During the 2011-12 academic year, the Lycoming College athletic department releases a series of 200 key moments in the athletic program's history in conjunction with the school's bicentennial. Below are the moments that have to do with wrestling from the list.

49. Budd Whitehill, 1956-93

When Budd Whitehill came to Lycoming College to start the wrestling program in 1956, he was just two years removed from the end of a career as a minor league pitcher, having moved around from Quebec to Kentucky. He was also just two years removed from an Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference wrestling title at Lock Haven State Teachers' College. For the next 37 years, until his death, Whitehill embodied the image that the athletic department came to embrace. He was tough-as-nails, but someone who cared about creating a family-like environment. He began at the college as an assistant football and head wrestling and baseball coach. He stopped coaching baseball in 1963 to focus on wrestling and football before becoming the head football coach in 1966. He spent five years in the dual role before encouraging the hiring of his assistant, Frank Girardi, to take over the football team. Meanwhile, he truly left his mark on the mat. The numbers themselves are astounding. Among numerous other honors, Whitehill coached 11 teams that finished amongst the NCAA's top 20 and four amongst the top 10. He mentored the school's first MAC champions in 1962 and added nine more titles after that. He coached 38 All-Americans, 66 conference champions and four national champions. His overall career record was 376-172-6 (.683) and he is a member of the Lycoming (1993), Lock Haven Wrestling (1991) and NCAA Wrestling Division III (1991) halls of fame.

54. Harry Romig, 1960

One of the first stars in Budd Whitehill's wrestling team, Harry Romig broke onto the national scene in 1960 when he won the first national title in school history, taking the 137-pound title at the NAIA Championships in Lock Haven, Pa. A part of the first full recruiting class under Whitehill, Romig won two Middle Atlantic Conference titles and two Most Outstanding Wrestler awards at the MACs in his three-year career.

58. First MAC Champions, 1962

Just five years after he had started the program, head coach Budd Whitehill lifted the Warriors to one of the greatest accomplishments in the school's history after helping the Warriors post an 11-1 dual meet record. Facing off against Wilkes, which had won four straight conference titles, along with future Division I programs such as Bucknell and Hofstra, the wrestling team won the first MAC title in school history. Along the way, the team won three individual MAC Championships. The Warriors entered the finals with the title almost in hand, with Bill Kehrig clinching the team title with a fall in his title bout at 137 pounds. The team also got a huge lift from freshman Dave Fortin, who entered the tournament with a 3-2 record, before rolling through four wins to take the 177-pound title at the tournament. Joe Confer wrapped up the Warriors' individual titles, taking it at heavyweight. The team went on to place third at the NAIA National Tournament behind only Bloomsburg and Lock Haven, as Bill Guttermuth won the national title at 147 pounds, Bill Kehrig second at 137 pounds and Confer (heavyweight) and Lee Wolfe (123 pounds) each took fourth. The tournament was the only small college national tournament until the NCAA College Division was established in 1963. Guttermuth was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in its inaugural class of 1986, Kehrig was inducted in 1988, Wolfe in 1989 and Confer in 1991.

59. Bill Kehrig, 1958-62

From the first time he stepped on the mat, mathematics major Bill Kehrig solidified the Warriors' lineup, immediately helping the team to become a contender in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The Rochester, N.Y., native placed at the MAC Championships four times, including posting titles at 130 pounds as a junior and 137 pounds as a senior. He helped the team win the school's first MAC title in 1962 and then went on to earn All-American honors when he took second at the NAIA Championships in Winona, Minn. He went on to the NCAA Championships, falling in the quarterfinals, but he still finished his career with a 42-1-1 dual meet record. A two-time team captain, Kehrig was inducted into the Iruksa Honor Society and he was also the Student Government president. He was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 1988.

64. Ron Knoebel, 1961-65

Forty-five years later, it's hard to say how truly amazing the legacy of Ron Knoebel and his impact on the lives of all those in Central Pennsylvania has been. It's hard to imagine summers without the amusement park his father, Harry, opened in 1926, and it's even harder to imagine what Knoebels Grove would be like if a few of the traditions that have been kept alive at the park, like free admission, had changed during the years that Ron Knoebel has helped run it. However, in 1962, Knoebel was just entering the Warriors' starting lineup as a driven sophomore at 130 pounds after wrestling behind NAIA All-American Lee Wolfe in 1961-62. Knoebel took fourth in the first NCAA College Division Wrestling Tournament at Northern Iowa to earn All-American honors. In 1964, he won his first of two MAC titles after moving up to 137 pounds. As a senior, he earned his second All-American honors with a win in the quarterfinals of the NCAA College Division and then went on to take the 137-pound title with a 6-0 win over Jim Rush of Western State College, becoming the first NCAA champion in school history. He was a member of the first induction class of the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1986.

