- Calder led the team in field goal percentage for the second straight season, becoming the first App player since Ashlen Dewart in 2009-10/2010-11 to accomplish the feat.

ANGEL ELDERKIN

HEAD COACH
FOURTH SEASON

SOUTHERN MAINE, 1999

Angel Elderkin, a longtime assistant coach in the Southeastern Conference, Atlantic Coast Conference and Big East, was named the eighth head coach in Appalachian State University women's basketball history on Oct. 1, 2014.

Elderkin's fifth season was her best on the App State sidelines, where she led the Mountaineers to their most successful season in recent history with a 22-win season en route to the program's second WBI championship.

The Mountaineers reeled off a 10-2 stretch over their last 12 games of the season en route to their 22-14 mark. The 22 victories are the program's most wins since the 2011-12 campaign and the seventh-best win total in a season. Elderkin also led the Black and Gold to one of the top turnarounds in the nation. On top of the 14-win improvement tying a program mark for the largest turnaround in school history, the Apps' jump from eight wins in 2017-18 to 22 victories this season was the fifth-best resurgence in the nation.

Elderkin's squad was dominant on its home floor with a 14-3 record, which is the best mark at home in program history.

In Sun Belt play, App State registered 10 league wins for its highest total since joining the league. The Mountaineers' fifth-place standing was also their best finish in Sun Belt action. App State put forth its deepest run in the Sun Belt Tournament with a pair of victories over Coastal Carolina in the first round and Georgia State in the quarterfinals.

In season four facing a rash of injuries that included a torn ACL to senior and an All-Sun Belt First Team Preseason selection in Madi Story, Elderkin helped the most inexperienced team in the Sun Belt post eight wins including a first round Sun Belt Tournament win over Arkansas State. It was the second straight season the Black and Gold collected a postseason win, which was the first time since the 2012 and 2013 SoCon Tournaments.

The Mountaineers boasted one of the most lethal 3-point shooting attacks as the trio of Tierra Wilson (56), Lainey Gosnell (38) and Nicola Mathews (38) were the third-best 3-point shooting trio in the Sun Belt, while the 167 team trifectas were the second most in a single season in program history.

Elderkin also helped guide the freshmen into one of the top producing classes in the league, as the team's leading scorers were first-year players in Pre Stanley (11.4 ppg) and Wilson (10.5 ppg). In addition, Mathews' first season led to a year where she dished out a team-high 3.1 assists per contest.

Her goal to raise money for the Play4Kay continued as Appalachian raised $1,092 for the Play4Kay Free Throw Challenge, which was first in the Sun Belt and 13th in the nation, while the Mountaineers raised over $3,000.

In coach Elderkin's third season at the helm, she helped App improve its win total by two games despite injuries to key players, and recorded its first-ever Sun Belt Tournament victory over Coastal Carolina in the first round. App won its most road games since the 2013-14 season while doubling its win total in non-conference from the 2015-16 season with six, equaling the most victories since the 2012-13 campaign.

The Mountaineers had three players score in double figures in Madi Story (13.2 ppg), Joi Jones (13.0 ppg) and Q. Murray (10.3 ppg). Story and Jones was the first duo under a coach Elderkin coached team to make an all-conference team, as the tandem were named Third Team All-Sun Belt.

With the help of Elderkin, Jones endured a successful career where she ended up in the record books rank 15th all-time in scoring with 1,178 points and sixth in assists with 299, becoming one of seven players in school history to be ranked in the top 20 in scoring and top 10 in assists. In addition, Jones was named to the WBCA "So you Want to be a Coach" Program.

Coach Elderkin continues to be an advocate in raising funds for the research and awareness in the fight against cancer. In three years at App State, she has helped raise more than $10,000, including over $5,000 combined through the Kay Yow Fund and the American Cancer Society.

In her 12 seasons as an assistant coach, Elderkin's teams have advanced to postseason play 10 times and won five conference championships. As an assistant coach, she has worked directly with two all-Americans and four student-athletes that have gone on to play in the WNBA. She has also been responsible for landing four classes ranked among the nation's top 20 as a recruiting coordinator.

Elderkin helped LSU to the Sweet 16 of the 2014 NCAA Tournament, as the Tigers finished with a 21-13 overall record and ranked No. 24 nationally in the final USA Today women's basketball poll of the 2013-14 season. She also helped LSU to an NCAA Tournament berth as the program's director of video operations in 2012.
