

NORTH PARK UNIVERSITY BASEBALL ALMANAC

2023

Foreword

This almanac is a compilation of all available statistics for the North Park baseball team from the 1916 season through the 2023 season. It is broken down into the following sections:

- Section 1 Seasons: wins, losses, post-season results, honors
- Section 2 Teams by Year: results (overall and conference, when applicable), rosters, team photo (if available), statistics (if available)
- Section 3 Coaches: regular-season, conference, and post-season results
- Section 4 Players: season and career statistics
- Section 5 Record book: individual (season, career), game, and team

There are many gaps in the contents of this almanac. For seasons prior to 1960, there were very few individual or team statistics; even through the early 1960s, records were not kept for many players and statistical categories. One big gap is the absence of any pitching statistics for the 1992 season, which certainly impacts the career statistics and record books for many players. The single-game records are available only as far back as 2004, so further research and discovery of missing score books would be needed in order to address that limitation. As such, this almanac should be considered a work in progress that will be updated periodically. I welcome comments, corrections, and especially new statistics!

I would like to dedicate this book to all the players and coaches who have worked hard to build competitive baseball teams over the years. I also want to recognize the parents of the players, many of whom have been faithful fans at both home and away contests. Finally, I want to thank the work of the Diamond Club in their support of North Park Viking baseball.

Dennis Bricault
Professor of Spanish
North Park Baseball Statistician, 1998-2019

Season Statistics

Career Statistics

Career Player Statistics

All available career statistics are listed for players since 1938. In some seasons – particularly those prior to 1963 – statistics may be available for only limited categories, select players, or partial seasons; most seasons prior to 1960 have no statistics at all. Career totals with an asterisk indicate missing statistics for at least one season. There are no pitching statistics available for the 1992 season. Sacrifice hits and sacrifice flies were combined into a single category in many earlier seasons. For several years, earned run average was calculated on the basis of 7 innings. If a pitcher’s career spanned 7- and 9-inning games, a notation is made when career ERA is calculated using the 7-inning formula; otherwise, career ERA is calculated using the 9-inning basis.
