

Arizona vs. NC State Notes

- Freshman Deandre Ayton scored 16 points in the first half, which matched the highest-scoring half of his young career. Ayton also had 16 points in the second half versus CSU Bakersfield.
- NC State led for over 17 minutes of the first half on Wednesday evening. In the three games prior combined, UA had only trailed for six minutes and eight seconds.
- After scoring just three points in the first half, Allonzo Trier scored 24 in the second half to finish with 27 points. It surpassed his 22 points versus NAU in the first half of the season opener for the junior's highest scoring half of his career.
- Deandre Ayton finished the night with 27 points and 14 rebounds, which were both season/career highs for him. He joined Bob Elliott (1973-74) as the only other Arizona player to record four consecutive double-doubles at any point during their freshman season. Ayton also became the first player since A.J. Bramlett in 1998-99 to begin a season with four straight double-doubles.
- Deandre Ayton shot 12 of 17 at the free throw line against NC State. His 17 attempts on Wednesday night equaled his total attempted in his first three games combined.
 - They were also the most free throw attempts by an Arizona player in a single game since Ryan Anderson shot 17 free throws at Washington State on Feb. 3, 2016.
 - No Arizona player has attempted 20 free throws in a game since Derrick Williams made 22 trips to the charity stripe versus California (1/6/2011).
 - The 17 attempts were also the fifth-most by a UA freshman with Derrick Williams leading that statistical category with 21 free throw attempts versus Wisconsin on Nov. 23, 2009.
- Arizona's record in the month of November under head coach Sean Miller is 45-8 (.849).
