ABOUT ALBANY STATE UNIVERSITY

On November 10, 2015, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia voted unanimously to begin the process of consolidating Albany State University and Darton State College. The new Albany State University unifies the distinction, values, and missions of the two institutions. To lead the two institutions through the complex process of consolidating, the USG appointed Dr. Arthur N. Dunning as the ninth president of Albany State University and Dr. Richard Carvajal as the interim president of Darton State College.

The new Albany State University continues a combined legacy of more than 100 years of providing leadership in southwest Georgia in access to education, academic excellence, social change, and economic impact. A nationally top-ranked HBCU, it serves an increasingly diverse student body and community by offering the region a uniquely comprehensive array of programs, from associate to graduate degrees.

Albany State University History

Inspired by W.E.B. DuBois' writings about the persecutions and triumphs of African Americans living in Georgia and aided in his mission by private and religious organizations, Joseph Winthrop Holley founded the Albany Bible and Manual Training Institute in 1903, and he served as its president for the next 40 years. The new school was successful in its mission to provide religious and basic education, as well as teacher training, to the local black population. In 1917, the state of Georgia began providing financial support to the school, granting it two-year status. Responding to the needs of the state, the school added training in agriculture and was renamed the Georgia Normal and Agricultural College.

With the creation of the Board of Regents in 1932, the institution joined the newly formed University System of Georgia and, in 1943, was granted four-year status. Concentrating on teacher education and home economics, the school was again renamed, this time as Albany State College. Over the next few years, the College added majors in the humanities and social sciences. In 1954, it began adding degrees in secondary education and, in 1961, nursing, adding health care to its tradition of serving the region.

During the middle decades of the 20th century, the people of Albany State extended the college's mission of education and uplift to include political action. In 1961, Albany State College's students joined with Martin Luther King, Jr., the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and other local black organizations in eight months of protest. Despite warnings from the college's president, William Dennis, many students participated in protests, marches, and an organized effort to test the state mandated desegregation of Albany's bus station. As a result of the protests and the arrest of several students, 40 students were expelled from the college. In May of 2011, 50 years after the events, 32 of these students were finally able to attend graduation as Albany State University awarded them honorary degrees.

With the passage of the Higher Education Act of 1965, the federal government formally recognized and began funding historically black colleges and universities, including Albany State College.

In the 1970s, the college worked with other institutions to offer graduate degrees in a variety of education fields and in business administration. In 1981, after increasing the number of faculty with doctorate degrees by more than fifty percent, Albany State College began offering graduate degrees designed and delivered solely by faculty and staff of the college.

In 1994, the school earned its nickname, "unsinkable." Tropical storm Alberto, which had submerged almost a half million acres of Georgia farmland, raised the Flint River to 44 feet, flooding most of the college. Under the leadership of president Billy C. Black, students and faculty banded together to carry on the college's mission, and, with the support of Governor Zell Miller and a $153 million recovery fund, rebuilt, renovated, and expanded the campus. During the rebuilding process, on the strength of the school'sgrowing graduate programs, the Board of Regents in 1996 approved the renaming of the institution: Albany State University. In the following two decades, the university added residence halls, a student center, a stadium, and a fine arts center.

In the 21st century, Albany State University continued to strengthen its mission, attracting nationally renowned scholars and researchers to its faculty and preparing students for leadership in the region and beyond. Between 2000 and 2016, the University produced over 7,500 undergraduates and over 2,700 students with master's and educational specialist degrees and received almost 160 million dollars in research grants.

ABOUT ALBANY STATE UNIVERSITY

Darton State College History

Since its founding in 1963, Darton State College has maintained and built upon its mission of providing access to higher education to potential students with a variety of educational needs from Albany, the region, and beyond.

In 1958, as part of a statewide effort to increase the number of Georgians with college degrees, the Georgia General Assembly passed the Junior College Act in an effort to spur the creation of local, two-year colleges. While the state would provide operating funds, the law stipulated that local authorities would need to finance capital construction. In response to local support, the Dougherty County School Board authorized a bond issue of 1.6 million dollars with which to finance the purchase and development of 100 acres of land and the construction of the first five buildings of the college.

In 1965, the Board of Regents appointed Dr. B. R. Tilley to serve as the college's first president, and he would remain in the office until 1989. When doors officially opened in 1966, 620 students enrolled in the new Albany Junior College.

In the following years, the College grew quickly and succeeded in serving both of its primary student populations. Students transferring to four-year institutions typically saw an increase in their grade point averages, and career-program students required to take a licensing exam consistently earned among the highest pass rates in the state.

In 1987, the USG removed the word junior from all of its two-year institutions. A committee made up of people from the faculty, staff, student body, and community drew upon an Old English word meaning "town by the water" and created the new name, Darton College. Continuity forms an important part of Darton's history. In 1989, the USG appointed Dr. Peter Sireno to replace the retiring Dr. Tilley. Like his predecessor, Dr. Sireno served the institution for more than twenty years, overseeing a period of intense growth.