68. Bill Bachardy, 1966

The only NCAA Division I All-American in school history, Bill Bachardy wrapped up his four-year wrestling career at Lycoming College with one of the best comebacks in school history. An All-American as a junior, Bachardy served as a team captain and leader in 1966, helping the team to an 8-2 record. However, after finishing third at 167 pounds at the MAC Championships when he was pinned in the semifinals, Bachardy refocused for the last month of the season. In the NCAA Small College Championships, the Flemington, N.J., native posted pins in each of his first two matches before he notched a 7-0 win over John Kain of South Dakota. In the finals, he stayed just as dominating, posting a 9-2 win over Eastern Michigan's Bob Ray for the school's fourth national champion. He followed that by earning the No. 6 seed at the NCAA Wrestling Championships at Iowa State, posting a first-round major decision before falling in the quarterfinals. In the consolation bracket, though, he posted a pair of wins to take fourth and earn his third career All-American nod. He was elected into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1987.

83. A Three Peat, 1977-79

While the Lycoming wrestling team had finished as runners-up in the Middle Atlantic Conference three times and only finished lower than fourth once between 1962 and 1977, the team couldn't win its second conference title for Budd Whitehill. In 1977, though, the Warriors, led by conference titles from Harry Shaw at 142 pounds, Craig Savitsky at 150, Randy Parsons at 190 and Dick Driver at heavyweight, posted a dominating 92.5 points to take the title by 29 points over second-place Elizabethtown. Three grapplers went on to earn All-American honors in Savitsky, Shaw and Steve Borja. The next season, the Warriors placed eight of their 10 wrestlers in the top three to become the first program in school history to repeat as school champions, posting 131 points to outdistance second-place Gettysburg, which posted 100 points. Driver won his second title and Ed Allen won the title at 190 pounds. The team completed the trifecta in 1979, as John O'Shea (118), Chris Tremel (167), Tim Spruill (177) and Driver (heavyweight) each won titles to lead the team to the title. Tremel and Spruill each went on to become All-Americans. The three titles helped start one of the greatest periods of prosperity in the history of the program, as Whitehill led the Warriors to nine conference titles in 14 years between 1977 and 1990, as the team never finished worse than second during that period.

90. Phil Stolfi, 1981

Lycoming wrestling had never endured a season like the one it did in 1980-81. Indeed, in the late '70s, the predicament that the Warriors got themselves into in the winter of 1981 would have seemed absurd. After taking three straight Middle Atlantic Conference titles from 1977-79, the team suffered through just the third losing season in the 25 years of the program. Of course, finishing 8-9 was deceiving on a Budd Whitehill-coached team. Besides injuries that hurt the team, the Warriors went 6-2 against Division III opponents. Still, headed into the MAC Championships, the Warriors were decided underdogs, especially after conference favorite Delaware Valley handed the Warriors a 31-14 loss in January. The Warriors didn't back down at the tournament, and with a big lift from under-sized junior Phil Stolfi, the team took its fourth title in five years. After posting a 1-9-1 dual meet record, Stolfi reeled off four straight wins, including beating the defending conference champion, Dave Chute of Elizabethtown, en route to one of the most unlikely of the program's 106 total MAC individual champions. Stolfi, who placed sixth at the conference meet as a sophomore at heavyweight, came back as a senior to post a 20-7 record en route to a third-place finish at 177 pounds at the conference meet.

112. Troy Gardner, 1990

After not finishing higher than fourth at the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships during his first three years with the Warriors, the 167-pound Troy Gardner made one of the greatest leaps in the wrestling program's history as a senior. Gardner placed fifth at the conference championships his first two years and then followed that by taking fourth at 158 pounds as a junior with a 23-6 record. As a senior, though, he was spectacular, as he moved up to 167 pounds and quickly solidified the spot in the lineup, losing just once during the regular season before winning the MAC title. At the NCAA Championships, he was even better, rolling into the finals and outlasting Wisconsin-Stevens Point's Tom Weix, 7-7, 3-2, to help lead the Warriors to a ninth-place finish at the NCAA Division III Championships, the first time since 1977 that the team posted a top 10 finish. Gardner, who finished with an 83-24 career record, was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2000.

