American at the EIWA Championships

- ▶ The Eagles went 11-10 in dual meets this season, and 2-4 against EIWA opponents. The 11 wins are the most in the program since 2011, and the third-most since 2005.
- ▶ Graduate senior Will Jarrell (HWT) comes into the tournament as AU's only ranked wrestler in the latest NCAA Coaches' poll, earning the #32 spot at heavyweight.
- ▶ Four Eagles are returning to the EIWA Championships after competing in the tournament a year ago, including Jarrell, who finished ninth in 2024 and earned a spot as a first alternate for the NCAA Tournament.
- ▶ Junior Raymond Lopez has had a breakout season, winning a career-high 19 bouts and earning a team-leading 59 dual points. He comes into the tournament having won his last three matches.
- ▶ Redshirt sophomore Caleb Campos was 33rd on the first NCAA Coaches' poll at 174, but did not appear on the second poll. He is ranked in the latest RPI at 29th.
- ▶ Redshirt senior Jack Nies (157) returns to the EIWA Championships for the fourth time in his career. He finished sixth in 2023, the highest prior finish of any of AU's wrestlers in this year's lineup.
- ▶ Senior Lucas White (184) will be making his third appearance at EIWAs, while fellow seniors Elijah White (141) and Carsten Rawls (197) will be making their tournament debuts.
- ▶ AU has three redshirt freshmen starting: Coen Baine (125), Gage Owen (149), and Kaden Milheim (165).
- ▶ Jarrell, Nies, Lopez, and Maximillian Leete are American's captains this season.

HEAD COACH JASON BORRELLI

► FOURTH SEASON AT AMERICAN

After 13 successful seasons as head wrestling coach at Stanford University, Jason Borrelli, the 2021 WIN Dan Gable National Coach of the Year, switched coasts and was named the head coach for American University wrestling on April 13, 2021.

For a second year in a row, the Eagles won eight duals in 2023-24 which was Borrelli's third season with the program. That total matches the most dual wins in the past 13 years. Borrelli had a wrestler compete at the NCAA Championships for a second straight year as Maximilian Leete placed fifth at EIWA to earn an automatic spot at 133 pounds.

In his second year with the Eagles, Borrelli led one of the most improved programs in the nation as AU went from one dual win in 2021-22 to winning eight duals in 2022-23. His team captured the trophy at the Chippewa Challenge, beating Central Michigan, Cal State Bakersfield and Campbell in a now-annual event after falling to all three teams the year prior. Borrelli coached two placewinners at the 2023 EIWA Championships in sophomore Jack Maida (fifth at 133) and redshirt sophomore Jack Nies (sixth at 157), with Maida becoming Borrelli's first NCAA qualifier at American.

Borrelli took over a very young squad at AU in his first season. Only seven of the 25 student-athletes on the 2021-22 roster had ever competed collegiately prior to the season. Borrelli earned his first dual win vs. Duke in early December, and later boasted a fourth-place EIWA Championships finisher in then-freshman Jack Maida. Five Eagles earned NWCA Scholar All-American honors, matching the program's highest total since 2012.

Off the mat, Borrelli's teams earned a 3.31 grade-point average in both semesters in 2023, and 14 wrestlers have earned NWCA Scholar All-American distinction over his first three seasons.

Under Borrelli's leadership, the wrestling team's fundraising efforts have skyrocketed, outpacing all other programs in the department by a wide margin, and exceeding their yearly target. Additionally, fan engagement has dramatically increased with the addition of mat-side seating for home matches, and record-setting season ticket sales for the department.

Borrelli left Stanford following a historic season for the program. The Cardinal swept the Pac-12 awards including Borrelli's second Coach of the Year honor, seven of 10 Cardinal starters qualified for the NCAA Championships, and Stanford finished with two All-Americans and its first national champion since 2004 in redshirt sophomore Shane Griffith.

Over Borrelli's 13 seasons, the Cardinal sent 35 different wrestlers to the NCAA Championships a total of 64 times. In 2016-17, Stanford set a program record with nine NCAA qualifiers.

Borrelli's wrestlers garnered a total of 15 All-America honors and 21 individual Pac-12 championships. His 21 conference champions were the most during any 13-year span in program history. Borrelli led the Cardinal to the program's first Pac-12 Championship in 2019 and was named the Pac-12 Coach of the Year.

The Cardinal posted 122 dual meet victories in Borrelli's 13 years, making him the program's all-time winningest coach.