As part of its mission to serve its students and the region, Darton College committed to expanding its programs in nursing and the health sciences, expanding to 13 programs. As a result of this and other initiatives, such as the expansion of online programs, enrollment more than doubled after the year 2000. In this period, the campus facilities also grew, including the addition of a 427-seat theater and a massive physical education complex, among other improvements.

In the last decades, Darton developed a thriving campus culture. In response to increased enrollment and interest, the College broke ground on two residence halls. Sports played a major role in student life, drawing students from across the country and around the globe. Between 1998 and 2016, Darton won 48 regional and nine national championships.

In its first 50 years, Darton College evolved to support the needs of a community that was changing in its demography and in its values. The college's first class, in 1966, included no minorities. In its last decade as Darton College, approximately half of the more than 6,000 graduates was minority.

In 2012, upon USG approval of the College's first four-year program, in nursing, the institution's name was again changed, to Darton State College.

The New Albany State University

In the years before the two institutions consolidated, the missions of Albany State University and Darton State College had converged.

Both campuses committed to delivering world-class education with investments in faculty and instructional technology. Each reached out to students local and distant through the creation of online learning platforms. Both emphasized nursing and the health sciences in response to the needs of the population of southwest Georgia. Both schools recognized the needs of non-traditional students and responded with expanded programs and flexible course schedules at the graduate, bachelor, associate, and certificate level. And each campus engaged in the community, creating student learning opportunities off campus and building partnerships with schools, local businesses, and national corporations.

The new Albany State University is committed to sustaining the missions of both of its predecessors, honoring its legacy of service to the African American community and providing access to any citizen seeking a path to education, career enhancement, or personal enrichment.

TONY DUCKWORTH
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Tony Duckworth was appointed as Albany State University Director of Athletics/Chief Athletics Administrator on November 18, 2019. He reports directly to ASU's President and is a member of the President's Executive Leadership Team.

Prior to his appointment, Duckworth served as Director of Athletics and Chief Athletics Officer at Northeastern State University (NSU) in Tahlequah, Oklahoma since 2011. He led the final year of transition into the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association. His teams won 13 MIAA championships and had 35 championship or runner-up conference finishes. Duckworth's teams also enjoyed 32 NCAA playoff appearances during his eight and a half year tenure at Northeastern State University.

NSU sponsors ten NCAA Division II sports. Duckworth led multiple capital improvements at NSU, including the $18 million event center, a turf and video board replacement and a stadium sports medicine center and locker room renovation.

A Macon, Georgia native, Duckworth earned a bachelor's degree in financial management from Bob Jones University and a Master of Education degree from the University of Tennessee – Chattanooga. He served on the NCAA Division II National Men's Basketball Committee during 2018-2019.

Duckworth is married to Amy Coverdell of Collinsville, Illinois. The couple has three sons: Chaney, Evan and Cole.

2021 SEASON REVIEW

Rams shut out Mississippi College Choctaws 24-0 in opener

CLINTON, MISS – Coach Gabe Giardina and the ASU Rams were underdogs coming into Robinson-Hale Stadium, but after kickoff it was all Albany State. ASU got on the scoreboard and took a 7-0 lead. Before the half, the Rams would add another touchdown to go into the half at 14-0.

The third quarter would be more of the same as the Golden Rams defense held the Choctaws at bay, while the offense continued to churn behind the running game led by Kam Ward with. Gabe Ballinas nailed a field goal putting ASU ahead 17-0. The Rams would add one more score to put the exclamation point on the win and churn down the clock to secure the win. Defensively the shutout was the result of a solid team defensive effort.

Giardina saw some fight in the ASU team. "The kids played really hard! This was the ultimate team win. We had to play a lot of guys and had a ton of guys to step up and make plays. We are really, really proud of all three phases our team displayed tonight," Giardina said.

Rams down Shorter Hawks in home opener

ALBANY, GA -The Albany State University Golden Rams (2-0, 0-0 SIAC) remained unbeaten in 2021 with a 28-12 win over the Shorter Hawks (1-1, 0-0 GSC) here at the Albany State University Coliseum. ASU wasted no time in the first quarter scoring in three plays going 72-yards to set the tone for the evening. From there they would never trail.

Quarterback Dionte Bonneau led the charge with 362 all-purpose yards, with 84 coming on the ground and 278 coming thru the air, including a 54-yard bomb to Ralph Lovett on the first play from scrimmage. Lovett would lead the team in receiving with 92 yards.

The defense was led by Stephan Pierre who had sic solos and five assists. Antonio Leroy Jr. who had six solo two assists and two sacks also had a stellar game. Coemba Jones had two solo tackles and five assists.