115. Roger Crebs, 1993-Pres.

For 23 of the Lycoming College wrestling program's 56 years, Roger Crebs has meant one thing to the program - success. A three-time MAC champion from 1984-86, Crebs was handpicked by the legendary Budd Whitehill when he ended a run of 37 years as head coach in 1993. It may have been one of the best decisions of Whitehill's career. From his first season, when he was recognized as the NCAA Division III Rookie Coach of the Year to the 2010-11 season, when the Warriors wrapped up their 25th straight winning season, Crebs has kept his program in the center of the Division III national spotlight. Along the way, Crebs has picked up 308 dual meet wins, coached 43 conference champions, 19 All-Americans and four national champions. He has also coached all five of the school's 100-match winners. In 2010, Crebs joined Whitehill as the first coaches in NCAA Division III history to win 300 dual meets at the same school. The pair are one of only two in the history of collegiate wrestling to have reached the mark, joining Minnesota's Wally Johnson and J Robinson. Crebs maintains a high level of excellence with his Warrior teams, compiling winning percentages of less than .600 just four times in his first 18 years as coach. The Warriors have recorded six 20-win seasons in the program's history, most recently in 2002-03, all under Crebs' direction. Crebs' 1996-97 squad recorded the program's only undefeated season going 22-0. That year, the Warriors won the MAC and East Regional championships, the Budd Whitehill Division III National Duals title, and took seventh at the NCAA Division III National Championships, where three Warriors earned All-American honors. Crebs was named the NCAA Division III Coach of the Year in 1997. During Crebs' reign, the Warriors have won five conference titles (1994, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2001) and three East Regional crowns. Crebs has never forgotten the great legacy of Whitehill, and he has hosted the Budd Whitehill National Duals since taking over as coach in 1993, bringing in 20 of the top D-III teams in the nation each year to compete in one of the toughest tournaments in the country. The Warriors have won the event twice under Crebs.

120. Kurt Schneck, 1994

From the time he stepped on the Warrior mats for the first time, when he stuck his opponent from King's in just 1:39 to the last time he walked off the mat at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Kurt Schneck left a legacy unmatched. As a freshman, he dropped just two matches, both against Division I opponents, in the regular season and followed that by picking up the first of an unprecedented four MAC titles at 126 pounds. The Pine Grove, Pa., native terrorized nearly all of his MAC competitors, posting five pins and four technical falls during the tournaments in his career. He entered the national spotlight as a sophomore, earning All-American honors with an eighth-place finish at the Division III Championships. Even a broken hand that kept him from the lineup in 1992 and forced him to redshirt didn't slow him down, as he won a MAC title and two matches at nationals before falling short of All-American status as a junior. As a senior, though, Schneck wouldn't be denied - and wrestling with the memory of his old coach, Budd Whitehill, who passed away months before Schneck's appearance at nationals in 1993 - he won the national title with a 12-6 win over Dan Gabrielson of Central. In all, Schneck posted a 96-18-1 career record, earned two All-American honors and earned the MAC's Wrestler of the Year award in 1994. The English major was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2001.

125. Budd Whitehill National Duals, 1995-Pres.

The Division III Wrestling Duals was a unique concept in 1989 when eight of the top teams in the nation came together at Ithaca College for a dual meet tournament. Created at the same time as the NWCA Cliff Keen Duals, the Division III National Duals filled a void in small-college wrestling. The NWCA National Duals only invited the Division III champion to its tournament before the event expanded to include Division II, III and NAIA brackets in 2001. In 1989, though, it was easy to see how vital and exciting a Division III national dual meet tournament could be. It was a quick success and the event jumped from eight teams to 16 teams in 1990, when Lycoming competed in the event for the first time, finishing fifth under head coach Budd Whitehill. Under the guidance of head coach Roger Crebs, Lycoming College made a successful bid to host the event at Lamade Gymnasium in 1995. The two-day event, with four mats laid across the long gym floor, was an immediate fit on the Williamsport campus. In 1996, a coaches' vote after the tournament kept the event in Williamsport and it has never left. At the same coaches' meeting after the 1996 tournament that determined to keep the Duals in Williamsport, it was also decided to change the name to the Budd Whitehill National Duals, in memory of the former Lycoming wrestling coach. In 23 years, the Budd Whitehill National Duals has seen its fair share of memorable moments. The College of New Jersey has won a record nine titles at the event, including six in the 1990s. The University of Wisconsin-La Crosse also had a dominating run at the tournament, winning three crowns in a five-year span from 2000-04. Lycoming has also had its share of success at the event, winning titles in 1997 and 1999 and placing at the event 17 times, second only to TCNJ, which has earned its way onto the platform 22 times.

