivers and specials teams coach at the University of the South, working with his former prep coach, Rick Butler. In fact, while at Sewanee in 2001 and 2002, his specials set an NCAA Division III single-game record by returning three blocked punts for touchdowns.

Gildersleeve entered coaching after a solid career at Virginia Tech, mostly as a wide receiver. The Hokies played in five bowl games while he was there, including the 1999 national championship game.

His best season came in 1997 when he caught 17 passes for 286 yards (16.8 ypc) and three TDs. As a junior, he was involved in two of Tech's three special teams TDs, recovering one blocked punt for a TD and blocking another for a score.

Gildersleeve earned his way to Virginia Tech after a terrific prep career. As a senior at Northeast, he rushed for 1063 yards and 21 TDs, including one game where he rushed seven times for 256 yards and five TDs.

He is married to the former Letisha Turner. They have four children, two daughters, Myla, age 5, and Jalea, age 1, and two sons, Jaylin, 6, and Marcus Jr., 3.

JOSH ROBERTS — Running backs

Josh Roberts is in his second season with the Governors football program. He returned to his hometown a year ago to serve as a graduate assistant, coaching the running backs. He will continue that assignment with the offense this season.

Roberts came to APSU after a strong football career at Lambuth where he played three offensive positions—fullback, tight end and H-back, lettering all four seasons. Known as an outstanding blocking back, his best two seasons came in 2003, when he caught 10 passes for 148 yards, and in 2004, when he hauled in 11 passes for 88 yards.

At Lambuth, Roberts was honored with the Athletic Committee Sportsmanship Award. He also served as a male student athlete representative to Lambuth's athletic committee. Roberts was named to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities.

In addition, he served as a Fellowship of Christian Athletes Huddle Leader.

The Northeast High School graduate played linebacker and tight end for the Eagles, earning all-area, all-region and all-state honors as a senior.

VERNON WRIGHT — Linebackers

Former Gobs linebacker Vernon Wright is in his second season as an assistant with his alma mater. Last season, Wright served as a graduate assistant, coaching the Governors linebackers. He will continue to hold those duties in 2007.

He returned to Austin Peay a year ago after spending a year as high school special education teacher and coach at his alma mater, Kenwood High School.

Wright's work with linebackers is only natural since he played two Governors seasons at the position. As a junior in 2003, Wright was credited with 74 tackles, starting all 11 games on defense. He enjoyed perhaps his best contest against Jacksonville, when he was credited with 11 tackles. He followed the 2004 season with a 41-tackle senior campaign.

Wright attended school for two years at APSU before electing to play the sport in which he enjoyed tremendous success in high school.

At Kenwood, he played linebacker and fullback for Terry Arrington. He was a three-time all-area and all-region linebacker. He earned all-state honors as a senior as well as being named All-Area Defensive Player of the Year

He was team captain as a senior and graduated with honors. He was a member of the school's National Honor Society.

2007 GOVERNORS FOOTBALL

Entering its 60th year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference. In 2003, the OVC extended its geographical footprint into Alabama for the first time, expanding the league's membership to a record 11 institutions with the addition of Jacksonville State University and Samford University.

The OVC's proud past dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles (Turkey) Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950s, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961, Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

Through the past 59 years, 14 teams have won or shared the league's football title, including Jacksonville State (which won back-to-back titles in its first two years in the Conference – 2003 and 2004) and Tennessee-Martin, which captured its first championship in 2006. The list is led by Eastern Kentucky, winner of 18 outright or shared football crowns. Former OVC member Middle Tennessee is next with 11, followed by Tennessee Tech with nine, and Murray State and former member Western Kentucky with eight apiece. Eastern Illinois has claimed four football crowns (including winning the title outright in 2005 and sharing the crown with UT Martin last season) while Jacksonville State, Morehead State Tennessee State and former members Evansville and East Tennessee State have captured two apiece. Austin Peay and former member Youngstown State have one each.

Murray State and Evansville tied for the initial football championship, and the Racers participated in the first-ever bowl game by an OVC team, tying Sul Ross State 21-21 in the 1948 Refrigerator Bowl. From 1948 to 1975, OVC teams played in 15 bowl games, winning eight of them. Eastern Kentucky and Western Kentucky were also participants in the NCAA Division II playoffs in the early and mid 1970s prior to the NCAA's reclassification of football programs into Division I-AA.