The Hawks were led by quarterback Aeneas Dennis who threw for 177 yards on 17-25 completions, but also threw three interceptions. Jaiden Dollard carried the rushing yards load with 53 yards on 18 attempts.

Senior kicker/punter Gabriel Ballinas averaged 32.5 yards-per-punt, but more importantly kept the Hawks with their backs against the goal line with four punts inside the 20-yard line, with two of them resting inside the five-yard-line.

Marcuis Fulks gained 68 yards, but scored two touchdowns in the process. ASU racked up 435 yards of total offense in the win.

• Dionte Bonneau led the team in both rushing yards (68) and passing yards (242)
• Eight different receivers caught passes from Bonneau in the game
• Rashad Jordan had three kick returns for 85 yards, and three punt returns for 122 all-purpose yards
• ASU racked up 435 yards of total offense, which equates to 7.2 yards-per-play.
• ASU outgained SU on the ground by a margin of 157-68.
• The Golden Rams scored on 4-of05 Red Zone opportunities
• ASU picked off Shorter three times
• The ASU defense got four sacks for a total of 18 yards lost
• The Golden Rams scored in 1:18 in the game and never trailed
Albany State scored two touchdowns rushing and two touchdowns passing

Rams drop rain-drenched and delayed battle to Valdosta State

VALDOSTA, GA – It was two and a half hours late, but the Albany State (2-1, 0-0 SIAC) verses Valdosta State (3-0, 0-0 GSC) game wasn't one of those fancy high-scoring games. Instead it was a gritty battle where the Blazers who had torched their previous two opponents by scoring 50+ points had to earn every yard. In the end the Blazers would prevail 21-3, but ASU hsowed grit in the rain-drenched game an Bazemore-Hyder Stadium.

The Golden Ram defense led the charge. Brandarious Rawling was disruptive with 14 total tackles. He had eight solo tackles and four assists, with two tackles-for loss. Rawlings also had two pass breakups. Josh Hill and Antonio Leroy Jr., each chipped I seven tackles on the night.

Kicker/punter Gabriel Ballinas also had a masterful day. His pinpoint placement on punts kept the Blazers' backs to the end zone. He punted a total of eight times with a long of 51 yards, pinning the blazers inside the 20 on four of those kicks. He added the Golden Rams' only score with a 19-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Coach Gabe Giardina felt some areas performed better than others. " Defensively and in the kicking game we really played well. We had some real bright spots. Offensively we have to be honest with ourselves and know that when you turn the ball over four times and you go 4-for-21 passing it's not going to be good enough to win," he said.

In the end, it was the passing efficiency of the Golden Rams that would undo the powerful offense. ASU gained only 65 yards passing, well below their season average. Quarterback Dionte Bonneau was just 4-21 with two interceptions throwing the soaked balls.

The ASU running backs were the sparks for the offense. Marcuis Fulks gained 96 yards on the day, carrying it 17 times for a 5.5 yards-per-rush average. Kam Ward carried the ball 12 times for 44 yards, while Bonneau gained 44 yards.

"Our team has not lost its resolve. They were great in the locker room and after the game they were very united and positive. The guys did a great job of remaining loose in the locker room in the delay. They understand what persistence is all about and came out ready to play. This team would play at midnight in a parking lot," Giardina said.

Calvin Lewis V led the receiving corps with two catches for 39 yards. Javon Wooten had one long catch for 30 yards, which was mostly run-after-catch as he weaved through the VSU defense.

5 Takeaways from ASU vs VSU game:
• The ASU Golden Rams are resilient after sitting for 2.5 hours before playing the game
• ASU held the VSU Blazer under 50 points for the first time this season
• Gabriel Ballinas has uncanny precision, sticking four punts inside the 20
• Brandarious Rawlings wreaked havoc on the VSU offense
Marcuis Fulks is a gritty runner, gaining nearly 100-yards

Rams rebound by dominating CAU 49-0

ALBANY, GA – The ASU Golden Rams bounced back from last week's tough battle with the Valdosta State Blazers and opened their 2021 SIAC play with a deafening 49-0 win over the Clark-Atlanta Panthers. ASU ran up 460 yards of total offense while holding the Panthers to just 148 for the game.

Broadcasted on ESPN+, the game was never in doubt. The Golden Rams drew first blood at 5:52 of the first quarter as the Golden Rams went 64 yards in 13 plays, capped off with a 5-yard Marcuis Fulks touchdown run. Fulks would get his second touchdown of the night, this time a 7-yard scamper, with 2:45 remaining.

ASU quarterback Dionte Bonneau finished with another solid offensive scoring line. He completed 13-18 for 197 yards and three touchdowns. Albany also saw action from backup quarterbacks Jhaydon Sullivan and Cameron Hopkins.

The one-two punch of Fulks and Kam Ward added to the balanced offensive production. Fulks finished with 75 yards and Ward finished with 73.