In 2011, Borrelli's squad put together the best NCAA Championship run in school history, scoring 44 points and finishing in 11th place while crowning three NCAA All-Americans. The Cardinal followed up its 2011 record-setting year by turning in the program's third-highest NCAA Championships finish in 2012, when it placed 16th at the national tournament.

In 2014, Stanford had a regular season to remember, finishing with a 17-5 dual-meet mark, breaking a 39-year-old record for wins in a season. The squad finished runner-up at the Pac-12 Championships, equaling a program-best. The 2016 team provided another successful campaign, placing 19th at the NCAA Championships with six NCAA qualifiers.

Borrelli's Stanford teams placed in the top 20 at the NAAs four times, with the program achieving the feat just three other times prior to his tenure. The 2020 NCAA Tournament was shaping up to be a record-setting event for the program before the season was cancelled due to the pandemic. The Cardinal qualified five wrestlers for the championships that season, including four freshmen - the most by any school in the nation.

Highlighting Stanford's individual success during Borrelli's tenure was Nick Amuchastegui - a four-time NCAA qualifier, three-time All-American and the school's only two-time NCAA finalist. Amuchastegui was twice named CoSIDA Men's At-Large Academic All-American of the Year and was a four-time NWCA Scholar All-American. The 2012 Pac-12 Wrestler of the Year, he was also the Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year for wrestling in 2012, and twice earned the NCAA's Elite 89 Award for Division I wrestling (presented to the student-athlete at the championship site with the highest GPA).

Off the mat, Borrelli's teams thrived academically. The Cardinal finished in the top 16 among all Division I programs in the National Wrestling Coaches Association (NWCA) team GPA standings each season finishing third, sixth, 12th, sixth, third, eighth, seventh, 16th, 11th, fifth, fourth and sixth, respectively. Borrelli has mentored 23 NWCA Scholar All-Americans (44 total awards), including four four-time recipients in Amuchastegui, Dan Scherer, Nathan Butler and Paul Fox. At the conference level, Stanford had 50 wrestlers earn 98 Pac-12 All-Academic honors under Borrelli's tutelage, while Kyle Meyer earned a Pac-12 Postgraduate Scholarship following the 2014 season. The Cardinal also had five Pac-12 Scholar-Athletes of the Year during Borrelli's tenure.

Borrelli has proven to be one of the finest recruiters in the nation. In seven of his 12 recruiting seasons, the Cardinal landed nationally ranked recruiting classes in InterMat's top 25, with six of those classes falling in the top 15. The 2018 class was the highest in program history at No. 7, while the 2014 class was tabbed ninth overall by InterMat.

In addition to his coaching duties, Borrelli served on the NCAA Division I Wrestling Committee for five years. In 2010, Borrelli graduated from the NWCA's inaugural Leadership Academy; a program designed to equip collegiate coaches with the necessary skills to lead a successful program. In the summer of 2015, Borrelli was invited back by the NWCA as a mentor for future participants.

Borrelli started at Stanford as an assistant coach in 2008 and quickly helped guide the Cardinal to one of its most successful seasons in school history. As a team, Borrelli and the staff led Stanford to a 19th-place finish nationally, matching the program's second-highest finish in school history and just its third all-time top-20 finish (at the time). Owing two of the conference's four All-Americans, the Cardinal's 19th-place finish was the best in the Pac-10.

Prior to coming to Stanford, Borrelli served on the Central Michigan coaching staff. In his first year with the Chippewas, the program won its ninth consecutive Mid-American Conference Championship. The squad ended the season ranked fifth in the final dual meet rankings and finished 15th at the NCAA Championships. Borrelli also helped guide three CMU wrestlers to All-America honors during the 2007 season.

A Mt. Pleasant, Michigan native, Borrelli was a two-time Michigan state champion in high school before beginning his career at Central Michigan in 2001. A four-year starter at 125 and 133 pounds, he was part of five consecutive team Mid-American Conference (MAC) championships. As a junior in 2005, he captured the 133-pound MAC title. Borrelli qualified for the NCAA Championships at 133 pounds twice, in 2005 and 2006, and captained the Chippewa team as a senior. A four-year NWCA Scholar All-American, Borrelli graduated from Central Michigan in December 2005 with a degree in business administration.

Borrelli and his wife, Jenna, were married in July, 2009. They have three sons, Carter, Lincoln and Jackson.