The first Division I-AA football playoff was held in 1978 with only four teams, which is the only year through present day that the OVC did not field a playoff representative. In 1979, four of the nation's top teams were invited to the playoffs, and two of them - Eastern Kentucky and Murray State - were from the OVC. Murray dropped its semifinal game to Lehigh, but the Colonels nipped Nevada-Reno in double overtime and claimed the national championship a week later with a 30-7 victory over Lehigh. EKVU was coached by former All-America quarterback Roy Kidd, who was in his 16th year at the helm of his alma mater and who skippered the Colonels to a second national title three years later. Following the 2002 season, Kidd retired after 39 years at EKVU, a one-school tenure unmatched in Division I football. Upon retirement, he ranked sixth all-time among Division I coaches with 315 victories, earning him a spot in the College Football Hall of Fame.

In addition to Kidd, other coaching legends in the OVC include Charles (Bubber) Murphy, who coached at Middle Tennessee from 1947-1968, Western Kentucky's Jimmy Feix (1968-83), Wilburn Tucker (1954-67) and Don Wade (1968-82) of Tennessee Tech, Bill Ferguson (1967-77) of Murray State, Guy Penny (1959-67) of Morehead State and Boots Donnelly (1977-78 at Austin Peay; 1979-1998 at Middle Tennessee).

A sampling of former OVC football stars, some of whom were all-Americans during their collegiate careers before achieving stardom at the professional ranks, include Jim Youngblood and Larry Schreiber (Tennessee Tech), Phil Simms (Morehead State), Virgil Livers and Dale Lindsey (Western Kentucky), Myron Guyton and Wally Chambers (Eastern Kentucky), Ray Oldham (Middle Tennessee) and Tony Romo (Eastern Illinois). EIU also holds the unique distinction of having three alumni serving as current head coaches in the National Football League – Brad Childress (Minnesota Vikings), Sean Payton (New Orleans Saints) and Mike Shanahan (Denver Broncos). Another alum – Jerry Reese, who was both a player and coach at UT Martin – enters his first season as general manager of the New York Giants in 2007.

The 2007 season also marks a return to scholarship football and the Ohio Valley Conference for the Austin Peay State Governors. Following the 1996 season, the Governors dropped scholarship football and competed as both an independent (1997-00, 2006) and as a member of the Pioneer Football League (2001-05). Austin Peay returns to full OVC status in 2007 under the watch of first-year head coach Rick Christophel, who quarterbacked the Gobs from 1971-75.

Through the early years of the league, administrators wrestled with fan behavior due to the close proximity of the conference members and the intense rivalries which developed. Just as it did decades ago, the OVC took the leadership role on what has become a national issue. In 1995, the OVC implemented a first-of-its-kind "Sportsmanship Statement," a policy which promotes principles of fair play, ethical conduct and respect for one's opponent. The statement has become a model for others to follow across the nation, and has answered the challenge of the NCAA Presidents Commission to improve sportsmanship in collegiate athletics.

Additionally, the OVC annually presents the Steve Hamilton Sportsmanship Award, in honor of the former Morehead State student-athlete, coach and athletics director, to a junior or senior student-athlete with significant athletic contributions who best exemplifies the characteristics of sportsmanship and citizenship. Most recently, the Conference has also implemented the OVC Institutional and Team Sportsmanship Awards, which are presented to one institution and 18 sport-specific teams voted by their peers to have best exhibited the standards of sportsmanship and ethical conduct as outlined by the OVC and NCAA.

Over its 58 years, OVC teams have garnered national championships and bowl games in football, along with national team or individual titles in the sports of rifle, cross country, track and golf.

The OVC has also produced several Olympic athletes, including Murray State's Morgan Hicks, who was a member of the 2004 United States Olympic Rifle Team. In addition, some of the greatest players in professional sports were educated at OVC institutions. The list includes former greats such as football's Phil Simms (Morehead State), basketball's Clem Haskins (Western Kentucky) and Bubba Wells (Austin Peay) and two-sport star Steve Hamilton (Morehead State) to present-day standouts like basketball player Trenton Hassell (Austin Peay), football players Tony Romo (Eastern Illinois) and Cortland Finnegan (Samford), baseball players Jamie Walker (Austin Peay) and George Sherrill (Austin Peay) and professional golfer Jeff Sluman (Tennessee Tech).

The playing field is not the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. Six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or earning a spot on the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the league annually presents one institutional academic achievement award, as well as separate team awards in each Conference-sponsored sport.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Now entering its sixth decade of competition, the Ohio Valley Conference has grown significantly from its humble beginnings while increasing the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students. In addition to newest members Jacksonville State University and Samford University, other current league representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Eastern Illinois University, Southeast Missouri State University, Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University and the University of Tennessee at Martin.

Top 10 Records

The individual career and single-season marks on these pages are for the period from 1963 to current when Austin Peay first began play in the Ohio Valley Conference. In statistical rankings, the rounding of percentages and/or averages may indicate ties where none exist. In these cases, the numerical order of the rankings is accurate.