Joe Shorter returned to the ASU lineup and led all receivers with 90 yards. Javon Wooten and Tyree Taylor each chipped in 49 yards receiving as the Rams threw passes to. Nine different receivers.

A rematch of the 2019 SIAC championship game will be on hand Oct. 2 as the Golden Rams travel to Fairfield, AL to take on the Miles Bears in a 7:00PM EST start.

Rams slug Miles College 31-3

FAIRFIELD,AL – The Albany State Golden Rams (4-1, 2-0 SIAC) used a balanced attack to upset the defending SIAC football champion Miles Bears (2-3, 1-1 SIAC) at Sloan Alumni Stadium in a lopsided victory. Kam Ward grinded out 112 yards on 13 carries to lead the ASU offense that used all of its weapons thwart MC.

Coach Gabe Giardina was proud of his team's performance. "I am really proud of how our team competed in the game. It was our most physical performance as an entire team to date," he said.

The statistics underscore Giardina's interpretation. The Golden Rams played an unusually controlled brand of football against the Golden Bears, running 38 times while passing just 18 times. Dionte Bonneau passed for 89 yards, including a 38-yard bomb to Rashad Jordan. Bonneau would complete passes to five different Golden Rams.

Defensively, Stephan Pierre continues to dominate. He had 2 tackles in the game with 11 of them being solos. He also managed one tackle-for-loss. In the total team effort 20 Golden Rams got tackles in the game. It is a testament to the team ball played on defense to stifle MC.

Coemba Jones and Josh Hill gathered five tackles each. Antonio Leroy, Malik Barnes, Anthony Harvey and J'Shawn Baker all collected four tackles in the game.

Gabriel Ballinas continued his excellence as a specialist. Ballinas connected on field goals of 49 and 31 yards. He also averaged 44.8 yards-per-punt. He nailed Miles' backs to the endzone with two kicks inside the 20 yard line, while booming two punts over 50 yards.

"It was a true team win with all three phases playing well," Giardina concluded.

Golden Rams defeat Edward Waters Tigers 30-0 on homecoming

ALBANY,GA – The Golden Rams (5-1, 2-0 SIAC) racked up 429 yards of offense to defeat the Edward Waters University Tigers (2-4) for Homecoming at the Albany State University Coliseum. ASU quarterback Dionte Bonneau exploded for 283 yards passing, going 14-23 with three touchdowns.

Joe Shorter had the play of the day in a 66-yard touchdown reception where he weaved his way through the Tiger defense en route to the score. Rashad Jordan added in 56 yards receiving while Kristian Grant added in 55.

The ASU ground game was balanced with Kam Ward gaining 54 yards on the ground and Marcuis Fulks adding in 55.

Stephan Pierre, the reigning SIAC Defensive Player of the Week, continued to dominate today collecting 13 tackles including one tackle-for-loss. Brandarious Rawlings collected seven tackles while Coemba Jones had five.

ASU punter Gabriel Ballinas averaged 44.5 yards on four kicks with two stopping inside the 20-yard-line and a long of 65 yards.

For the Tigers, Devin Bailes gained 54 yards on the ground while De'Shaun Hughes collected 40. EWU quarterback Cedquan Smith went 14-26 for 104 yards passing.

Fulks scored first for the Rams with 10:15 left in the first quarter. Joe Shorter then scored to start the second quarter with a 66-yard bomb from Bonneau. To end the first half, Ballinas hit a 42-yard field goal. Shorter would score again on a 53-yard strike from Bonneau. Bonneau would close out the scoring in the third quarter at 7:23 with a 13-yard touchdown pass to Kristian Grant.

Golden Rams dominate Benedict College for 28-6 win

COLUMBIA, SC – The Albany State Golden Rams started in unfamiliar territory, falling behind 6-0 on the heels of an interception returned 52 yards for a touchdown by Benedict College's Keeven Russ. But, it wouldn't take Gabe Giardina's team long to overcome that adversity. Before the end of the first quarter, the Golden Rams would take the lead in the game at 7-6 behind Tori Sapp's 22-yard touchdown reception from Dionte Bonneau and a Gabriel Ballinas kick.

From there, it was all ASU. ASU opened the third quarter with a Marcuis Fulks touchdown of seven yards extended ASU's lead to 14-6. On the ensuing drive three-time SIAC defensive Player of the Week Stephan Pierre scooped a fumble and rumbled 30 yards for the score. Ballinas' kick made the score 21-6. Fulks would cap the scoring in the fourth quarter with a three yard score for the 28-6 final.

It was not ASU's best offensive output with only 258 yards of total offense, but defensively they held BC to just 161 yards of total offense.

Ballinas made all of his extra points, averages 43.2 yards on each punt and downed three of them inside the opponent's 20-yard line.

Defensively Malik Barnes and Jaree Turner led the Golden Rams with 4 tackles each. James Hawkins had three tackles and Pierre had two.