140. Aaron Fitt, 1997

It was a long road for Aaron Fitt from a 4-3 freshman year to his senior year, when he became the only wrestler in Lycoming College history to earn the NCAA Division III Most Outstanding Wrestler award. Fitt entered the lineup at 142 pounds as a sophomore, posting a 27-3 record and winning the NCAA East Regional. As a junior, the Danville, Pa., native was just as good, posting a 26-4 record and earning his first MAC title, MAC Wrestler of the Year award and All-American nod after finishing sixth at the national tournament. All of that led up to his senior year, when he moved up to 150 pounds and continued his dominance. He rolled to his second MAC title, earning another MAC Wrestler of the Year award and then won his third NCAA East Regional tournament. At the national tournament, he was dominant in his four wins, allowing more than four points in just one match and winning the national title with a 10-2 major decision against Augsburg's Jesse Bakalyar, capping the 26-0 season. Fitt was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2004 and the District 4 Wrestling Hall of Fame in 2009.

141. 1997-99 MAC Champions

There is an old saying that you can tell how successful a college coach will be by his fourth year – the year when his first recruiting class becomes seniors. In 1996-97, Roger Crebs' fourth year as head coach of the Lycoming wrestling team, he certainly set a tone for the success his programs would have. All that team did was win the Budd Whitehill National Duals, rise up to third in the NCAA Division III poll and win the MAC Championship for the first time since Crebs' first season in 1994, doing it on the home mats of Lamade Gym. Not to mention, the Warriors went undefeated, 22-0, for the only time in program history, won the NCAA East Regional, produced a national champion in Aaron Fitt and finished seventh at the NCAA Division III Championships while Crebs was named the NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year. It was only the beginning for the Warriors, though, as Crebs' second and third recruiting classes followed with MAC titles in 1998 and 1999. During that time, the Warriors produced 10 individual champions, including two-time winners Colin McSherry and Jamie Yonkin. At the MAC Championships, the Warriors placed in 28 of 30 weight classes during the three-year run, not to mention the team producing five All-Americans – Fitt, Jerry Boland (fifth, 1997, 118), Matt Yonkin (sixth, 1997, 190), Aaron Harris (sixth, 1998, 142) and Rob Cosper (fourth, 1999, heavyweight). In 1998, the team reached as high as 13th in the national poll, finished first at the NCAA East Regional for the second year in a row and finished 20-4 before taking 26th at the NCAA Championships. To wrap up the run in 1999, the Warriors posted an 18-3 record, won their second Budd Whitehill National Duals and rose as high as third in the national polls before finishing 24th. Even though the run of MAC Championships ended in 2000 by finishing second, the Warriors still managed to put together a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Championships, their highest-ever at an NCAA event and highest at a national event since the 1962 squad took third at the NAIA Championships.

160. Royce Eyer, 2001

From the time that Royce Eyer came to Lycoming College from Orangeville, Pa., it was clear that he would be a solid member of the team willing to help the team in any role possible. After wrestling at 134 pounds and winning 26 matches as a freshman, he won 20 more as a sophomore at 165 pounds. As a junior, he dropped two weight classes back and the results showed, as he went 35-5 win 15 pins, finishing fourth at the NCAA Championships and winning his first MAC title at 149 pounds. As a senior, he was even better at 157 pounds, destroying the school record by winning 46 matches, his second MAC title and becoming the eighth national champion in school history. Eyer entered the national tournament as the No. 2 seed, winning four matches en route to the title match while also posting a pin and a major decision. In the finals, he faced off with Ryan Ciotoli of Ithaca College, who had beaten Eyer twice in the regular season. After falling behind 2-0 in the first period, Eyer had to comeback to win, and he did, using second and third period takedowns for the 4-3 win. More than a decade after his last match, Eyer still holds school records for career (127) and single-season wins (46, 2000-01) and career pins (51). Besides his work on the mat, the marketing and finance major was also an exemplary student, earning NWCA Scholar All-American honors three times and Second Team CoSIDA Academic All-American honors as a senior. He has continued his association with the wrestling program in the decade since he graduated, serving as an assistant coach for head coach Roger Crebs multiple times and he was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2010.

