- Last year, Arizona opened the 2021 campaign with a 2-0 win at San Diego State in Moros' debut.
- Tonight's match will be the 10th season opener at home in program history and the first since 2018 vs. Albany (lost, 1-0). The Wildcats are 5-4 in the previous nine season openers at home and have outscored opponents by a 13-7 margin.
- This will also mark the second time that Arizona and Iowa State have met in a season opener in Tucson. On Aug. 29, 2003, the Cyclones defeated UA, 2-1, to open the 2003 season. The following year, Arizona opened the 2014 season in Ames, Iowa and defeated the Cyclones, 1-0.
- The Wildcats roster for 2022 features 18 returning players from a year ago in addition to nine freshmen and two transfers.

LAST TIME OUT

Arizona played two exhibition matches leading up to the season opener, recording a win and a loss. The Wildcats traveled north to take on Northern Arizona first and came away with a 1-0 win. Freshman Sami Baytosh scored the game-winner for the Cats as the game was moved indoors due to lightning in the area at the outdoor field.

In the second exhibition match, Arizona returned home to host San Diego State on Aug. 10. After the match was postponed on the 10th due to lightning, the two teams were able to play on Aug. 11 and it would be the Aztecs that scored two second half goals to record the 2-1 win. Arizona's goal came off the right foot of Megan Chelf.

CAPTAIN CATS

The two captains for Arizona during the 2022 season will be seniors Hope Hisey and Madison Goerlinger. Hisey has been a stalwart in goal for each of her first three seasons while Goerlinger has been a constant in the lineup as well at the midfield position.

BIG SHOES TO FILL

Arizona lost six letterwinners from last year's team, but none of them were bigger than senior goal-scorer Jill Aguilera. She set the Arizona career goals scored mark with 33, topping Mallory Miller (2002-05) by one. Her 81 career points rank second in school history and her 92 games played are the most in school history. In addition to the goal scoring, Aguilera also had 15 assists, which ranks as the fifth-most in UA lore.

ALWAYS HAVE HOPE

In 2021, UA goalkeeper Hope Hisey recorded 102 saves, which ranks as the 10th-most in a season in Arizona history. For her career, she has made 228 saves, the sixth-most in Arizona history. She needs 118 saves this season to pass Jen Weibel (1994-96) total of 345 saves as the UA career leader.

DUAL THREAT

Freshman midfielder Trinity Dorsey received one of the most prestigious honors a high school soccer player can receive when she was named the National High School Scholar Player of the Year by the United Soccer Coaches following her senior season. She was one of 72 high school girls across the country that had at least a 3.75 GPA along with outstanding on-field performances. Dorsey was the Maryland Player of the Year from United Soccer Coaches and won two conference titles.

AMAZING ANGELA

Freshman Angela Baron (Keller, Texas) has not arrived on campus in Tucson yet, but with good reason. She is the starting center back for Colombia at the FIFA U20 Women's World Cup in Costa Rica. Baron played high school soccer at Keller High School but is granted Colombian citizenship because her mom is from the country. Colombia defeated Germany in it's opening match and then came away with draws against New Zealand and Mexico, which was good enough to advance on to the quarterfinals. In the quarters, Colombia will play Brazil on Saturday, Aug. 20. The semifinals will take place on Aug. 25 and the championship match is on Aug. 28.