Golden Rams defense stifles Savannah State in 30-0 win

ALBANY,GA – The Golden Rams (5-1, 2-0 SIAC) racked up 429 yards of offense to defeat the Edward Waters University Tigers (2-4) for Homecoming at the Albany State University Coliseum. ASU quarterback Dionte Bonneau exploded for 283 yards passing, going 14-23 with three touchdowns.

Joe Shorter had the play of the day in a 66-yard touchdown reception where he weaved his way through the Tiger defense en route to the score. Rashad Jordan added in 56 yards receiving while Kristian Grant added in 55.

The ASU ground game was balanced with Kam Ward gaining 54 yards on the ground and Marcuis Fulks adding in 55.

Stephan Pierre, the reigning SIAC Defensive Player of the Week, continued to dominate today collecting 13 tackles including one tackle-for-loss. Brandarious Rawlings collected seven tackles while Coemba Jones had five.

ASU punter Gabriel Ballinas averaged 44.5 yards on four kicks with two stopping inside the 20-yard-line and a long of 65 yards.

For the Tigers, Devin Bailes gained 54 yards on the ground while De'Shaun Hughes collected 40. EWU quarterback Cedquan Smith went 14-26 for 104 yards passing.

Fulks scored first for the Rams with 10:15 left in the first quarter. Joe Shorter then scored to start the second quarter with a 66-yard bomb from Bonneau. To end the first half, Ballinas hit a 42-yard field goal. Shorter would score again on a 53-yard strike from Bonneau. Bonneau would close out the scoring in the third quarter at 7:23 with a 13-yard touchdown pass to Kristian Grant.

Golden Rams survive tough outing at Morehouse 14-10

ATLANTA, GA – The Albany State Golden Rams (8-1, 5-0 SIAC) defeated the Morehouse College Maroon Tigers (3-6, 3-2 SIAC) at Lakewood Stadium. The Golden Rams staved off an effort for MC to pull the upset, causing chaos in the SIC East standings, but it was not to be.

The resilient Golden Rams used 229 yards of total offense efficiently to outpace the Maroon Tigers. Quarterback Dionte Bonneau had his most challenging day, throwing two interceptions that kept Morehouse in the game. He went 16-36 for 141 yards in the air with a 19 yard touchdown to Javon Wooten. Marcuis Fulks powered in the Golden Rams' only other score ultimately winning the game in the fourth quarter.

Fulks carried the load for ASU, gaining 106 tough yards on 19 carries. Bonneau connected to seven different receivers, spreading the passing yardage out over the corps.

Brandarious Rawlings led the ASU defense with 9 tackles of which 8 were solos. James Hawkins and Stephan Pierre had 7 tackles each, while Malik Barnes and Derek Davis had four each.

Morehouse was led by quarterback Michael Sims who went 14-29 with one interception. In the third quarter, he hit Shon Strickland for a 5-yard touchdown to tie the game. Fernando Sdelamora would add a 33-yard field goal in the fourth, but it was enough to catch the Golden Rams

Five keys to victory for ASU:

• The ASU defense allowed only 205 yards of total offense
• The ASU defense limited Morehouse to 11 first downs
• ASU was 8-of-16 on third down conversions
• The ASU defense held MC on two fourth down attempts
Marcuis Fulks kept possession in ASU's favor with 106 yards rushing

Golden Rams smother Fort Valley State in Fountain City Classic

COLUMBUS, GA – The 31st annual Fountain City Classic was pitted as a game against arch rivals Albany State (9-1, 6-0 SIAC) and the Fort Valley State Wildcats (5-5, 2-3 SIAC). It never materialized as a rivalry game. The focus of the ASU Golden Rams was evident from the first kickoff and lasted throughout the game.

Coming off of one of the toughest weeks in school history, with the loss of teammate Adonis Butler, the team was laser focused on honoring him. In the end they would score his number 57 and shut out the Wildcats.

In the fourth quarter, with ASU up 51-0, backup quarterback Jhaydon Sullivan hit a streaking Jaleel Johnson for a 37-yrd touchdown with 7:15 remaining. With the score at 57-0, ASU would kneel and not pass the number of the fallen teammate. The emotions on the ASU sideline and the recognition in the stands by ASU fans as to what had happened was a magic moment that will not be forgotten. The ASU rushed to find Butler's family and present them with the ball that scored the final touchdown.

ASU head coach Gabe Giardina was aware of the possibility, but was at an awkard position at halftime. With the Golden Rams up 38-0, he was pondering how to possibly score 19 points to reach the number. "We knew what we wanted to do to honor Adonis and I applaud our amazing coaching staff for not only keeping our players focused on this tough week, but putting a solid game plan together," Giardina said.

Giardina was soaked with Gatorade at the conclusion fo the game as the players found a way to celebrate the victory.

Dionte Bonneau passed for 103 yards on 7-10 passing. Kam Ward ran for 103 yards on nine carries. Joe Shorter caught two touchdowns for a total of 62 yards.