186. Matt Miller, 2008

A strapping 197 pounds, Matt Miller entered his senior year in a battle for the starting slot with Troy Hansen. He finished it as a national champion. The Muncy, Pa., native was an underdog all season long after never finishing higher than third at any NCAA-qualifying tournament in his career. Still, the signs were there that he would break through as a junior, posting a 25-8 record, but an injury at the NCAA Regionals dropped him to fifth-place in the weight class. He entered his senior year with a 57-28 career record, making that final season all the more incredible. Miller, who struggled to stay healthy throughout his career, was even injured during a tournament in mid-December after pinning his first two opponents. He came back healthy after the holiday break and made an immediate impact at the Budd Whitehill Duals, pinning his opponent in the second period to give the Warriors an upset over John Carroll in the first round. He continued his hot stretch, winning three matches at the Empire Collegiate Wrestling Conference Championships to join Chris Dahlheimer as the first Warriors to win ECWC Conference individual champions. He followed that by earning the No. 6 seed at the NCAA Championships and he won a stretch of three decisions to reach the national title match, where he faced defending national champion T.J. Miller of Wartburg. A first period takedown helped the Montgomery High School graduate take control and after riding T.J. Miller through the second period, he stayed on bottom in the third, but never gave up any points to win the ninth national title in program history, 2-0. He was named the ECWC Wrestler of the Year after completing the perfect 20-0 season. Since graduating, Miller has been a continual presence in the wrestling program, serving as both an assistant and volunteer assistant coach.

Matt Yonkin, 1993-97

Matt Yonkin couldn't have come to Lycoming College at a better time for the wrestling program. With Budd Whitehill terminally ill, Roger Crebs had a short period of time to come into Lamade Gym and get his feet wet before having to replace the legend that coached the program for its first 37 years. Recruiting Montoursville's Matt Yonkin helped make that transition for Crebs quite a bit easier. He finished no lower than second in any of his four years at the MAC Championships, including winning the 190-pound title in 1995 and 1997. Stepping into the everyday lineup as a junior, he went 27-4 with eight pins in 1996. As a senior, he was even better, going 37-5 overall with 10 pins before wrapping up his career by finishing sixth at the NCAA Championships to earn All-American honors. At the time, the 37 wins set a school record that stood for five years and is still tied for the third-most in school history. Overall, Yonkin boasted an 85-17 career record, which ranks 14th in the school's career record books. After graduating, Yonkin also served as an assistant with the Warriors for several years before becoming the head coach at Montoursville High School. He was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2005.

Mike Kinsey, 1993-97

Like Matt Yonkin, Mike Kinsey came to Lycoming when the wrestling program was in the midst of its only transitional period in its 56-year history. Also much like Yonkin, the North Huntingdon, Pa., native, made that transition much easier for head coach Roger Crebs. After going 11-9 as a freshman, Kinsey stepped into the starting slot at 158 pounds and stayed there for the next three years, placing at the MAC Championships each year, winning the tournament in 1996, and posting three straight 20-win seasons. As a junior, he was one of three All-Americans for the Warriors, finishing seventh at the NCAA Championships to help the team finish 12th at the meet. As a senior, he was a part of the only undefeated team in school history, helping the team go 22-0 and win the Budd Whitehill Duals, finishing with a career-high 24 wins and eight pins during the season. Kinsey wrapped up his career with a 79-32 career record, helping him earn induction into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2003.

Ron Knoebel was the first NCAA Champion in school history when he won the small college title in 1965.

Matt Yonkin won two MAC titles and he earned All-American honors in 1997. He had an overall record of 85-17.

MAC 100 Century Teams

As part of the MAC 100 celebration, the Middle Atlantic Conference recognized top athletes from conference history, naming student-athletes to Century Teams in each sport from each era. Eras were delineated based on conference membership and sport sponsorship. The number of individuals selected per team varied depending upon the nature of the sport. Century Teams were selected from an online fan vote combined with the MAC Sports Information Directors vote.

