VOLLEYBALL MAKES PURPLE COMMUNITY GAME DEBUT VS. KALAMAZOO

The 12th-ranked Hope College volleyball team hosts its first Purple Community Game benefiting Van Andel Institute tonight against Kalamazoo College.

Proceeds from the event support Van Andel Institute's world-renowned biomedical research and science education and help provide internships for Hope students at the organization's facility in Grand Rapids. The Flying Dutch are joining the men's and women's soccer teams this season in that effort.

Hope brings in a 16-5 overall record and a 3-0 MIAA record into the match. The Flying Dutch are coming off a weekend they won two-of-three matches they hosted.

Junior defensive specialist Kate Oates was named the MIAA Volleyball Specialist of the Week on Monday. The exercise science major helped the nationally ranked Flying Dutch win three of four matches last week and stay unbeaten in MIAA play, including a three-set victory at Adrian College on Wednesday. Oates totaled 71 digs, 11 assists and five service aces.

Hope leads the all-time series, 93-25, and has won the past 38 meetings. The streak began two decades ago with a 3-0 victory on October 8, 2005, at Kalamazoo. The Flying Dutch's last loss in the series came in a five-setter on October 28, 2004. The Hornets won both matches last season, including a 3-0 victory on September 1, 2004.

A HOPE WIN WOULD....

give the Flying Dutch their third consecutive 4-0 start in MIAA play and set up a first-place showdown at Albion College on Friday.

be the Orange and Blue's 25th consecutive victory in MIAA regular-season matches, dating back to the 2022 season.

extend the Flying Dutch's winning streak vs. Kalamazoo to 39 matches dating back to the 2005 season.

The article, "Cultivating Competition: Five Scrimmages to Kindle Your Athletes' Competitive Fire," flows from coach Schmidt's twin interests: volleyball and sports psychology.

A 1999 Hope graduate, Schmidt played middle blocker and ranked among the NCAA leaders in several statistical categories. She was voted the most valuable player in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) as both a junior and senior. As a senior, she became the first Hope volleyball player to receive NCAA Division III All-American honors. She was also awarded an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

A kinesiology major, she received departmental recognitions for her academic work. Her senior year she was presented the John Schouten Award as the college's outstanding female student-athlete.