GABE GIARDINA

HEAD COACH

Gabe Giardina was named the Head Coach at Albany State University on April 27, 2017.

Coach G comes to Albany State after the most successful four year run in the history of Charleston Southern University football. As the offensive Coordinator at Charleston Southern, he was a part of a staff that amassed 35 wins, two Big South Conference championships and two FCS playoff bids over a four year span. The Bucs also gained national prominence by playing in the FCS Kickoff Classic against North Dakota State on ESPN and advanced to the third round of the playoffs vs Jacksonville State which was featured on ESPN2 in 2015.

In 2016, CSU repeated as Big South champion and earned a spot in the FCS Playoffs for the second straight year. Giardina's offense was played an integral as the Bucs led nation in yards per play on offense, averaging over 6.7 yards per play. They led the Big South in yards per rush (6.0) and ranked sixth nationally in rushing offense (266.5). CSU posted six outings of 30+ points and four performances of 500+ yards on offense. Giardina's offensive line was anchored by senior left tackle Erik Austell who wrapped his career with All-American honors from the Associated Press, the American Football Coaches Association and STATS FCS. Austell is currently a member of the Houston Texans

In addition to Austell, four other CSU offensive players earned All-Big South honors. They included offensive Guard Frank Cirone, running back Mike Holloway, who led the nation in yards per carry, and freshman wide receiver Kameron Brown, who topped the country in yards per catch.

Giardina's offense helped power CSU to an outright Big South Conference championship and the program's first-ever FCS playoff bid in 2015, a 10-3 record as well as a top 12 national ranking.

Giardina's offense thrived on an identity of running the football and clock management as CSU capped the season ranked 10th nationally in average time of possession, and 19th in rushing yardage. The trio of Darius Hammond, Mike Holloway and Ben Robinson powered the Bucs' running game. CSU also developed more balance behind second team All-Big South quarterback Austin Brown and a group of receivers led by fellow all-league selection Nathan Perera. CSU scored 30 or more points eight times, and went over the 40-point mark twice.

During the 2014 season, the Bucs led the country in time of possession for a second straight year, and ranked 16th in rushing offense at over 227 yards per game. CSU senior Christian Reyes posted another banner season and became the program's all-time leading rusher in just two seasons. Sophomores Mike Holloway and Ben Robinson enjoyed excellent campaigns as well, with Holloway's 100-plus yard performance in a near upset of Vanderbilt highlighting his year. UAB transfer Austin Brown emerged as the starting quarterback and played well in piloting an offense anchored in part by All-Big South selection, offensive guard, Clayton Truitt.

Giardina oversaw a Charleston Southern offense that helped the Bucs develop an identity during a historic 10-3 season in 2013. CSU led the country with an average time of possession of 33:44 behind a rushing attack which ranked 17th nationally at nearly 233 yards a game. Junior running back Christian Reyes served as the Bucs' workhorse, shattering the school's single-season rushing mark to finish with 1,254 yards. Giardina mentored a mostly young offensive line that gelled quickly and paved the way for Reyes and freshmen Ben Robinson and Holloway to turn in solid campaigns. The offensive line also continued to produce while playing with three different starting quarterbacks, including a pair of freshmen in Danny Croghan III and Kyle Copeland. Croghan went on to earn Big South Offensive Freshman of the Year honors.

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Giardina returned to Charleston Southern after serving as Jamey Chadwell's offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at Delta State in 2012. He was also part of former Bucs' head coach Jay Mills' staff at CSU before leaving following the 2011 season to join Chadwell at DSU.

Offensively, Giardina guided the Statesmen to 377 yards and 24 points per game in 2012. DSU wide receiver Lavon Downs was named first team All-Gulf South and First Team All-Region in last season.

Coach G was the special teams coordinator and running backs coach at Charleston Southern from 2008-11. In his four seasons with the Bucs, CSU blocked six punts, had four kickoff returns for touchdowns and three punt returns TDs. His kickoff coverage teams ranked second in the Big South for three years and in led the Big South in net punting in 2011.

During his time at CSU, he coached six different players to All-Big South honors - Charles James and Antwan Ivey as punt returners, John Pagila as a placekicker, Andrew McKain and Mike Chocholousek as long snappers and Gerald Stephenson, who was an All-American kick returner in 2010. In 2008, Stephenson set an NCAA record for most kickoff return yards in a game, with 255, against Wofford.

In 2010, Giardina was promoted to assistant head coach by Mills. Giardina running back DeMarcus Moon, who is fifth in school history with 1,349 yards rushing and 4.5 yards per carry. In 2009, Giardina's backfield rushed for the second most yards in school history, culminating with a 145-yard performance by Antwan Ivey in a win against Coastal Carolina.