Bill Bachardy '66

The only NCAA Division I All-American in school history, Bachardy wrapped up his four-year wrestling career at Lycoming College with one of the best come-backs in school history. An All-American as a junior, Bachardy served as a team captain and leader in 1966, helping the team to an 8-2 record. However, after finishing third at 167 pounds at the MAC Championships when he was pinned in the semifinals, Bachardy refocused for the last month of the season. In the NCAA Small College Championships, the Flemington, N.J., native posted pins in each of his first two matches before he notched a 7-0 win over John Kain of South Dakota. In the finals, he stayed just as dominating, posting a 9-2 win over Eastern Michigan's Bob Ray for the school's fourth national champion. He followed that by earning the No. 6 seed at the NCAA Wrestling Championships at Iowa State, posting a first-round major decision before falling in the quarterfinals. In the consolation bracket, though, he posted a pair of wins to take fourth and earn his third career All-American nod. He was elected into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1987. After Lycoming, Bachardy had a decorated professional career, including serving in the Army in Vietnam before working for 30 years at Applied Equipment Company and DS Correll Company. He retired in 2005 and now has begun to indulge in his lifelong love of fitness. Last summer, he finished a 300-plus mile bike tour along the Erie Canal in New York.

Ron Knoebel '65

Forty-five years later, it's hard to say how truly amazing the legacy of Knoebel and his impact on the lives of all those in Central Pennsylvania has been. It's hard to imagine summers without the amusement park his father, Harry, opened in 1926, and it's even harder to imagine what Knoebels Grove would be like if a few of the traditions that have been kept alive at the park, like free admission, had changed during the years that Ron Knoebel has helped run it. However, in 1962, Knoebel was just entering the Warriors' starting lineup as a driven sophomore at 130 pounds after wrestling behind NAIA All-American Lee Wolfe in 1961-62. Knoebel took fourth in the first NCAA College Division Wrestling Tournament at Northern Iowa to earn All-American honors. In 1964, he won his first of two MAC titles after moving up to 137 pounds. As a senior, he earned his second All-American honors with a win in the quarterfinals of the NCAA College Division and then went on to take the 137-pound title with a 6-0 win over Jim Rush of Western State College, becoming the first NCAA champion in school history. He was a member of the first induction class of the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1986.

Harry Shaw '78

Shaw and Steve Borja helped lead the Warriors to one of the most prosperous periods in the program's history. After finishing third as a team during his freshman year, it was Shaw and Borja's senior class that led the Warriors to their first MAC title in 15 years when the Warriors claimed the first of three straight titles in 1977. While wrestling a perpetually tough schedule filled with Division I competition, the Warriors posted a 48-26 record during their careers. Shaw, a 142-pounder out of Bellefonte, Pa., was one of the catalysts of the Warriors' run to the top of the conference. A four-time MAC placewinner and four-time NCAA qualifier, Shaw finished second at the conference championships as a freshman before taking third as a sophomore. As a junior, he won the 142-pound title, becoming the first Warrior to win a MAC title in three years. He followed that by taking third at the NCAA Division III Championships, becoming the first Warrior in eight years to earn All-American honors. As a senior, the tri-captain again won a MAC title and finished fourth at the NCAA Championships to become just the sixth repeat All-American in school history. He was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1992. Shaw is the owner of Harry's Glass, Inc., in Bellefonte, Pa.

Steve Borja '77

Harry Shaw and Borja helped lead the Warriors to one of the most prosperous periods in the program's history. After finishing third as a team during his freshman year, it was Shaw and Borja's senior class that led the Warriors to their first MAC title in 15 years when the Warriors claimed the first of three straight titles in 1977. While wrestling a perpetually tough schedule filled with Division I competition, the Warriors posted a 48-26 record during their careers. Borja, a 158/67 pounder from Woodlyn, Pa., bloomed late in his career into one of the best grapplers in the Warriors' storied history. After finishing 5-3 in both his freshman and sophomore years and not placing at the MAC Championships, Borja broke through as a junior, when he went 8-5 overall and then won the 167-pound MAC title in 1976. He followed that by dropping down to 158 pounds and placing fourth at the NCAA Division III Championships to earn his first All-American honors, just two weight classes after Shaw earned his honors. As a senior, he went 11-2 in dual meets, finished second at the MAC Tournament and placed fifth at the NCAA Championships, becoming the seventh repeat NCAA All-American at Lycoming. He was selected to the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 1992 with Shaw. Borja served as a Pennsylvania State Police Officer before retiring and he is still an active football and wrestling coach at Garden Spot High School. Borja's son, Steven, wrestled at Virginia Tech before graduating in 2007.

Troy Gardner '90

After not finishing higher than fourth at the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships during his first three years with the Warriors, the 167-pound Gardner made one of the greatest leaps in the wrestling program's history as a senior. Gardner placed fifth at the conference championships his first two years and then followed that by taking fourth at 158 pounds as a junior with a 23-6 record. As a senior, though, he was spectacular, as he moved up to 167 pounds and quickly solidified the spot in the lineup, losing just once during the regular season before winning the MAC title. At the NCAA Championships, he was even better, rolling into the finals and outlasting Wisconsin-Stevens Point's Tom Weix, 7-7, 3-2, to help lead the Warriors to a ninth-place finish at the NCAA Division III Championships, the first time since 1977 that the team posted a top 10 finish. Gardner, who finished with an 83-24 career record, was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2000. Gardner is a UPS Supervisor in Kane, Pa.