Giardina worked as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Alabama, from '05-'07. In 2005 he worked with special teams and saw return specialist Tyrone Prothro earn All-SEC honors, while kicker Jamie Christensen hit game-winning field goals against Ole Miss, Tennessee, and in the Cotton Bowl against Texas Tech.

In 2006, Giardina transitioned to the offensive line and over the next two seasons, saw linemen Antwan Caldwell and Andre Smith make first team All-SEC. Smith was the sixth overall pick in the 2009 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals, while Caldwell was selected in the third round by the Houston Texans.

During his time at Alabama, Giardina worked for both Mike Shula and current Alabama Head Coach Nick Saban. Giardina also played for the Crimson Tide from 2000 until 2003. He appeared in nine games and earned Academic All-SEC honors in 2003.

Giardina is married to the former Wimberly Edwards from Greenville, Ala. She is a board certified Music Therapist and together they have three sons, Frank Foster, DeAra and Whitt.

ASSISTANT COACHES

ANTHONY KELLY TIGHT ENDS / ALUMNI RELATIONS

Anthony Kelly, a native Mississippian, has served as an assistant coach with the Golden Rams since 1990 and will be entering his 30th season as an assistant coach for the Golden Rams. He currently serves as the Rams' tight ends coach and is the director of alumni relations.

Kelly earned an athletic scholarship in football to attend Albany State College in 1984. In 1984, he was part of the first SIAC Football Championship team at ASC. During his college career, he received numerous awards and recognitions for academic excellence, including the SIAC Student-Athlete Award and was named a research assistant for the Minority Biomedical Research Program in the Department of Natural Science at Albany State.

Kelly earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry with a minor degree in Mathematics from Albany State College in 1990 and a Master's degree in Science Education/Biology from Albany State University in Fall 2002.

In 2013, Kelly was inducted into the Albany State University's Sports Hall of Fame. Active in numerous professional, civic, and social organizations, Kelly is a member of the Prince Hall Masons and the Prince Hall Shriners. He is also a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. and Mount Zion Baptist Church of Albany, Ga.

Kelly is the father of a daughter, Ranetta and the grandfather of Derrinijah, both of Meridian, Mississippi. He is the son of Ms. Paulette Carson and the late James Odell Carson of Meridian, Mississippi.

ADAM HOLLIFIELD OFFENSIVE LINE

Adam Hollifield begins his fourth season as the offensive line coach at Albany State. Hollifield comes to ASU after two seasons as a graduate assistant at Texas State University. At TXST, he worked with both the offensive and defensive lines.

Hollifield went to Texas State after serving three seasons as an offensive line coach at Birmingham Southern College. He went to Birmingham Southern in 2012 after a stint as the defensive line graduate assistant coach at the University of Alabama-Birmingham in 2011 after working as the Blazers' strength and conditioning graduate assistant in 2010-11 and as the offensive line student assistant in 2009.

Hollifield also was the recruiting coordinator at BSC and in charge of the region of South Alabama and the panhandle of Florida.

A native of Hoover, Ala., Hollifield started five games on UAB's offensive line before suffering a season-ending injury in both 2007 and 2008. He earned a scholarship after serving as an offensive lineman on the scout team in 2006 and a walk-on redshirt in 2005. He also was a two-time member of the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll.

SETH STRICKLAND QUARTERBACKS/RECRUITING COORD.

Seth Strickland enters his first year with the Golden Rams football program. Strickland come to ASU after serving as the quarterbacks coach at the IMG Academy in Bradenton, Florida. The 2019 Ascenders finished the year with a 9-1 record and number eight national ranking. In addition to duties as the IMG quarterbacks coach, Strickland provided both large group instruction and individual throwing analysis for skill levels ranging from youth to NFL prep.

Prior to IMG, Strickland reunited with Steve Spurrier while serving as quarterbacks coach for the AAF's Orlando Apollos. The Apollos finished the year with a league best 7-1 record, as quarterback Garrett Gilbert lead the league in yards (2,152) and passer rating (99.1). Gilbert signed a free agent deal with the Cleveland Browns following the conclusion of the season.

Previously, Strickland spent six seasons working at the University of South Carolina under coaches Steve Spurrier and Will Muschamp. During his tenure with the Gamecocks he served in a variety of roles, including interim tight ends coach for the 2018 Outback Bowl victory over Michigan.

Strickland earned a bachelor's degree in political science from South Carolina in 2012. He was a three-year football letterman, a three-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, and a six-time member of the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. A member of the National Football Foundation Hampshire Society, Strickland was the MVP of the inaugural SC College All-Star Bowl game. He is a native of Laurens, South Carolina and a graduate of Laurens District 55 High.

NICK REVEIZ CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/LINEBACKERS

2021 will mark the fourth season for Nick Reveiz at Albany State University. Prior to his arrival at ASU, Reveiz was on the football staff at Carson-Newman University staff for four years (2013-2016). His first three seasons were spent coaching the Eagles backfield and in 2016 he took over the linebacker corps.