Kurt Schneck '94

From the time he stepped on the Warrior mats for the first time, when he stuck his opponent from King's in just 1:39 to the last time he walked off the mat at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Schneck left a legacy unmatched. As a freshman, he dropped just two matches, both against Division I opponents, in the regular season and followed that by picking up the first of an unprecedented four MAC titles at 126 pounds. The Pine Grove, Pa., native terrorized nearly all of his MAC competitors, posting five pins and four technical falls during the tournaments in his career. He entered the national spotlight as a sophomore, earning All-American honors with an eighth-place finish at the Division III Championships. Even a broken hand that kept him from the lineup in 1992 and forced him to redshirt didn't slow him down, as he won a MAC title and two matches at nationals before falling short of All-American status as a junior. As a senior, though, Schneck wouldn't be denied – and wrestling with the memory of his old coach, Budd Whitehill, who passed away months before Schneck's appearance at nationals in 1993 – he won the national title with a 12-6 win over Dan Gabrielson of Central. In all, Schneck posted a 96-18-1 career record, earned two All-American honors and earned the MAC's Wrestler of the Year award in 1994. The English major was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2001.

Aaron Fitt '97

It was a long road for Fitt from a 4-3 freshman year to his senior year, when he became the only wrestler in Lycoming College history to earn the NCAA Division III Most Outstanding Wrestler award. Fitt entered the lineup at 142 pounds as a sophomore, posting a 27-3 record and winning the NCAA East Regional. As a junior, the Danville, Pa., native was just as good, posting a 26-4 record and earning his first MAC title, MAC Wrestler of the Year award and All-American nod after finishing sixth at the national tournament. All of that led up to his senior year, when he moved up to 150 pounds and continued his dominance. He rolled to his second MAC title, earning another MAC Wrestler of the Year award and then won his third NCAA East Regional tournament. At the national tournament, he was dominant in his four wins, allowing more than four points in just one match and winning the national title with a 10-2 major decision against Augsburg's Jesse Bakalyar, capping the 26-0 season. Fitt was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2004 and the District 4 Wrestling Hall of Fame in 2009. He is the Division Director of Accountemps in New Jersey.

Matt Yonkin '97

Yonkin couldn't have come to Lycoming College at a better time for the wrestling program. With Budd Whitehill terminally ill, Roger Crebs had a short period of time to come into Lamade Gym and get his feet wet before having to replace the legend that coached the program for its first 37 years. Recruiting Montoursville's Yonkin helped make that transition for Crebs quite a bit easier. He finished no lower than second in any of his four years at the MAC Championships, including winning the 190-pound title in 1995 and 1997. Stepping into the everyday lineup as a junior, he went 27-4 with eight pins in 1996. As a senior, he was even better, going 37-5 overall with 10 pins before wrapping up his career by finishing sixth at the NCAA Championships to earn All-American honors. At the time, the 37 wins set a school record that stood for five years and is still tied for the third-most in school history. Overall, Yonkin boasted an 85-17 career record, which ranks 14th in the school's career record books. After graduating, Yonkin also served as an assistant with the Warriors for several years before becoming the head coach at Montoursville High School. He was inducted into the College's Athletics Hall of Fame in 2005.

Royce Eyer '01

From the time that Eyer came to Lycoming College from Orangeville, Pa., it was clear that he would be a solid member of the team willing to help the team in any role possible. After wrestling at 134 pounds and winning 26 matches as a freshman, he won 20 more as a sophomore at 165 pounds. As a junior, he dropped two weight classes back and the results showed, as he went 35-5 win 15 pins, finishing fourth at the NCAA Championships and winning his first MAC title at 149 pounds. As a senior, he was even better at 157 pounds, destroying the school record by winning 46 matches, his second MAC title and becoming the eighth national champion in school history. Eyer entered the national tournament as the No. 2 seed, winning four matches en route to the title match while also posting a pin and a major decision. In the finals, he faced off with Ryan Ciotoli of Ithaca College, who had beaten Eyer twice in the regular season. After falling behind 2-0 in the first period, Eyer had to comeback to win, and he did, using second and third period takedowns for the 4-3 win. More than a decade after his last match, Eyer still holds school records for career (127) and single-season wins (46, 2000-01) and career pins (51). Besides his work on the mat, the marketing and finance major was also an exemplary student, earning NWCA Scholar All-American honors three times and Second Team CoSIDA Academic All-American honors as a senior. He has continued his association with the wrestling program in the decade since he graduated, serving as an assistant coach for head coach Roger Crebs multiple times and he was inducted into the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame in 2010. Eyer is an Operations Manager with the Calypso Media Group in Williamsport.

Conference Placewinners

Lycoming was a member of the MAC from 1956 to 2006, when the conference discontinued sponsoring the sport. The Warriors joined the Empire Collegiate Wrestling Conference in 2007-08 and left the conference after the 2015-16 season. The team rejoined the MAC in 2013-14 when the sport was brought back by the conference.

The 1962 Warriors were the first MAC champions in school history.

Budd Whitehill
1956-93 • 374-175-7

When Budd Whitehill came to Lycoming College to start the wrestling program in 1956, he was just two years removed from the end of a career as a minor league pitcher. For the next 37 years, until his death, Whitehill truly left his mark on the mat. The numbers themselves are astounding. Among numerous other honors, Whitehill coached 11 teams that finished amongst the NCAA's top 20 and four amongst the top 10. He mentored the school's first MAC champions in 1962 and added nine more titles after that. He coached 38 All-Americans, 66 conference champions and four national champions. His overall career record was 376-172-6 (.683) and he is a member of the Lycoming (1993), Lock Haven Wrestling (1991), NCAA Wrestling Division III (1991) and Middle Atlantic Conference (2012) halls of fame.

Roger Crebs '87 1993-Pres. • 381-128-2

A three-time MAC champion from 1984-86, Roger Crebs was hand-picked by Budd Whitehill when he ended a run of 37 years as head coach in 1993. From his first season, when he was recognized as the NCAA Division III Rookie Coach of the Year to the 2010-11 season, when the Warriors wrapped up their 25th straight winning season, Crebs has kept his program in the center of the Division III national spotlight. Along the way, Crebs has picked up 381 dual meet wins, coached 49 conference champions, 24 All-Americans and four national champions. He has also coached all seven of the school's 100-match winners. In 2010, Crebs joined Whitehill as the first coaches in NCAA Division III history to win 300 dual meets at the same school. He was also named the NCAA Division III Coach of the Year in 1997. During Crebs' reign, the Warriors have won five conference titles and three NCAA Regional crowns.

Lamade Gym

Lycoming's Home since 1980

The centerpiece of the Recreation Center Complex, the 2,000-seat Lamade Gymnasium serves as home to the Warriors' basketball, volleyball and wrestling programs. Opened in 1980, the large wooden-floor allows for two full volleyball courts and plenty of additional basketball practice space, while the facility comes complete with locker rooms for each team. Lamade Gym and its close-to-the-action feel gives fans an intimate setting to help create one of the best game-day atmospheres in the region.

Named after George R. Lamade, the publisher of the national weekly magazine celebrating rural America, GRIT, the building has produced many headline-inducing moments, including serving as the host of seven volleyball conference title teams, 11 wrestling conference title teams, two men's basketball conference title teams and one women's basketball conference title team.

The gym also serves as host to the Budd Whitehill National Duals each winter, as the Warrior wrestling program host a 20-team, two-day tournament on four mats amongst 20 of the finest teams in Division III.

Keiper Recreation Center

The $8.2-million Keiper Recreation Center was completed in 2003. The facility includes four multi-purpose courts, a 1/8-mile suspended running track, and both a lower-level plate loaded and free-weight section and an upper-level cardiovascular fitness center. Also included in the facility is a classroom, locker and shower facilities, a lounge area and the Lycoming College Athletics Hall of Fame. The Recreation Center is the home of many special campus events, including concerts and the kick-off to the Bicentennial Celebration.

Budd Whitehill Wrestling Room

The Budd Whitehill Wrestling Room is the daily practice facility for the Lycoming wrestling team. Conveniently located adjacent to the team's locker rooms, the wrestling room is an area set aside exclusively for the wrestling team to practice in throughout the year. The wrestling room, located in the basement of Lamade Gymnasium, was dedicated in honor of Coach Budd Whitehill, who won 373 matches in 37 years as Lycoming's wrestling coach from 1956-93, in the early 1990s as Whitehill fought a battle with cancer.