Reveiz coached running backs Damian Baker and Andy Hibbett during their respective Harlon Hill trophy campaigns at CNU. Both players were finalists for Division II's Heisman equivalent (Harlon Hill) and were voted consensus All-Americans.

In his first year with the program, Reveiz coached a trio of tailbacks in Brandon Baker, Tyron Douglas and Andy Hibbett, who combined to gain 2,888 yards. Baker and Douglas were both All-South Atlantic Conference selections while Baker would go on to earn All-Region accolades.

A former walk-on and three-time All-SEC Academic selection at the University of Tennessee, Reveiz finished his playing career with the Vols in 2010 with a 108-tackle season, including a career high 14-tackle performance in the Music City Bowl versus the University of North Carolina (Chapel Hill).

Reveiz's father Fuad was a Vols placekicker before an 11-year NFL career in which he kicked 188 field goals and 367 extra points. After spending time as a businessman, Reveiz said he had to jump at the opportunity to get back into the sport with which he grew up.

During his senior year at UT, Reveiz was one of five finalists for the inaugural Burlsworth Trophy, recognizing college football's most outstanding player who began his career as a walk-on. Reveiz was also one of 10 Vols to start every 2010 game and was the first Vols defender to post at least 14 tackles in three different games since Jerod Mayo in 2007.

A two-time team captain for the Vols, Reveiz earned preseason All-SEC honors from the media prior to his senior season. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in Enterprise Management. A standout at Farragut High School, Reveiz was Class 5A All-State in 2005 and Mr. Football finalist at lineman position.

ANTHONY TORIBIO DEFENSIVE LINE

He was signed by the Miami Dolphins as an undrafted free agent in 2008 and also spent time on the practice squad for the Green Bay Packers. Toribio played for the Kansas City Chiefs from 2010 to 2013 where he registered 15 career tackles.

Toribio finished his senior season with 24.5 tackles from his defensive tackle spot...The senior faced double teams for much of the season, and still finished with 11.5 tackles-for-loss. He also had 5.5 sacks and three QB hurries. His most memorable effort came in C-N's win at Dixie State. The Miami, Fla.-native drove a Dixie State offensive guard into the Rebel backfield and wrapped both the Rebels' running back and quarterback at the point of the handoff.

Toribio is married to Kirby Toribio (ne' Ellis).

JALEN BUSH CORNERS

Jalen Bush is an Albany, Ga native. Bush is entering his first season as a defensive analyst along side of coaching the cornerbacks for the Golden Rams. He's also a proud alumnus of the Albany State University. After starting his football career at Savannah State, Bush transferred to Albany State and was a standout cornerback for the Dirty Blue defense from 2017-2019. In 2019, Bush led the Dirty Blue defense to be number two passing defense in the nation. Bush plans to make an even bigger impact on his players with his leadership skills that he accesses and help his players develop discipline in day to day life style not only on the field, but in life as well.

DENARES WAITES CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/SAFTIES

Waites comes to ASU after eight seasons as an assistant coach at Carson-Newman University in Jefferson City, TN. At CNU, he guided the wide receivers for one year before moving to the defensive side to coach the Eagles' secondary for the next seven seasons. He also spent time as the coaching special teams during his tenure in Jefferson City.

Waites was named the AFCA Assistant Coach of the Year for his efforts as C-N's defensive backs and special teams coach in 2013.

Waites' kickoff return units were some of the best the nation had to offer in 2014. Lonnie Williams earned All-America honors as a kick returner. He was one of 10 players in the country with multiple kickoff return TDs and was second in the nation in kick return average.

Waites coached his first All-American in 2013 when Eien Jacob picked off five passes to lead the team. He was second in the SAC with the tally as the transfer garnered All-American honors from Don Hansen's Football Gazette.

He has also been instrumental in the development of TraShaun Ward as a return man. Ward ended his Carson-Newman career as the school record holder for total kickoff return yards, a record he set in his junior season.

Under Waites tutelage in 2012, safety Issac Kinley earned all-South Atlantic Conference honors. Kinley was C-N's third leading tackler. As special teams coach, Waites oversaw a kickoff unit that pinned opponents to their own 25-yard lines. The Eagles' punt coverage teams only allowed four yards a return.

Waites was a former standout safety for Carson-Newman for three seasons. He was a preseason All-SAC selection twice and helped the Eagles record a 10-1 record in 2007. Waites had a five-year career with the Eagles but saw both his final seasons end early with injuries. In 2007 he finished fourth on the team in tackles, led the team in pass break ups with 10, pass defenses with 11 and had one interception.

Coach Waites earned two degrees from Caron-Newman; a B.A. in Middle Grades Education in 2009 and completed his Masters in Curriculum Studies in 2011

Waites and his wife, Maddie, have two sons, James Apollo and Titus and one daughter, Rose.
